The facts as related by the Department are that originally Mr. Hammerstein applied for a permit to construct a small vault, in connection with the music hall he is now building on 45th street, extending from the curb line to the area line 4.6 in the clear. The Department refused the permit because the plan did not show what he proposed to do with the area. It is claimed by the Department that under the law the area if covered becomes a vault, and owners have admitted this to be so in a great many cases by applying for permits and paying the usual charges before arching over or covering areas. The explanation asked of Mr. Hammerstein was whether he was going to cover the area or not. Wm. Hammerstein, who presented the application to the Department, could not satisfy them on this point. Later they received a letter from Mr. Oscar Hammerstein claiming that the so-called area had once been a vault and he should not, therefore, be called upon to pay for it. The records of the Department which date back to 1857 were examined and, as there was no evidence of a permit for a vault having ever been granted for any portion of the area around the building on any of the three streets, he was notified that if the vault extended over the area it must be paid for. The fact that Broadway at this point was widened in 1869 suggests that had a permit been granted the record of such a fact would be found in the departmental archives.

About a week ago Wm. Hammerstein appeared at the office of the Department with a plan for a large vault on the Broadway side and a somewhat smaller one on the 45th street side, and extending to the area line on all three sides of the building. He said his father did not propose to cover over the area, and was told that the plan should set out that fact. Figures for the vaults with or without the area were given to him; in the first case they amounted to 2,623.28 square feet, and in the second to 1,975 feet. The building has been kept under surveillance for a long time by the Department of Public Works, and on Wednesday an inspector found work going on on the sidewalk at a place where no privilege could be claimed. The inspector stopped the work and ordered an arrest, which afterwards proved to be that of Wm. Hammerstein. At the Yorkville Police Court Mr. Hammerstein was released on his parole and the sitting magistrate stated that he would decide the case on Friday.

Yesterday when the case came up in the Yorkville Police Court it transpired that the charge was a violation of the city ordinance which says: "No person shall cause or procure any vault or cistern to be constructed or made in any of the streets of the City of New York without the written permission of the Commissioner of Public Works." The violation of this ordinance carries with it a penalty of $100, recoverable from the person who caused the vault or cistern to be made and the master builder who made it. The sitting magistrate, Mr. Flammer, held that there was no evidence to show that the act of Mr. Hammerstein was a violation of this ordinance and dismissed the case. At the same time he suggested that the city could proceed by injunction to prevent the construction of the vault without a permit.

Inquiry at the Corporation Counsel's office yesterday afternoon elicited the information that if Mr. Hammerstein persists in his position, further proceedings will be taken to enforce the claim of the Department of Public Works that a permit must be taken out.

The Collapse on West Broadway.

Judge Fitzgerald in General Sessions when charging the September Grand Jury on Tuesday last said: "A short time ago the feeling of this community was shocked by a catastrophe—the falling of a building at West Broadway and 3d street—which resulted in the sacrifice of a number of lives. The law is defined clearly in cases of this character. There are two ways of committing crime—the doing of any act forbidden by law and the failure to act as commanded by law. If a misdemeanor is committed, and as a result the death of any person ensues, those responsible for the death may be guilty of manslaughter. Also, if a lawful act be committed but without proper precautions, and death results, then the person responsible may be guilty of manslaughter. The law sharply defines what constitutes a crime. It is for you to say if the persons charged committed that crime. We have in the city a department which is charged with the supervision of buildings and their repair. If the officials of that department fail to carry out their duty they are guilty of a misdemeanor which becomes a felony if death result. I call your attention to the importance of making a thorough investigation of this matter."

The Hudson River Bridge.

The New York Harbor Line Board, on Tuesday last, continued the public hearing on the matter of the location of the proposed Hudson River Bridge. Messrs. T. S. Ormiston, John McDonald and W. E. D. Stokes, representing the West Side Property-Owners' Association, opposed the 69th street site, while Andrew H. Green, Chairman of the State Bridge Commission, and Wm. Foster, Attorney for the New York and New Jersey Bridge Company, urged its acceptance. Finally the matter of location was referred to the Sinking Fund Commission.

Later W. E. D. Stokes submitted to Comptroller Fitch a copy of his argument in which he calculates that the fixing of the site at 69th street will do $300,000,000 damage to property in the vicinity. It suggests also that the bridge should go down to 59th street, where it would improve rather than injure contiguous property.

Bicycles in Apartment Houses.

Mrs. Virginia M. Hallott, of No. 157 West 111th street, has begun suit in the Supreme Court against her landlords, Morris Weideman and Jacob Rosenbaum, to enjoin them from prohibiting her daughter from keeping her bicycle in the house and preventing her friends who call with bicycles from bringing them onto the premises.

Traveled Fifteen Thousand Miles to Earn a Brokerage.

Broker N. Brigham Hall very recently consummated a sale which necessitated his traveling twice from New Hampshire to Iowa, calling upon the owners residing in ten different cities and also crossing the Atlantic to London, Liverpool, Paris and Geneva, fifteen thousand miles in all. The property sold is located on Main street, Hartford, Conn., and was owned by twenty-three parties, holding from one-seventh to one forty-second part each. The buyer being Watson H. Bliss. On his first trip across the continent Mr. Hall secured interviews and signatures to the contract from all except one party, having previously made appointments by letter and telegraph. About $100,000 was involved in the sale and Mr. Hall's commission was double the regular charge for the sale of suburban property. The work of the successful real estate broker certainly calls for great tact and perseverance.

Map Making for New York City.

There are very few who know what an amount of thought, skill and labor an insurance map represents. In fact the one best known in New York City represents the labor of several lives, that is to say three generations were required to bring it up to its present state of efficiency. It was in 1852 that William Perris published the first insurance map, the result of two years of constant work. When he died in January, 1863, he left his business and copyrights to his son and son-in-law who composed the firm of Perris & Browne. In 1889 the business of that firm was consolidated with that of the Sanborn Map Publishing Company, which became the Sanborn-Perris Map Company, in order that the original publisher of the insurance map might have proper and honorable recognition. Henry H. Browne, who had a very large acquaintance in insurance circles where he was honored for his knowledge and integrity, was retained as manager of the New York City department, and continued to render valuable service to the company until his death in 1892. His son, and the grandson of William Perris, Arthur E. Browne, succeeded him and still may be found in Room 162, No. 115 Broadway, supervising the work which keeps this graphic record of New York City's improvements up to date and in full usefulness. While called an insurance map, the work published by the Sanborn-Perris Map Company, it need hardly be stated, is of very great service to real estate dealers and brokers, as it shows the nature of every improvement in the City of New York, below the Harlem River, whether dwelling, tenement or factory, with dimensions, fire risks, etc. Its worth is proved by the fact that it is accepted as an authority on these points by insurance companies and fire underwriters. It is practically permanent, because it is revised every four months, the necessary alterations being made in the offices of subscribers.

We will bind copies of THE RECORD AND GUIDE in ½ morocco, 6 months, per vol., $2 ½ sheep, $1.75.—Binding Department, RECORD AND GUIDE, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

LAWYER'S LIABILITY FOR MISTAKES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly let me know in the next issue of your valuable paper if you can make a lawyer responsible for mistakes, for instance, by searching a title which afterwards shows flaws that the title is not perfect?

Answer.—Yes. A lawyer is bound to exercise ordinary skill, ordinary care and reasonable diligence in the practice of his profession. —LAW EDITOR.

MECHANIC'S LIEN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A made a contract with B for building houses. The last payment must be paid, according to contract, within thirty days after completion of work. B, the contractor, needs money before they are quite finished. A pays him $2,000 on account of the $4,000, which is the last payment. On searching for liens, when about to pay the balance of $2,000, A finds a lien was filed by the lumber dealer since he paid the $2,000 above, amounting to $4,000. Is A responsible for this $4,000? By deciding the above, to settle a dispute, you will greatly oblige one of your advertisers.

Answer.—No.—LAW EDITOR.

A RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR A CORNER PROPERTY—NOT FOR PETER HERTER.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Last Friday the New York Herald, Staats Zeitung and other papers, under the heading "Business Troubles," erroneously announced the appointment of a receiver for Peter Herter. The fact is a receiver was appointed by the Court of Common Pleas of the rents of premises corner of Rivington and Cannon streets, built by Herter Bros. and sold two years ago to Sam. Weil, who in turn sold to other persons.

A mortgage held by one Haviland is being foreclosed and the appointment of a receiver of the rents secured. The Herald and Staats Zeitung made corrections yesterday. PETER HERTER.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.—A lot of second-hand scaffolding in good condition. State quantity and lowest price.
CONTRACTOR, care of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

Real Estate Market.

With the arrival of September and its unexpectedly pleasant and seasonable weather buyers seem to have gained courage. Our reports indicate a total investment since Monday of not less than $1,600,000, which is a considerable gain on recent weekly statements of sales. Several of the transactions involve six-figure considerations, but purchases of minor parcels represent a very respectable proportion of the total. Furthermore, it is said that many deals which were formerly well under way, but abandoned during the summer, have again been brought to the surface with every prospect of their successful negotiation. Taken all in all it must be admitted that the fall season has already opened in good shape with a fair promise of improvement from now on.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1894 and 1895.

The attendance at the auction sales in the Broadway Salesroom has been much larger this week than for some time past. Nevertheless the plaintiffs and others interested in the various legal sales met with slight competition only in the bidding on the properties offered. On Tuesday, Bryan L. Kennelly withdrew from sale No. 52 East 121st street, and postponed the offering under foreclosuse of No. 68 Pike street, and Nos. 53 and 55 Catharine street, until the 18th inst. On the following day J. L. Wells adjourned to the same date, a partition sale of two parcels at 3d street and 12th avenue, Wakefield. On Thursday, D. P. Ingraham & Co. adjourned until the 19th inst. a sale of No. 15 Pike street, and yesterday William Kennelly's oft-announced sale of No. 57 West 68th street went over until the 17th inst.

H. C. Mapes & Co. sold by auction on Monday 127 lots at Van Nest Park, 24th Ward, at prices ranging from $380 to $895.

The firm of Smyth & Ryan, brokers and auctioneers, will be dissolved on Saturday next, and on the Monday following each partner will enter into business as an individual. The partnership was formed in June 1885, and its dissolution is due to an amicable arrangement, the two gentlemen parting the best of friends. William M. Ryan will retain the present offices of the firm at No. 111 Broadway and Philip A. Smyth will locate in John N. Golding's former offices at No. 11 Pine street.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Hoffman Bros. have sold for Henry Corn to a client for investment the four-story and basement stone front building, formerly the Hotel de Logerot, with plot 60x115, on the southwest corner of 5th avenue and 18th street, for about $400,000. They have also arranged, in accordance with the terms of the contract, for the leasing of the property for a term of years to one tenant who will pay, from the date of the new owner's taking possession, $24,000 per year and taxes. Mr. Corn acquired the property in March for a consideration of $355,000, and it is said has since expended $30,000 on the interior of the building.

Hoffman Bros. have purchased for their own account from the corporation of W. & J. Sloane, Nos. 407 to 411 Greenwich street, 75 x100, east side, 25 feet south of Hubert street, and No. 15 on the latter street, 22x25, forming an "L." The entire plot is covered by a five-story brick warehouse, which has been leased until May 1, 1900, to the seller, by whom it has been occupied for many years, at a rental of $11,000 per year.

John N. Golding has sold for Frances A. Hunter and Emily Talbot the two old three-story houses, with plot 50x100, Nos. 97 and 99 Cannon street, to Mandelbaum & Lewine, for $29,000.

Henry C. Demorest has sold the leasehold premises No. 7 East 14th street, a five-story brick business building, on lot 25x103.3. It adjoins Nos. 3 and 5, the property sold under foreclosure last week for $100,000.

Mrs. D. H. Blakely has sold for Ellen Wolff the three-story house, lot 20x100.5, No. 148 West 54th street, to Thomas Smith for $17,000.

Maclay & Davies have sold for William F. Havemeyer the three three-story dwellings with plot, 60x92, Nos. 29 to 33 East 19th street, to Benjamin Silliman for about $150,000. The purchaser purposes erecting a modern stone and office building on the site.

Emil Lembke, of Gall & Lembke, has bought of William I. Rosenfeld the three-story stone front dwelling, lot 18.9x100.5, No. 114 East 55th street, for $18,500.

J. E. Muhling has sold for C. A. Stock the three-story brick Lyers cro25x109, No. 51 West 3d street, to Alexander Bros.

Peter Tifft Meyer & Co. have sold for Catharine d'Anglemont the vacant plot, 50x98.9, Nos. 136 and 138 West 28th street, to Herbert B. Turner for about $36,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

William E. Callender has sold to Builders Leith & Glenn a plot, 125x99.11, on the north side of 136th street, 400 feet east of 7th avenue. The lots adjoin a similar plot sold by Mr. Callender to the same building firm in the spring, and they will be improved in like manner.

Builders Louis Wirth & Co. have sold the five-story brick flat with store, 25x77x90, on the east side of 5th avenue, 75 feet north of 132d street, to M. Infanger. Broker, Louis S. Lotsch. The house is one of a group of twelve that are nearing completion.

Bernard & Co. have sold for Mrs. F. Schneer to a Mr. Kreusler, the three-story stone front dwelling, lot 20x99.11, No. 10 East 128th street.

Barnett & Co. have sold for Builders Hardman & Smyth the five-story double flat, 25x80x100.8, No. 70 East 94th street, to President Edward P. Steers, of the Twelfth Ward Bank, for $38,000; also for Sarah Spencer, the three-story brick house, 20x50x99.11, No. 112 East 129th street, for about $15,000.

M. Bargebuhr & Son have negotiated a trade between Thomas K. Lemon and Edward Rafter, by the terms of which the former will sell at $120,000 the two five-story brick flats with stores, and plot 50.5x100, on the northwest corner of 8th avenue and 114th street, and take in exchange, at a total valuation of $60,000, five lots, located as follows: The plot, 75x100, on the west side of Convent avenue, 50 feet south of 133d street; the lot, 25x100, on same avenue, 175 feet south of 133d street, and another of same size on the east side of Amsterdam avenue, 100 feet south of 133d street. The latter will be improved by the erection of a five-story flat.

The sale of lots reported in this column on August 17th by the Knapp estate to Jacob D. Butler proves to have been the block front on the west side of the Boulevard, between 161st and 162d streets, with sixteen lots adjoining on either street, the whole forming a plot about 200x500. Something more than $160,000 is said to have been agreed upon as the purchase price.

The five-story brick flat with stores on the northwest corner of 78th street and 2d avenue, plot 42.2x82.2, has been sold by Mrs. Elizabeth O'Toole and Thomas Donlon for $70,000.

Ribeth & Trattner have sold for Ansorge Bros. the two five-story double tenements, Nos. 423 and 425 East 70th street, to Alois Arnstein for about $31,000.

W. D. Rusher has sold for A. W. Cruikshank to a Mrs. O'Brien the four-story dwelling, 21x56x100.8, No. 320 West 89th street, for about $35,000.

The Frank L. Fisher Co. has sold for Charles Buek the four-story American basement dwelling, 17x59 and extension x100.8, No. 15 West 87th street, to D. E. Buys for about $31,000.

J. W. Stevens has sold for Robinson Gill the four-story dwelling, 18x52x99.1, No. 150 West 94th street, to T. C. Culwell for $24,000

Morgan D. McMonegal has sold for James Livingston the three-story dwelling, 16x53x80, No. 698 West End avenue, to John D. Dent for something under $22,000.

Charles E. Schuyler has sold for the Mercantile Building Company the three-and-a-half-story stone front dwelling, 21x65x100, No. 250 West End avenue, to C. W. Hogan.

Edward and Henry Hirsh have bought of Bernhard J. Ludwig the plot, 102.2x99.11, on the southwest corner of Amsterdam avenue and 81st street.

Potter & Bro. have sold the five-story brick flat withstores, lot 30x80, on the southeast corner of 94th street and Amsterdam avenue to Mrs. Sarah Stake, for $67,000.

NORTH SIDE.

Brooker & Dunn have sold for M. Chambers the house and lot No. 2079 Bathgate avenue, 100 feet south of 180th street, to Charles Hallock for about $5,500; for Dr. C. A. Becker two two-family houses on Oakland place near Franklin avenue, for about $8,500, and for Henry Schopper the house No. 1991 Clinton avenue, for about $3,500.

LEASES.

Nicholson & Co. have leased for the Ingersoll Sergeant Drill Co. the first floor of the building, 100x200, on the southwest corner of 9th avenue and 27th street, to the John Stevenson Car Co. as a finishing shop, for three years at $4,000 per annum, and the second floor and basement to the Stanley Bicycle Co. for the same term at a rental of $5,500. The building has been unoccupied a long time, or since it was vacated by the owners.

For the Position of Register.

The office of Register was instituted in 1813, and in 1817 the Register appointed as his assistant Mr. Geo. T. Mortimer, who remained in the Register's office until his death in 1868—upwards of fifty-one years. Mr. Mortimer, during the last thirty years of this term, devoted himself exclusively to the canceling of the record of mortgages when paid. This service—the passing upon the sufficiency of a satisfaction of mortgage before the acceptance of the same by the Register, thereby canceling the record—being regarded as the most difficult, delicate and dangerous duty devolving upon the Register.

In 1868 Gen. Chas. G. Halpine, then Register, on the recommendation of the leading members of the Bar of New York, upon the death of Mr. Mortimer, appointed as his successor Mr. Charles Blauvelt, who continued in the office, performing its duties efficiently and creditably, until 1890, twenty-two years, when the office, having become Tammanyized and Mr. Blauvelt refusing to join the Tammany organization, he was removed from office. Mr. Blauvelt is well known by the President and many of the officers (all of them who are lawyers) of the several title companies, Title, Guarantee and Trust, Lawyers, and German-American Trust Company, [illegible] the counsel of the life insurance companies and savings banks, all of whom, and in fact we believe nearly every conveyancing lawyer, and others representing real estate interests, would certify to his capability and fitness properly to discharge the duties of the office of Register.

Mr. Blauvelt has a thorough knowledge of the workings of the Register's office, of its requirements and of the duties of the Register, such a knowledge as can be acquired only by experience, and if elected Register will administer the office on business principles, acceptably to all persons having business relations therewith and to the public.

He has publicly and confidently declared his ability to administer the office efficiently at a saving of cost to the City of at least $40,000 yearly as compared with the present cost to the city. If the Good Government Clubs and their affiliated organizations now seeking to perfect a Combination County Ticket opposed to Tammany, are guided solely in their make-up of a ticket by considerations of merit and fitness of their nominees, they will certainly give Mr. Blauvelt a strong backing for the position of Register.

Taxable Value of New York County.

The State Board of Equalization has adopted the table fixing the assessable values in each county upon which the State tax will be levied for 1895. The total for New York County is $1,975,928,987, an increase of $70,458,738 compared with 1894. The total for the State is $4,292,082,167, against $4,199,802,058 in 1894, and an increase of $92,280,109, from which it may be seen how far increased values in New York City bear the growing burdens of the State. The next highest increase was $26,104,536 put upon Westchester. A deduction of $20,889,053 was made in the assessed valuation of Kings County, and an addition of $16,644,650 made to that of Queens.

Personals.

Broker J. Clarence Davies has just returned from a three weeks' sojourn in the Adirondacks. Mr. Davies says the prospects are very bright for property beyond the Harlem.

David L. Phillips, of L. J. Phillips & Co., has been enjoying an outing in the Adirondacks.

COMMISSIONS FOR RENTING.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Referring to your reply to a correspondent in the last issue of your paper, relating to a question of commission for renting a house for two years, I beg to refer you to the scale of commissions authorized to be charged by members of the Real Estate Exchange, which is mentioned on page 13 of the rules and regulations of the Real Estate Exchange, which says that for renting for a period between one and three years 2½ per cent commission is to be charged on the first year's rental only, and for any period of three years or more 1 per cent is to be charged on the gross rent for the entire term. You will notice, therefore, that your law editor made a slight mistake when he said that the usual legal charge was 2½ per cent on the first year and 1 per cent on each following. Thinking that some one might possibly be misled is my reason for writing you this.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3, 1895. F. R. HOUGHTON.

THE COLLAPSE ON WEST BROADWAY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Now that the investigation of the West 3d street accident is concluded and the Coroner's jury have rendered their verdict, is it not about time that something was said in favor of cast-iron as used in that building?

When one considers how universally and how extensively cast-iron columns have been used in the past without an accident being attributed to them, it does not seem right that the various attacks against their use should go unheeded.

The foundries of New York and Brooklyn alone cast about one hundred and twenty (120) columns every day, and in connection with the out of town founders who have delivered columns to New York, it is fair to assume that on an average 40,000 columns are made and put up in New York City every year, or in the past twenty years 800,000 columns. Now some of these columns had blow-holes no doubt, in some of them the cores had shifted, and no doubt some of these 800,000 columns had all the defects that are possible in such work. Some of them were probably overloaded far beyond what they were ever calculated to stand, and worse than all some of them were badly set, and notwithstanding all this we have two expert civil engineers swear on the stand that they never heard of an accident due to a column being broken by compression, nor do I think there is any record of such a break.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating," and it would seem that this proof of the merits of cast-iron columns is far more convincing and satisfactory and far more reliable than all the figures and the statements of those engineers who are continually condemning the use of cast-iron columns and at the same time extolling their own steel columns. To read their statements one would imagine that steel columns had no flaws and that steel itself was beyond all defects, and yet we read of steel bridges breaking and the recent steel roof of the Chicago Colosseum has fallen, and any iron worker will tell you from his experience with tool-steel (which is considered the best), that it has defects as bad as any cast-iron he ever handled.

The iron men of New York, some years ago, made some tests of cast-iron columns with results far surpassing all the calculations that were made as to their strength. Would it not be well if the result of these tests were published? I do not mean to condemn steel columns, but I do not think it is fair or right to condemn cast-iron work, when it has stood the test of usage for so many years and with such good results. AN IRON FOUNDER.

NEW YORK, August 30, 1895.

Trade Notes.

MOESLEIN & CRANE'S HANDSOME NEW CATALOGUE.

We have received a copy of Messrs. Moeslein & Crane's new illustrated catalogue, descriptive of stamped steel ceilings, side walls, and wainscoting, of which goods the firm are leading manufacturers. The catalogue is very handsomely gotten up, no expense having been spared to suitably illustrate and describe a line of goods that is constantly growing in favor with architects, builders and owners who appreciate advantages which the use of the goods referred to secure. Stamped steel ceilings are now used in all classes and styles of buildings, being made up in artistic and ornamental as well as plain designs, and readily applied to steel beams, wooden beams, also to cover old plaster or wood ceilings. They are most economical, are capable of decoration, durable, dust-proof and fire-proof. Messrs. Moeslein & Crane's catalogue, in addition to showing many new and handsome designs, regardless of expense illustates by a different arrangement of their various patterns of panels, mouldings, borders and cornices, the possibility of substituting one pattern for another so that selections can be made suitable for large and small rooms and high and low ceilings. Messrs. Moeslein & Crane sell the material to carpenters, builders, cornice and copper workers and others. Any intelligent mechanic can readily put up the ceilings. Mr. Moeslein's recently patented clamping device enables the firm to offer an absolutely fire-proof ceiling, the use of which in new buildings does away with all plastering being applied direct to the beams. It is needless to go further into the matter because Moeslein & Crane of No. 44 East 42d street, will gladly send copies of the catalogue to interested parties, together with price list, estimates, and other particulars.

A GOOD RECORD FOR THE SEASON.

Thos. W. A. Castle, the proprietor of the well-known paving cementine, has this season made a great addition to the work already done by him in Brooklyn and thereby has, of course, also added to his record for good and durable work. Among the contracts that are yet in his hands, although nearly completed, are those for the fire-proof floorings, sidewalks, etc., of the new Montauk Theatre, aggregating 25,000 feet; a stretch of 200 running feet of sidewalk on Fulton street, adjoining the theatre, and the cement work at Senator Wm. H. Reynolds' nineteen new houses at Park place and Vanderbilt avenue, including sidewalks, yards, cellars and considerable interior work. Those who want to employ a man of tried experience in this line will do well to call on Mr. Castle, whose address is Lott, Grant and Johnson streets (29th Ward), Brooklyn.

PROVIDING FOR A GROWING BUSINESS.

Candee & Krekeler, of 454 to 474 Hamilton avenue, opposite 15th street, Brooklyn, contractors and dealers in second-hand building materials have established a branch yard at Fulton street west of Manhattan Crossing. This firm makes a specialty of New York work and have successfully and quickly removed the old buildings from many sites to make way for some of the newest and most imposing of the down-town sky-scrapers. The establisment of the new yard was necessitated by a constantly increasing business, which the firm is determined shall always receive the best of attention. Both yards can be reached by telephone.

GEO. VASSAR & SON REMOVE THEIR OFFICES.

George Vassar & Son, the well-known masons and builders and general contractors, have removed to the Constable building, 5th avenue, corner of 18th street. Messrs. Vassar do work in all parts of the country.

PROTECTIVE PAINT.

The iron that is being put into the Siegel-Cooper Co. building on 6th avenue, between 18th and 19th streets, is primed with the well-known Hulett's metallic anti-corrosive and protective compound paint. This article is in much favor among architects and builders as a protection for iron and wood against rust and decay. It is manufactured by E. J. Hulett at Nos. 324 and 326 Grand avenue, Brooklyn, and the proprietor is prepared to quote prices on request.

Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The mechanic's lien filed by Frederico Lamuria, for $1,500, against our property on West End avenue, east side, 25 feet south of 95th street, 134 feet front, on Saturday last, was filed unjustly as we have paid P. Altieri, the contractor, all the money he is entitled to by the terms of his contract up to the present time and more, and we will have the lien removed at once.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, SEPTEMBER 7, 1895.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

THE SPECULATIVE BUILDER.

In a recent conversation with a representative of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, Commissioner of Buildings Bush said: "The building business is like any ordinary manufacturing business, and depends just as much on the demand for the commodity as any manufactured article, and, as in trade of any other kind, the market should be studied before the article is forced on it. Every manufacturer knows what the demand for his specialty is, and how that varies, and also when there is enough on the market. But is this the case with the builders of this city? No. A large number of builders, especially the speculative ones, simply float around from locality to locality, with no obligations to the community or the real estate trade, with little or no ability to take in a situation, when confronted with one, and commence operations wherever they can get a number of lots with a building loan. This is the one great weakness of some of our speculators, and on which the money-lenders harp the most. And what is the result? We see rows of new houses in various parts of the city standing vacant, and with slim prospects of being filled in the near future. Now, if instead of building indiscriminately where and when they may, they would study the demand of the particular locality in which they propose to operate, just as the manufacturer studies the market before flooding it with his commodities, the result would be entirely different. They would build where their houses are needed, and would therefore dispose of them to a much greater advantage, while we would not be in this overstocked condition; furthermore, the real estate market would not be so erratic and so easily affected. The one thing that is most dangerous to an established industry like our building trade is what is commonly called a boom. It is a good thing while it lasts, but when it has run its course and the reaction has set in, there is a mad rush to sell. Therefore, I think that a slow, steady movement, never out of proportion with the demand, and rising gradually with it, is the most beneficial to our building trade, and through it to the city at large." All of this is no doubt very true, and ought to be considered by building operators. There is no market that does not get overstocked at one time or another, and it is not unusual for all markets to get overstocked at the same time, producing what has recently been known as a wave of depression over the country. If people only would ascertain before they made things whether they could sell them, it would be a great blessing, but it is to be feared that there is no more chance of creating this millennium in the building industry than in any other.

THE NEW PARKS.

Active operations will soon be commenced on the laying out of a new park to be called Dyker Beach Park, a strip of meadow land at Fort Hamilton, facing on the lower bay, known as the Dyker meadows, adjoining the Government lands, which was purchased for the sum of $229,942. Frederick S. Olmstead, the landscape architect for the Park Department, is engaged on plans for laying out the new purchase into a park. Mr. Olmstead is very enthusiastic about the beauty of this section, and asserts that when finished it will form one of the most beautiful parks in the country. Under the original act for acquiring new parks the Park Commissioner was directed to purchase certain lands with the $1,700,000 allowed to be expended by it. But by an amendment passed later he was given discretion in his purchases. The value of this amendment is proved in this recent acquisition, because the price originally asked for the Dyker meadows was $600,000. Commissioner Squires is confident that of the $1,700,000 he will have after all the purchases have been made over $500,000 with which to commence the work of improving them. Most of the lands designated in the act and which have already been described are natural parks, and have been used as such for years, requiring only a fence around them and policing. As for the improvements of the better class, that will be a later consideration.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—There appears to be nothing to brighten up the story of the market for Common Hard brick. Indeed, if anything, reports are not quite as good as last week, some operators claiming to find trade rather slower and especially so for cheap stock worth along about $4@4.12½. On the best qualities former quotations are repeated, showing $4.50 for the average top, and a slight addition for favorite or special makes when buyers insist upon having them. Arrivals have continued full enough to satisfy promptly pretty much all calls made and at times leave an unsold surplus, and that too in face of a diminution of the shipments as the result of an effort to hold back supplies even in cases where production has not actually ceased. It had been surmised that unless prices improved by first of current month there would be a pretty general cutting down of the output, but it has not taken sufficiently broad form as yet to furnish probably the only basis upon which the market can gain a firmer tone. There seems no hope of demand catching up to the supply and offerings therefore must come down to a quantity just a little behind demand all the while. We have report of straight full load of first-class Pale selling at $2.25, but the same quality would not command so much in a small way and poor stock is not wanted at all.

GLASS.—A gradually increasing trade in window glass is reported, and all conditions of the market appear to be firm and promising. Present supplies are under excellent control, manufacturers generally manifest an inclination to work in harmony, it is sure that wages must be advanced, and date of firing up will be close to end of this month. No changes in domestic prices are reported, but on French there is a small advance stimulated by good trade and stronger advices from abroad. Plate is selling fairly, but principally upon regular trade orders for small lots, most customers ordinarily handling large parcels having anticipated wants for a few weeks. Prices strong all around.

At the close the following dispatch comes from Pittsburg: "The Pennsylvania window glass manufacturers met in this city to-day and formed a combination similar to the powerful Indiana pool. The two pools will work together and control 90 per cent of the window glass output of the country. A meeting of the Pennsylvania and Indiana combinations will be held in Chicago Monday next to arrange selling prices."

HARDWARE.—There is not at the moment anything of special importance to advise except a gradual hardening tendency on prices for all staple lines of stock. That is a natural sequence of the increasing cost of metals and of labor which are together forcing manufacturers to make a firmer stand on rates charged for their products. In some instances to accomplish that end it is only necessary to cease the previous deep cutting and return to figures of old price lists, but in many cases manufacturers have deemed it prudent to come together and make a thorough revision of price lists and discount sheets. Summer trade in builder's hardware has been disappointing, but there is thought to be very good promise for fall and winter demand, especially as small dealers generally are poorly stocked.

LATH.—Last week's quotations are repeated and the market called steady, which appears to be about all there is to it. No great quantity of stock came along, yet receivers appeared to have all they wanted to take care of and found it necessary to accept old figures in order to secure custom. It is still contended that moderate quantities of stock are on the way, a story some time or another likely to prove correct, but what the market needs most at present is a shrinkage in the accumulation of dealers that will compel them to open a natural direct demand for cargo lots.

LIME.—There is nothing in the situation as yet calculated to afford much if any comfort to sellers. Of course occasional business is done, but it is only at the will of buyers and cannot be hurried or broadened, and the necessity for accepting low rates remains patent. About 75c. for common and 85c. for finishing are named as quotations, but there is hardly a doubt of moderate shadings made to secure desirable custom. The arrivals have fortunately been moderate, although quite as full as the market required.

LUMBER.—The general market does not present an appearance of activity, and some operators are still much given to complain over conditions of trade, but in a quiet way there is considerable stock being placed, and the disappointments are probably due to previous extravagant calculations upon revival of business. Lumber was one of the articles among the last to seriously feel the prostration of the past two years, and there has been too much hope for full recovery within a period of a few months. We are now, however, at a date when natural seasonable influences must contribute something toward hurrying the movement, and the chances are all in favor of a healthier condition of affairs from this time forward. As it is most staple grades of coarse lumber are selling very well, especially to a class of custom who appreciate the cheapness of the stuff, and there is evident strengthening of tone for the upper qualities. Really fine first-class lumber of all kinds is scarce, and buyers who delay placing orders are likely to discover a considerable addition to the line of values.

Spruce, on the whole, may be called steadier. It is quite likely that if the Eastern mill men fail to take lesson from the recent past and send along another lot of miserable small and narrow stuff they will be compelled to submit to the same old slaughter on price, as our market has no natural use for the goods, and taking them as a favor will do so only at a cost to insure some sort of safety in the handling, but standard cuts, say from 9 inch up, may be calculated upon to find fair attention, and long stock will help raise the price materially. State spruce remains firm and most operators report that they are unable to give any satisfactory guarantee for all the stock they are asked to sell, a position that fully insures the support of values all around. West Virginia spruce retains good satisfactory attention from a class of buyers who can, in handling this quality of stock, get the specific quantity and sizes they desire without being compelled to handle full cargoes in order to pick out what they want and then find a lot of dead goods on hand.

Hemlock retains good general favor, and most operators who make a specialty of handling stock adapted to this market appear well satisfied with the general conditions of trade. It looks as though there would be a greater quantity of hemlock put into yard in this locality for winter use than usual. Interior or country trade is commencing to show signs of more life, and once fairly started will doubtless contribute a considerable additional outlet.

Carolina Pine holds the attention of a sufficient amount of custom to keep business in good form and lead to generally cheerful reports in regard to condition of market. Prices are now about steady for ordinary run of dealing, although a few houses are said to have special transportation rates through which they can show moderate favors to desirable customers. More demand from Sound ports is spoken of.

White Pine is generally spoken of as steadier. There has been some looking around for fine stock which has opened the eyes of buyers to the scarcity of just that class of goods, and holders appreciating the value of what they have on hand are steadily stiffening up in tone. There is also more firmness shown on first-class box fully up to standard in thickness and general condition, with local operators getting 25@50c. more on car lots than a few weeks ago. Some export trade is doing, but hardly up to volume previously hoped for, and it is said that a great many orders, especially from West Indies, are for other kinds of stock costing less money.

Yellow Pine has not yet secured that broad general demand so necessary to the perfection of a solid, healthy market. There are a great many special orders being filled in one way or another, but where there is chance for competition upon them it is carried close and fine and the difficulties in the way of securing a satisfactory margin appear to be as great as ever. Southern market reports are as a rule firmer.

Hardwoods continue only fairly active as a rule and there is not much in way of really new or positive information upon the situation. In some instances the talk is a trifle firmer regarding poplar, especially on negotiations for car lots of guaranteed first-class quality and the offerings of such stock are said to be gradually growing smaller. Oak, as usual, remains in the lead as an attractive steady selling staple and commands full prices readily and firmly. Cypress is reported to be getting a demand that is satisfactory, according to views of most receivers, but some of them admit that a few lines of consumers do not seem to appreciate the wood to the extent that had been hoped for. Some export movement is taking place all the while and the clearances show walnut, oak, poplar, hickory and ash in the order named. Mahogany has been arriving more freely, but stocks are under ample control and firmly held.

The Lumberman's Convention at Buffalo, after a very successful meeting, adjourned sine die at the close of Wednesday night's session. The place and date of next year's meeting was left to the selection of the Board of Officers.

The following officers were elected: President, George A. R. Simpson, of Minneapolis; Vice-President, R. W. English, of Denver, Col.; Second Vice-President, Charles W. English, of Montclair, N. J.; Secretary-Treasurer, James L. Lane, of Kansas City.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES

STATE.

The Albany correspondent of the Northwestern Lumberman says:

The long anticipated advance in all kinds of lumber in this market has been realized only in spruce and hemlock, and that advance, which has been very considerable, has been mainly brought about by the difficulty encountered by the manufacturers in getting enough water to run their mills or to get the logs to the mills, some being also handicapped by depending on water to get their manufactured product out of the woods, and that element has not been so scarce a commodity in fifteen years. The Black River and Hudson River watersheds have not been so low in many years, and the drouth in Albany County is beginning to be of considerable importance. A prominent spruce dealer said a few days ago that it was very doubtful if the Albany spruce and hemlock merchants would be able to catch up with their orders by the close of navigation. Under these conditions there is always the tendency on the part of the consumer to try other markets, and so possibly get weaned from the Albany connections, although there is no better stock to be had than that furnished by the Albany dealer. This has been demonstrated many times, but the cut of spruce and hemlock this year is said to be superior to any that has ever been brought to the Albany docks. It is not likely that the dealers in hemlock and spruce will be able to clean up their stocks as well this fall as usual, as they are not able to accumulate the desirable sizes either in spruce or hemlock, which will preclude the working off of the other stock which is taken to fill in the crevices in the retail man's stock and to provide for incidental demands. Wherever the bulk of the stock is purchased for the year is where the odd stuff will be engaged. Prices are necessarily firm, and it is very possible that spruce will be still higher before snow flies

The pine men are not saying anything because they have nothing to say. The past month has done very well by them and trade is improving rather than falling off, but that is not saying very much. Some of the dealers report that trade has been quite like old times, but it has been more a resemblance than a reality, and the consensus of opinion is that the sooner the season of 1895 is past the better for the Albany market.

Receipts are still slow in pine. Canal freights are at the same prohibitory figure of $1.15 to Albany from Buffalo and Tonawanda, and other rates are to correspond.

THE WEST.

The following is from Northwestern Lumberman, under caption of "Why not go a little slower?"

The relations of different kinds of lumber adapted to the same or similar uses to each other in the markets of the country afford at once an interesting and perplexing problem. That the tendency most prominently suggested by the latter is for the cheaper to encroach upon, if not drive out, the relatively dearer product, is as self-evidently a necessary conclusion as the same principle applied to various forms of currency in national finance, is beyond question. The difficulties in the way of making and maintaining better prices are factors in the same problem, with the additional suggestion that the manufacturing resources and operations of the country are in serious excess of its consumptive demands.

We hear of this or that kind of lumber being in scant supply as a reason why it ought or is going to advance in price. The obvious mistake here is in regarding the particular kind of stuff in question as though it was an independent or entirely separate commodity. The question of supply in its relation to price goes, not to any one kind but to all kinds as a whole. Thus, what difference does it make to the consuming public and the trade whether a particular kind of material be in greater or less supply, so long as there are other kinds to take its place at an equally low or lower price, or so long as the aggregate of these are known to be excessive? Right here we can see an element of current weakness in certain markets which nothing can entirely remove except the intervention of a demand for the sum total of production more nearly corresponding to a balance between the two. Neither precept, nor example has been lacking to show that these tendencies, amenable only to natural and inexorable laws of trade, are beyond the control alike of individuals and co-operative associations. At the present moment the stress comes from the encroachments of various kinds of wood upon each other, according as the one can be produced for less than the others, and too much of all. If the combine producing capacity were restricted to the legitimate consumptive demand, or less, a prompt solution of the whole problem would thereby be found. If the existing state of the trade were to continue indefinitely, with all of its incidental drawbacks and discouragements, it is entirely probable that an adjustment would follow through the natural survival only of the strongest. As it is, everybody is endeavoring to discount the future upon the strength solely of the general hope of a better demand. Meanwhile, for every foot of lumber not cut of every sort, to that extent, as the outgrowth of individual discreetness to that end, will the situation be strengthened and the coming of the better times so confidently anticipated hastened.

Regarding general trade conditions the same paper says:

The month closes with the condition of the general lumber business somewhat improved as compared to that at the close of July, though the demand has scarcely swelled to the proportions anticipated early in the month. Buying of Northern pine in the wholesale markets continues to be restricted to a moderate stocking up for the early fall trade, but does not extend to buying in large lots. Retail dealers seem to be still inclined to a cautious feeling their way along as if they were afraid to anticipate demand that is far in the future. Yet the aggregate of requirement might be considered normal in any year, and a healthy feature of it is that the lumber going into distribution is wanted for immediate consumption.

Little lumber is being purchased on speculation, though it is probable that prices will advance to some degree. The trade at large seems to have got into the habit of conservatism, and is averse to venturing on risks and chances. It is probable that this tendency will be the rule until the business of the country shall acquire a volume and momentum much greater than is now prevalent.

Sagacious operators are not looking for a remarkable demand or for rapidly rising prices this fall. They think that business will be greater than a year ago, and that values will be stronger, with some advance in prices.

A notable feature of lumber movement on the great lakes within a few days has been the advance of rates for carrying lumber from Duluth and Ashland to Chicago to the extent of 25 cents a thousand, the rate now being $2.25. This is an advance of 50 cents over rates prevailing early in the summer. Dealers here had bought blocks of lumber at Lake Superior points on the basis of a freight rate of $1.75 a thousand, and expected to get it to destination at that figure. Now they must add 50 cents a thousand to the cost of their lumber, with the probability that they will have to pay further advances. Tonnage is scarce, and it is almost impossible to rush forward lumber with desired speed.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman says:

White pine lumber is gradually stiffening in price. Dimension is scarce, even in this market where the mills have been turning out 4,000,000 feet of lumber every twenty-four hours for the past month. La Crosse mill men are filling out their stock from the Minneapolis market, especially in dimension. This leads to the belief that some one is using lumber these days. No. 2 fencing is being held firm, especially 6-inch 16-foot lengths and so is D stock all widths. Inch boards are being sold in this market now at very nearly the prevailing price of the fall of 1892, when everything was booming. The dealer who thinks he can buy lumber a month hence cheaper than he can now will be bitterly disappointed.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has shown no unusual feature of late. More or less trading is taking place all the while, but it seems mainly of routine character and free from speculative strain. Slight irregularities in prices are heard of at times, due apparently in the main to offerings of small outside holdings, but the mining companies refuse to name concessions. On the average range of values we quote at 12¼c. for Lake and 10¾@11¾c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper is doing well generally. Accumulated contracts keep makers quite busy and new orders are coming in with sufficient freedom to insure a continuation of good trade a long way ahead. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do, 14 to 16 oz., 15c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 16c.; do 10 to 12 oz., 17c.; do, 8 to 10 oz., 20c.; do, under 8 oz., 22c. VOL. LVI. SEPTEMBER 14, 1895. No. 1,435

AS time progresses it becomes more and more clear how substantial has been the improvement in the financial condition of the world commenced this year. When the first indication of better times became visible there was a general feeling of distrust, even about the most obvious facts. Every one was in a pessimistic mood and much readier to give the utmost credence to dark anticipations than to have a slight belief in the most conservative prognostications of better times. The world is never very quick in generalizing. Facts have to accumulate and form a large body of evidence before they are universally recognized. So, perhaps it is not amazing that it is only lately that the public mind everywhere has become satisfied that we have in all probability entered upon a new era of prosperity and that there is no longer any doubt that commercial conditions are, speaking generally, in a thoroughly sound condition, and that there is no reason to anticipate a serious backward movement by and by. Indeed, there are no grounds for fear that the visible improvement is not permanent. Signs are rapidly accumulating now that we are entering a period of activity and higher prices. The upward tendency in prices is receiving a good deal of attention in London, and rightfully is regarded as one of the most satisfactory indications that better times are substantial. The Economist's index number shows that the movement in prices of commodities since the first of the year has been as follows: January 1st, 1923; April 1st, 1921; June 1st, 1944; July 1st, 1931; August 1st, 1928; September 1st, 1967. The bankruptcy record, too, in all the great commercial centres is also a substantial proof of the improvement in trade. The unemployed everywhere, particularly in the skilled trades, are few. Then, too, it is seen that the severe depression which culminated in 1893 undoubtedly cleared the field of a great deal of weak timber. Money remains abundant and cheap everywhere, but those who hold it are evincing an amount of caution which promises security. Indeed the main trouble at present is to find new and safe outlets for the enormous stored up capital now existing in the chief commercial centres. No matter where one looks at present it is impossible to discover any large field likely to attract it. In Europe every field is well developed. In this country the whole industrial machinery is considerably in advance of actual requirements, and the same is true, but to a still greater extent, of Australia and South America. There has been a good deal of talk in the newspapers about the "opening up" of China as a consequence of the late war, but it is obvious that the introduction of Western civilization into the Celestial Empire will be a very slow process. Under these conditions it is apparent that sound as the situation is commercial progress must necessarily be slow—better times will continue to creep on to us as they have been doing in the past few months.

THE criticism which is being leveled at the Department of Public Works for not providing a supply of water at a pressure sufficient to reach the topmost stories of our highest office buildings seems to us quite unwarranted. It comes, of course, from the owners of tall office buildings and their tenants, although the latter probably care very little who provides the water supply, the city or the owner of the building they inhabit, so long as they are supplied continuously and abundantly. It may be pointed out that a sky-scraper is, after all, a necessity; that in building it the owner meets a public requirement, and that he is just as much entitled to receive from the city a supply of water on his twentieth or twenty-fifth story as any other citizen has in the basement of a residence. If there was nothing to interfere with this simple view of the matter, the owner of the tall building would have made out his case. It happens, however, that the question is complicated by the existence in this city by a vast number of buildings under six or seven stories which were erected long before the sky-scraper was thought of. The plumbing of these buildings is not constructed to meet anything like the pressure that it would have to stand were the city to put a pressure on the mains sufficient to carry water even to the top of the tenth story of buildings. At the lower part of the city to day the pressure varies from 15 lbs. to 20 lbs., and were it increased to 35 lbs. or 40 lbs. water would ascend only to perhaps an elevation of 75 feet at Wall street. This pressure would be destructive to the plumbing in a great number of buildings, and any greater pressure would work havoc among even the newest plumbing in residences and in the ordinary apartment house and hotel. For the present, at any rate, the city can do no more than furnish an abundant supply of water, leaving it to the owners of the tall buildings to see that it is properly distributed to their tenants.

WE have another example of the efficiency of international sport in promoting international "good feeling" in the yachting fiasco which has just terminated. It has quite outdone the Cornell muddle as a cause of hysteria and bad feeling. Millions of people on both sides of the Atlantic who don't know one end of a boat from the other are calling each other hard names about a series of incidents of which they have, of course, no personal knowledge and, indeed, no knowledge of any kind sufficient to enable them to form a judgment of any value. At this writing the probabilities are that henceforth the America's Cup will be merely an historic piece of silver. It is just as well that it should be so. These races have no positive practical value. They have begotten a great deal of brag on one side and much of ill-concealed spleen on the other, manifested amid a great deal of high-flown talk about "sportsmen," "gentlemen" and the like. The race as a test of skill has become a secondary matter. The chief thing is to hold or to win the cup. The performance necessary for this has degenerated into a species of Barnum's Circus. All the circus accompaniments are present—the big head lines in the newspapers, the talk, subterfuges, suppressions, and the big tooting, yelling crowd of spectators out to get their dollar's worth of fun, a crowd whose fairness is exemplified in a certain impartiality in the distribution of noise and which of the boats they interfere with. We hope nothing will arise to prevent this last race being the final international contest of the kind. National feeling, wherever it is manifested, is too brutal and unreasonable a sentiment to be freely dealt with. It is better to let the sentiment lie dormant until the world is really civilized. National sentiment is now almost entirely an affair of large armaments, big guns, jingoism, newspaper bluster and a desire to "lick the other fellow," whether he be big or little, right or wrong.

IT probably is not any worse than the political stuff and the long drawn out details of murders, suicides and divorces, but it strikes us that even the most omnivorous devourer of newspaper reading must begin to feel surfeited with the columns and pages of gush about the boat race which have been put before him, day after day, for the last few weeks. To what a strange diseased condition our newspapers have come! Is it possible that they really supply in proper proportions what the general reader demands? A column or a column and a-half about a boat race, written by one who really knows the significance of what he sees would be well enough, but the pages of inconsequential drivel about how the sun shone and the sea sparkled and how the flotilla of steamers came together, and who the crowds abroad were, and what they thought and said, and how the races appeared from almost each separate steamer in the excursion fleet, who is it that reads that stuff, repeated not only once, but thrice—on the occasion of each race. Newspaper reading undoubtedly is becoming a disease. It is producing a mental weakness which is obvious enough. The masses are losing interest in serious literature. It is becoming impossible to print in a newspaper anything worth reading. The man who cannot give attention to a half a column article seriously written on a serious subject will peruse without a yawn ten columns of slush on a matter like the boat races. It was expected that universal education would put the works of the great masters of literature into every body's hands. Due almost entirely to the newspapers it is probable that the masses are further away to-day from sound, wholesome reading than the multitude ever was.

IT happens sometimes that a man has an idea, and at others that the idea has the man. In the latter case it assumes the form of an impenetrable fog which allows nothing to be seen but itself. Some of the people who are so environed are those advocates of licensing architects who are using the circumstances of the collapse of the Ireland building as an argument in favor of the view by which they are enveloped. "A one per cent architect!" they exclaim with a sneer, as if that were the only commentary necessary on this calamity, and a morning paper recklessly drops into illustration by asking, why if a physician who is called in to cure disease has to have a diploma an architect should not also have one? We would like to have any one who believes safety a matter of the percentage paid to architects explain the processes by which the payment to the architect of the Ireland building of five per cent of the cost would have insured the safety of the building. It must be borne in mind that the architect who planned this building could have satisfied any reasonable board of examiners to license architects of his theoretical fitness to carry their diploma. He is not a man who adopted architecture as a profession because he had proved his unfitness for anything else, but one who took the matter up seriously, having studied it for three years in the School of Mines of Columbia College and worked for some years more in an office where mercantile buildings are a specialty. There is not only no reason to believe that had Mr. Behrens, after passing through these theoretical and practical courses, found it necessary before taking up business for himself to apply to a board of examiners for a certificate of efficiency, that it would have been refused him. On the contrary, he would have found ready admission to the ranks of the licensed elect. Without going into the question of who are actually responsible for the awful loss of life on the Ireland building, the evidence brought out before the Coroner shows it to be due to the violation of rudimentary principles of construction that every builder and foreman on a job carries in his head. The rate at which the work, whether supervisory, directorial or the actual handling and placing of the materials, was paid for had nothing whatever to do with the matter at all. Any one who wilfully had a hand in it must have known that he was taking the most serious kind of risks and have been so morally weak that he would not have been deterred from it by the fact that his remuneration was large or small, or that he held a license that would be in danger of revocation. The making of the foundation under the central pier of the Ireland building was a matter of want of moral stamina in the individual or individuals who put it in or were cognizant of its being put in; they recklessly and criminally took the risks, as, to go again into the medical profession for illustration, do the licensed physicians who occasionally appear at the bar of justice to answer charges of violations of medical law, undeterred by the patent fact that detection means professional ruin. The question being entirely a moral one it is an unfair and unjust imputation upon the many architects who oppose the licensing plan and are willing to work for a smaller percentage than others to say that such casualties as the one under discussion depend upon the recognition of practicing architects by a board of examiners and the rate of pay that they receive for their work.

AMONG the measures for the reform of the police service of New York City there is none that ought to give more satisfaction to the community than the breaking-up of the league between the detective bureau and the professional criminal. This system is inherently vicious and has always tended to maintain the evil conditions which one party to the contract have been expected to stamp out. If one thief "squeals" on his "pal," to use the classicisms of the dive, it is for a consideration—immunity for himself; he is to be tolerated so long as the hue and cry is not made too hot from beyond the police lines. The victims of the system can only be comparatively few, no matter with what loud police crowing their journeys to the penitentiary or the gallows may be accompanied, otherwise the system could not endure for any length of time. It is necessary to its continuance that the criminal as a class should have the best of the bargain. Consequently crime had tacit toleranee if not encouragement from the police, who shamelessly bragged of their cleverness in detecting crime whenever one victim was offered up for sacrifice by the evil-doing fraternity to save the whole body from the wrath of the goddess of the bandaged eyes and the scales. It is asserted that this partnership of police and criminal is the invention of recent genius, though it is probably as old as evil itself. The suspicion will arise that the career of that worthy man, Jonathan Wild, suggested the revival of the practice in our days. A careful perusal of the history of that great, but alas, bad man, will show that the results have been very similar in our days to what they were a century and a-half ago, though his proper and ignominious taking off proves that Retribution had then a juster choice and a better idea of the requirements of the case than now. The idea that the guardians of virtue and the representatives of vice can go through the world hand in hand and virtue triumph is the height of absurdity, and therefore it is better that each pursue its chosen and antagonistic path.

The Kingsbridge Road Franchise.

On the principle that a half loaf is better than no bread we suppose real estate owners in the upper West Side will have to be satisfied with Mayor Strong's approval of the resolution of the Board of Aldermen, granting the Third Avenue Railroad Company's application for the St. Nicholas avenue and Kingsbridge road franchise, which has been the bone of contention between the Third Avenue and the Metropolitan Traction Company for some time. The franchise will shortly be sold at public auction by Comptroller Fitch at an upset price of $250,000 cash and the legal amount of 3 per cent on the gross receipts for the first five years and 5 per cent thereafter. As the franchise has been established on the lines projected by the Third Avenue Company, that corporation will have an advantage over its competitor in the bidding. The Metropolitan Traction Company may, however, have something up its sleeve that will enable it in time to supply with the consent of the Aldermen a means of West Side transit which will be more in keeping with the wishes of property-owners.

The New Twenty-third Street Ferry.

Comptroller Fitch sold by auction, on Wednesday, the franchise and a ten years' lease of a ferry from the foot of West 23d street to the foot of Bay and Grand streets, Jersey City. The only bidder was John D. Crimmins, for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, at the upset price of $22,500 a year rental for the wharf property and 5 per cent of the gross receipts from passengers carried from the New York side. A ferry house will be built and the ferry will be in operation by Jan. 1, 1896.

Mid-Air Trespass.

An interesting question of mid-air trespass has been raised during the week in relation to cornices on the eleventh and thirteenth stories of the new American Surety Company's building at Broadway and Pine street, which projects over the line, if continued upward, of the adjoining Schermerhorn building owned by the Astor estate. It was at one time reported that the latter building had been leased by the owners of the new structure, but the story which was printed with apparently every evidence of truthfulness turns out to have been a canard. The cornices project three feet beyond the Surety Company's building at a height of about 250 feet, and unless a compromise is reached they will have to be removed. Their removal would not only entail a very large expense but would destroy the none too artistic appearance of the tall corner structure now nearing completion.

Proctor's New Theatre.

The latest addition to the list of first class New York fire-proof theatres is the building recently thrown open to the public, on the south side of 58th street, a few doors west of 3d avenue, under the name of Proctor's Pleasure Palace. The owner and builder, Mr. Francis J. Schnugg, the vice-president of the Employers' and Builders' League, is justly proud of the building. The theatre is absolutely fire-proof and so arranged that there is an unobstructed view from every seat in the house, and having a ventilating system which is unsurpassed makes it both safe and comfortable. The light is furnished from an independent electric plant on the premises and the interior decorations are tasty and cheerful. The seating capacity is about 1,500, with standing room for as many more, and when the roof garden is opened the patrons of the house will have nothing to complain of in the way of comfort or pleasure. Mr. Proctor has started excavating just west of the theatre for the Pleasure Garden, which will soon be opened in connection with the theatre. J. B. McElfatrick & Son are the architects.

Employers' and Builders' League.

Judson Lawson will read a paper on the condition of labor and trade in Europe before the Employers' and Builders' League, at the club-house, No. 24 East 125th street, on next Thursday evening, September 19th. Mr. Lawson has just returned from an extended trip through Europe, and his remarks will therefore, no doubt, prove very interesting.

Trade Notes.

A GOOD IDEA.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of the Reversible Window Sash Manufacturing Company which appears in another column. This Company is putting upon the market a very excellent and necessary article which merits the special attention of builders and others. It is a reversible window sash, thoroughly practicable in its working—one that actually is rain, dust and wind tight. It enables windows to be cleaned on both sides from within the room. The sashes can be set at any angle, and as they will remain where placed it is possible with them to shut out the draught and rain and still have windows open for ventilation. In our tall modern buildings a device of this nature is absolutely necessary, and it will pay for itself in a very short time. In residences and flats and buildings of that kind it would be immensely appreciated, and our readers know that it is the adoption of such labor saving notions as this that very frequently commends a house to purchasers. To clean windows by the old method—a man or a girl on the window-sill—is now dangerous, clumsy and costly. The Company issue a handsome catalogue, which can be obtained upon application. Their offices and mills are located in Brooklyn, at Nos. 179 and 181 Moore street

ENTERPRISING BUILDING CONTRACTORS.

M. Gibbons & Son, of No. 318 and 320 Columbia street, near Hamilton avenue, Brooklyn, leading building contractors, have recently issued a handsome handbook which contains much information that is interesting and valuable to all who are interested in building and associated interests. Messrs. Gibbons & Son last week secured the contract for building a new police station in Brooklyn. They are now at work on the new building for the offices of the Construction Department at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and on an engine-house for the Fire Department. Their facilities are of the very best character.

MERCANTILE.

R. 1537.—Northwest corner of Nassau and Pine streets.—Donald MacKay, No. 16 Nassau street, owner. Mr. George R. Read states that this plot will be improved by the erection of a new building.

Real Estate Market.

Unfavorable weather and possibly as well the interest taken in the yacht races, have caused the general market to relapse into the semi-torpid condition that characterized it during the summer. That the total reported investment for the week amounts to $1,700,000 is due to two sales involving large sums as consideration. The most important of them, the sale of the corner of Nassau and Pine streets, at $725,000, affords one more example of a remarkably profitable investment. The Clearing House Association bought the property in December, 1874, for $215,000, from the receiver of the National Bank of the Commonwealth, and has almost ever since occupied part of and leased the remainder of the building, thus receiving full annual interest on the purchase price, and will now realize a profit of about 240 per cent on its fortunate investment.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1894 and 1895.

The satisfaction pieces filed at the Register's Office from August 23d to 29th inclusive, show that the total mortgage indebtedness cancelled on those days was $1,829,277. Our mortgage table published on August 31st show that the new indebtedness incurred during the same period was $3,555,238.

Legal sales are still the only attraction presented daily by the auctioneers and they continue to be witnessed with indifference by the frequenters of the Broadway Salesroom. Not until the 26th inst. will there be a substantial offering of investment property and it will mark the opening of the auction season. Bathgate estate lots in the 24th Ward will be the feature of that day and 176 of them are catalogued to be sold by Peter F. Meyer & Co. The outcome of that sale will, it is believed, largely affect the business of the balance of the year. On Tuesday, Bryan L. Kennelly postponed the sale of No. 71 East 116th street to the 24th inst., and Smyth & Ryan adjourned until October 1st the sale of Nos. 63 and 65 East 117th street. On Wednesday, J. L. Wells adjourned without date a partition sale of property on 3d street and 12th avenue, Wakefield, and E. H. Ludlow & Co. withdrew, on a bid of $18,000, a plot of three lots on the north side of 140th street, 150 feet west of Amsterdam avenue, which had the honor of being the initial voluntary offering of the fall season of 1895. On Thursday, the only adjournment among the numerous sales bulletined was one by Smyth & Ryan, of the property of the Fifth Avenue Transportation Co. (Limited), to October 3d. Yesterday, Bryan L. Kennelly's sale of the leasehold property No. 470 Grand street was adjourned until the 24th inst.

Bryan L. Kennelly will offer, on Wednesday, September 18th, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, several valuable pieces of property which, no doubt, will receive wide attention. The offerings will comprise Nos. 299, 301, 303 and 305 Water street, a seven-story building, suitable for warehouse or storage purposes, size 50.8x72.5 irregular; No. 344 West 15th street, a choice three-story basement and attic brick dwelling, lot 18 9x81.3; and Nos. 53 and 55 Catharine street, a five-story double brick tenement with two stores well rented, size of lot 37x105.1½ irregular.

Peter F. Meyer & Co. will sell on Thursday, September 26th, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, by order of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co., executor and trustee, the Bathgate estate, late property of Charles B. Beck, deceased. It will comprise 176 choice lots on Third, Washington, Bathgate, Wendover and Fulton avenues and 171st and 172d streets, in the 24th Ward, just west of Crotona Park. Fifty per cent of the money may remain on mortgage for one or three years at 5 per cent interest, and titles will be guaranteed by the Lawyers' Title Insurance Co. free of charge. This sale will offer a good opportunity to those who wish to acquire sterling property in the upper portion of New York City. The attractiveness of real estate in this part of the Metropolis is becoming greater every year, and there is very little question that investments made now will yield handsome profits in a few years. The lots in question are exceptionally well located as regards accessibility, being within a block of the Harlem Railroad station and also readily reached by the 3d avenue electric line. Washington avenue, it is said, will also soon be utilized for an additional trolley road which will, of course, add largely to the future value of the lots. The property can also be reached by 2d or 3d avenue L roads for a single fare.

The Board of Directors of the Bond and Mortgage Guarantee Co of Brooklyn on Monday declared a semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent, payable on October 1st.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Geo. R. Read has sold for the Clearing House Association the present Clearing House property on the northwest corner of Nassau and Pine streets. It consists of a five-story stone front office building and plot, 36.7x80.3x37.1x80.5, and has occasionally been referred to by the daily papers in the past few years as purchased by the Equitable Life Assurance Society, whose building it adjoins. Mr. Read has sold it to Donald MacKay, of the banking firm of Vermilye & Co, for $725,000. The price is a big one, but it must be remembered that it will be paid for an exceptionally attractive parcel, whose frontage on two prominent business thoroughfares is, in proportion to its area, much greater than is usually the case. The number of square feet in the plot is 2,959, and the rate per foot $245. It has been exceeded only twice in the history of New York realty sales. First in April, 1882, in the sale of 508 square feet, comprising the southwest corner of Wall and Broad streets, at the rate of $330.70, and second in the purchase on November 22, 1893, by the American Surety Co. of the southeast corner of Broadway and Pine street, 1,447 feet, at $267.87.

Nathan Straus, of R. H. Macy & Co., has sold to a syndicate of Boston capitalists, for improvement, the old Scotch Presbyterian Church property, Nos. 53 to 57 West 14th street, and Nos. 54 and 56 West 15th street. It comprises a plot beginning on the former street 125 feet east of 6th avenue, 71x206.6, running through to 15th street, x50x103.3x21x103.3, with an old church in 14th street and a school-house on the rear. Mr. Straus retains for Macy & Co.'s use as an annex the four-story store and lot, 24x103.3, No. 59, adjoining on the west, which was included in the original purchase from the trustees of the Scotch Presbyterian Church. The entire property was conveyed on November 1, 1893, by the trustees to ex-Mayor Hugh J. Grant for $315,000, and immediately reconveyed by him to Mr. Straus. The latter deed was not recorded, however, until late in the same month. The price has always been regarded as full value, but it is said the purchasers have agreed to pay at a rate considerably larger. The old church will cease to be an annex of the Macy establishment on Monday, when the bicycle department now occupying it will be removed to the former Hotel de Logerot garden, on 18th street, west of 5th avenue. W. W. Thompson was the broker in the transaction.

Joseph Oatman has sold for James T. Cowdery the four-story stone front dwelling, 17x65x100.5, No. 160 West 46th street, for $22,500.

Isaac E. Sheldon has sold his four-story stone front residence, lot 21x100.5, No. 17 West 50th street.

H. Rinaldo & Bro. have sold for Mandelbaum & Lewine to H. Baum, at about $31,000, the three-story houses with plot, 50x100, Nos. 97 and 99 Cannon street, the purchase of which by the sellers for $29,000 was reported last week.

Alfred Duane Pell is the purchaser of two of the large parcels recently sold. They are the northeast corner of Broome and Mercer streets, sold by John T. Williams, for about $240,000, and the southwest corner of 5th avenue and 18th street, sold by Henry Corn, for about $400,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Hall J. How & Co. have sold for Abraham Bernheimer, a lot 25x102.2, on the south side of 85th street, 150 feet west of West End avenue, to Edward J. De Coppet, who will erect a residence thereon. Mr. De Coppet some time ago contracted to buy a lot on West 82d street for the same purpose, but the title having been found faulty the sale was not consummated.

Barnett & Co. have sold for Henry Schmidt, No 68 East 94th, street, a five-story double flat, 25.3x90x100.8, for $38,000.

E. B. H. Myers has sold for Henry F. Cook the new four-story dwelling, No. 310 West 72d street, with lot 25x102.2.

L. D. Bahlul has sold for Thomas R. Manners the three-story dwelling with lot, 18x100.8, No. 258 West 88th street, for $19,100, an advance of $500 on the price at which it was bought under foreclosure last week, and has resold same to Mrs. Mary Reckham for about $21,000.

Max Simon has sold for Builders Jung & Mohr the three new five-story flats, 25x80x100.11 each, Nos. 151 to 155 West 102d street, for about $80,000, and for F. Koerner the five-story flat, 26.3x87.6 x100 8, No. 111 West 90th street, at about $32,000.

M. Bargebuhr & Son have sold for Ada n Helmerich, the five-story flat with stores, 25x90x100, No. 2214 8th avenue, east side, 50.11 north of 119th street, to a Mr. Kahn, for about $36,000.

Wm. H. Hoyt & Co. have sold, conjointly with Peebles, Warner & Hughes, the three five-story flats, Nos. 28 to 32 West 64th street, plot 75x100.5, for Luther F. Hartwell at about $125,000, to E. D. Phelps, who will give in exchange, at a valuation of $45,000, his country place, consisting of about two acres and handsome residence at Portchester, N. Y.

Slawson & Hobbs have sold for Builders Egan & Hallecy the two five-story stone and brick front double flats, 33.4x90x100.11 each Nos. 124 and 126 West 91st street, to Isaac A. Van Bomel, for about $120,000. The buildings will not be finished and ready for occupancy until November 1st. The brokers in the transaction purchased for themselves, a few months ago, No. 122, the remaining flat of the new row of three and will take title about October 1st, on which date it is expected the building will be ready for tenants.

Chas. Griffith Moses has sold for the Hudson Realty Co., to George S. Drew, Jr., for improvement, a plot 50x100, on the north side of 152d street, 100 feet west of St. Nicholas avenue.

John J. McHugh is reported to have sold the lot, 25x100.8, on the north side of 95th street, 175 feet west of Park avenue, for $9,000.

It is reported that Charles E Schuyler has sold for Armintha Merritt, No. 250 West 78th street, a five-story dwelling, 32x about 27, and 36 feet east of West End avenue.

The owner of the equity over the mortgages in the five-story flat on the northwest corner of 78th street and 2d avenue states that our report last week of its sale was premature and that $70,000, the price quoted, is less than the value of the property. It seems that the origin of the report of the closing of the transaction was a trade on the eve of consummation in which the flat figured at $85,000.

NORTH SIDE.

W. F. & C. H. Smith have sold for Helen J. Allcott the two-story frame dwelling and lot, on the north side of 175th street, 30 feet east of Waterloo place, to Frederick Willer for $4,500, and a similar property on the east side of Mohegan avenue, 125 feet south of 176th street, for the same owner to Joseph M. Young at the same figure.

Horace Craighead has sold a plot of forty-two lots on and near Jerome avenue, Fordham Heights, for something over $30,000. There is rock on some of the lots.

LEASES.

Jacob A. King has leased two additional lofts in the new building being erected by Louis M. Jones at Broadway and 8th street. They are the second and fifth floors taken by Heller, Rothschild & Lang for five years, from February 1, 1896, at an annual rental of $7,750. Mr. King has also leased the fifth loft of Nos. 733 and 735 Broadway to C. Edgar Sutphen for three years at $2,500.

J. Clarence Davies has leased for Wm. Ebling the four-story store, 66x150, about to be erected on the northwest corner of 3d avenue and 150th street. The term is fifteen years, and the lessees, Lyons & Chabot, the leading dry-goods dealers of the North Side. The new building will be ready for occupancy next September.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND AGENTS.

Brooke & Georger, of No. 54 West 34th street, have been selected as the agents for the handsome new Santa Anita apartment house at Nos. 122 and 124 East 34th street. Last May Brooke & Georger negotiated an exchange of the site covered by the Santa Anita for the Carrollton apartment house at Madison avenue and 78th street.

E. N. Weart & Co. of Chicago, have opened offices at No. 111 Broadway (Trinity Building) for the transaction of a general real estate business, including the placing of mortgage loans and management of estates. The firm has been established in Chicago since 1883 and comes here well recommended. The New York office is centrally located, nicely furnished and is managed by Mr. Weart who will doubtless score a success.

Bryan L. Kennelly, the well-known auctioneer and appraiser to the City Chamberlain for five years, announces that he has now larger facilities than ever for making loans on bond and mortgage at 4, 4½ and 5 per cent. Mr. Kennelly also has money for second mortgage and leasehold loans. He stands ready to give prompt replies to all inquiries. Mr. Kennelly is one of the best known and oldest established auctioneers in the city.

REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS GUIDE.
ESTABLISHED MARCH 21st 1868.

14 AND 16 VESEY STREET,

TELEPHONE, CORTLANDT 1370.

New York, September 14, 1895

To the Building Material Trades:

Dear Sirs:

What do you think of adding a new department to your business? A department, the functions of which will be as follows:

1. Keep you informed daily of all prospective building operations as soon as the owners begin to talk about action or the architects to formulate plans;

2. Keep you informed of the status of all building operations that interest you, from their inception to their final completion;

3. Give you detailed reports of the materials (of the class you sell) that are needed in every building;

4. The names and addresses of owners, architects, chief contractors, etc., of new buildings;

5. Answer all questions you may desire answered on any of the matters mentioned above, etc., etc.

In short, would you like to attach to your business equipment a large, well organized, thoroughly equipped Bureau of Intelligence, which would furnish you daily with sifted, direct, verified, organized reports of what is going on in the market; Who the Buyers are; What they want; when and where you may find them. The facts you want are put under your eyes, visible at a glance, every morning, so that you can--

1. Push ahead to get your share of business;

2. Spare your representatives the expensive game of hunting aimlessly over the field for orders. Give them the pointers; send them direct to the man who wants to buy, armed with information as to the thing wanted. Twice the amount of ground can be covered in this way;

3. Keep yourself (the Head of the Firm) informed of what is going on. Check off what your representatives are doing.

A good thing, a Bureau like this, Eh! But, perhaps you shrink from the expense of salaries to a score of men to travel among architects, owners and others; and no doubt you don't underestimate the task of organizing this Bureau, managing it, supplying it with brains? Well the Record and Guide (established 1868, the leading Real Estate and Building Journal of the United States) will do the work for you for about fourteen cents a day. That the work will be well done, is guaranteed by the high reputation of the Record and Guide. We know what you want. We have the capital and the experience. You can avail yourself of both for fourteen cents a day. Can you afford to be without this service? It won't of course sell your goods, but, if in the space of a year, you get only one pointer that finds you a customer, the service has paid for itself many times over. This is an age of specialties. You can't do this work as well for yourself, even at a cost of as many dollars as we ask cents. We want to talk to you further about this Bureau of ours, and are at your service.

Shall our representative have the pleasure of calling upon you in a day or two? Send us a postal card.

Yours truly,

RECORD AND GUIDE,

(Building News and Information Department.)

P. S. The Record and Guide guarantees the accuracy, the thoroughness and the progressiveness of this service. Neither money nor effort will be spared to make it perfect and advance it beyond any service now known. Don't pay big prices for information. Avail yourself of our advantages.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

Builders—Brooklyn.

R. 1525.—A twelve-room extension, 57x70, is to be added to Public School No. 72, located at Schenck avenue and New Lots road. It is to contain the usual improvements and will cost about $50,000.

R. 1526.—Plans are being drawn in competition for a five-story brick brewing plant, to be erected by the Streeter & Dennison Brewing Co., on Wythe avenue and North 2d street. Cost, about $100,000.

R. 1524.—Plans have been started for a three-story school-house to be erected on Vanderbilt avenue and Butler street. The building is to be of red brick trimmed with red sandstone. It will have all improvements, and be heated by the direct and indirect systems. Cost, about $125,000.

R. 1565.—New dome and alterations to the City Hall. Commissioners of City Work, owners; Vincent C. Griffith, Charles W. Stoughton, Arthur A. Stoughton, architects associated, No. 96 5th avenue, New York City. Plans and specifications have been finished and estimates will shortly be taken. The work calls for a white marble dome with an eight-day striking clock with four dials 7 feet in diameter, mason-work, iron-work, fire-proofing, plastering, metal lathing, interior marble and tiling, quartered oak and mahogany trim, yellow pine flooring, Cutler mail chute, tile and copper roofing, iron skylight, heating and ventilating plant, plumbing, toilet fixtures, electric wiring for 725 lights, and one high speed electric elevator.

R. 1563.—Anson Squires has plans for a two-story and attic frame dwelling, to be erected on 86th street, near 18th avenue, for G. H. Goodheart of New York City. Cost, about $6,000.

R. 1562.—Thomas Bennett is preparing plans for eight three-story brick dwellings, to be erected on 56th street, for H. Halstead of No. 1267 3d avenue. They will contain all the improvements and will cost about $50,000.

R. 1560.—Flatbush.—Two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling, 35x50. Cost, $6,000. Owner's name withheld. Benedict & New, architects, No. 489 5th avenue, New York City, making sketches. Work calls for all improvements. Plans will be complete October 1, 1895.

R. 1561.—H. L. Spicer has plans for a two-story and basement frame dwelling to be erected on the north side of Ovington avenue, 100 feet east of 3d avenue, for M. A. McKeene; cost, about $4,000.

CONNECTICUT.

R. 1508.—Greenwich.—Lorey & Phillips, architects, Exchange Building, State street, Boston, Mass., are drawing plans for a gymnasium to be built here. Theo. Havemyer is chairman of the Building Committee.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (') means not summoned. (i) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET

NEW YORK.

The following companies have recently filed papers of incorporation with the Secretary of State at Albany:

The Hayden & Crouch Company.—To manufacture fine chairs and other furniture in Rochester. The capital is $60,000, and the directors are C. B. Woodworth, Oscar E. Hayden, Wesley Crouch, Mortimer Crouch and Emil Senn, of Rochester.

The Mechanics' Building Association, of Middletown, N. Y. Capital, $12,000; and directors: Corwin E. Sayer, W. W. Carpenter, Mina C. Ferguson, Daniel T. Weeks, Wilmot Duryea—all of Middletown

Charles P. Ketterer Company.—To manufacture express and business wagons, vans, trucks and other vehicles in New York City. Capital, $150,000; and directors: Chas. P. Ketterer, Philip H. Ketterer, of New York City, and S. Percival Kohler, of Upper Montclair, N. J.

The California Asphalt Co., of New York City.—To manufacture and construct asphalt and other pavements, floorings, etc. Capital, $30,000; and directors: Charles H. Lalor, James H. Covode and Eugene A. Philbin, of New York City.

The Schilling Company of Albany—To manufacture and sell monuments and interior building work in stone, bronze, tile, etc.; capital, $10,000, and Directors, Fredolin Schilling, Adolph Schilling, of Albany, and Frederick Getchell, of Buffalo.

Horseheads Brick Company; capital, $50,000, and Directors, George Brand and Louis Dahl, of Elmira, Richard D. Eisenhart, Oliver D. Eisenhart and Emil Schapel, of Horseheads.

Clymer Manufacturing Company of Greenburgh, Westchester County—To manufacture varnishes, japans, etc.; capital, $1,000, and Directors, William Murray, Eliza Roberts and Lydia North, of Brooklyn.

The Melzer Artistic Wood Work Company of Brooklyn; capital, $12,000, and Directors, William Noll, Jr., Charles Melzer and Jacob Oehrig, of Brooklyn.

Averill Stereo-Relief Company—To contract for and manufacture ornamental plaster relief decorations in New York City; capital, $10,000, and Directors, George F. Averill, Don R. Chamberlain and Charles W. Posthaver.

O'Connell & Hillery Lime and Marble Dust Co., of Tuckahoe, Westchester County, N. Y.—To manufacture and sell lime and marble and all products of marble and all material made in whole or in part from marble, and other materials for masonry and for building. Capital, $50,000, and Directors: James O'Connell, Benjamin F. Hillery and John J. Bell all of New York.

The Buffalo Maple Flooring Company,—To manufacture all kinds of flooring and carry on general lumber business in Buffalo; capital, $20,000, and Directors: Charles N. Armstrong, Joseph Gollwitzer and Martha White, of Buffalo.

The Hudson River Wood Pulp Manufacturing Company, of Olive, Ulster County; capital, $15,000, and Directors: Otis Leroy, of New York City; Geo. W. Banks, of Mount Kisco; John C. Schrader, of Dover, N. J.; J. A. Haskell, of Seabright, N. J., and H. M. Barksdale, A. J. Dupont and H. G. Haskell, of Wilmington, Del.

The Saranac River Pulp and Paper Company, of Plattsburg, filed with the Secretary of State a certificate of increase of capital stock from $15,000 to $100,000.

The Ticonderoga Pulp and Paper Company certifies that it has increased its capital from $400,000 to $700,000. The amount of the company's capital actually paid in is $324,750 and the debts and liabilities do not exceed $365,000.

BRICKS.--Unchanged prices and an absence of features that can be considered really new is about sum and substance of reports on Hard brick again. It was thought likely that really choice stock might be called a trifle steadier because with the ruling low average cost buyers naturally look for finest quality, possibly to pacify as much as they can the builders who are charged full rates under the agreement between yard dealers. But that makes poor stuff suffer and sometimes sell quite low. In total supplies are full enough and to spare and likely to continue so for a while, and there has not been enough stoppage of work to curtail shipments seriously and we still, believe that with all the howling about low rates some manufacturers will keep right along until frost catches them. There is still a demand for straight cargoes of first-class Pales, but no smaller lots are wanted.

GLASS.—Reports generally continue cheerful, and the following hopeful view of the situation we copy from a leading trade journal:

The window glass factories will begin operations this season under more favorable auspices than have been known for several years, and unless all signs fail the results will be eminently satisfactory to the workmen as well as to the employers. In the first place, the country has sufficiently recovered from the late business depression to assure a steady and important demand for glass, and the arrangements for supplying that demand are ample. At the meeting held in Cleveland, on August 26, the manufacturers designated September 21 as the date for starting up, and a general resumption of work, pursuant to that understanding, will then take place. From all accounts there is now a more harmonious feeling among the manufacturers than ever before, and if this can be maintained there is little doubt that the season which is about to be so happily inaugurated will end pleasantly and profitably to all concerned. Discord and contention have heretofore stood in the way of a great many attempts to benefit the glass industry, and it is to be hoped that past experience in this direction will prove a useful lesson for the future.

The workmen, also, are animated by a commendable desire to promote the mutual interests of the manufacturers and themselves, and will resume their labors cheerfully and contentedly. The settlement of the wage question has been effected, the workmen receiving an advance of 9½ per cent over the scale in force last season. It seems to be the universal determination to uphold quotations and to realize a fair profit This can easily be accomplished, it is believed, if manufacturers persevere in their efforts to that end, particularly as the fear of competition from abroad has been almost entirely removed.

LATH.—Following our last report a little stock came in and sold at previous rates, and since then the position has been somewhat nominal in absence of further testing business. The chances are, however, that receivers would have experienced some trouble in getting custom as dealers for the moment are well stocked up and probably would handle supplies as a favor only. As usual "nothing of importance" is expected to arrive.

LIME.—The market is published for sake of record and in making that conditions must be reported as simply unchanged. Some stock has arrived and with old lots on hand made a sufficient offering, too much if anything, as stock has to be held and buyers generally try to insist upon having fresh arrivals.

LUMBER.—Reports are still irregular, and in some cases bring with them evidences of more or less dissatisfaction on the part of sellers, but in the main it looks as though matters were gaining. It might not be a particularly good time to sell any great amount of random stuff, especially of quality at all faulty, but in figuring over and contracting for staple goods for fall and early winter delivery there is more doing and some very respectable orders are at times booked. And the trading, too, is getting to be somewhat more general in character, buyers calling with greater determination for fine qualities which they discover will be none too plenty and probably more costly and taking the coarser grades to insure a good working supply for common run of trade. In most cases prices are gradually stiffening, although as yet it is difficult to locate many pronounced advances.

White Pine boxing and shippers are meeting with considerable sale for all sorts of deliveries, according to the wants of buyers and ability of sellers to place the goods. There is continued variation in the prices reported also, but houses with reputation for delivering right up to mark standard quality as a rule manage to secure good figures, and generally claim a firm position. Advices from primal markets are steadily strengthening in tone, although at the same time carrying an impression that continuation of custom is very much desired.

Yellow Pine is arriving steadily on contract, including a great many ties and new special engagements are making from time to time. It is not a market, however, creating any great amount of enthusiasm among sellers, and many of the stereotyped complaints about narrow or absent margins are reiterated with much vigor. Export business can be secured to some extent, but its development is erratic.

Carolina Pine can hardly be said to have a broad-gauge demand, but that is due mainly to the fact that buyers, as a rule, feel easy regarding ability to get supplies when they want them and at about the cost for some time ruling. This description of stock is all right enough and loses absolutely nothing in favor for the uses for which it is adapted and will doubtless be handled right along regularly, with chance for considerable increase of custom from localities outside this district.

Hemlock thirteen-foot stuff is well sustained in price and appears to be retaining a demand equal to all the supply within early reach, and is to some extent booked ahead. Advices from primal markets of late have been growing firmer in tone and a move among manufacturers for a general advance is said to be talked of.

Spruce is without essential change. Eastern production of narrow stock when finding custom here at all does so only at very low prices and with few customers as the considerable amounts previously handled induces many dealers to refuse further investment. Full standard cuts, however, are pretty sure to secure attention without much of a contest for modification on cost, and there are some efforts to place specials to which it is difficult to obtain responsive bids even though buyers feel willing to pay full former rates. State stock would command extreme rates and sell readily enough, but most of the supply likely to be brought out this season is already under engagement, and some houses, it is said, now refuse to entertain further negotiations.

Hardwoods find no general demand of an anxious character, but the attentions of buyers are in some cases increasing a trifle and operators seem to think that business has turned for the better. Poplar, if it is of good quality, is pretty sure to secure attention quickly, and is now commanding nearer regulation quotations than for some time past, and the presence of inferior stock is said to be reduced somewhat. Good quality quartered oak is wanted and the miscellaneous line of domestic woods get a little better share of attention. Indeed both dealers and manufacturers act as though willing to negotiate with a trifle more freedom, although inclined to resist an advance in cost. Foreign cedar has been doing very well of late and has stiffened in price as holders consider their supplies small and unlikely to get any important additions. Mahogany has not yet increased in cost, but is held firmly and importers generally seem to think that advices from abroad promise a material curtailment of supplies before end of year, recent heavy arrivals being attributed to exceptional conditions likely to soon pass away. From circular recently issued by Mason & Co. we compile the following statistics of movement at this port:

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES

STATE.

The Albany Argus reports.

The demand for all the better grades of pine is marked and all begin to see the shortage of it this fall. Prices on thick clear 2½ to 4 in. are advanced, as it is selling freely at the top figures. The export trade is dull and shippers are a little lower.

THE WEST.

The following is from Northwestern Lumberman:

The lake movement of white and Norway pine has been disturbed by the recent advance of Lake Superior freight rates. This affects shipments to Chicago and Lake Erie markets. The advance to Buffalo and Tonawanda has been from $1.87½ a thousand to $2, with $2.12½ and perhaps $2.25 paid in some instances. The rate from Duluth and Chequamegon Bay points to Chicago has been advanced from $1.75 to $2.25, with recent charters at a rate as high as $2.50 a thousand. The cause of these advances is lack of tonnage, the larger steamers and towing schooners having been extensively diverted to the ore and grain trade. The rise of lumber freight rates has had a tendency to check shipments to this market and Lake Erie points. Dealers who have purchased lumber on Lake Superior are preparing to carry it at mill points until the rate question, with its relation to prices, shall have become settled. There is some expectation that an increase of tonnage which is entering into the Lake Superior trade will cause a break in rates. It is reported that vessels with a total carrying capacity of 30,000,000 feet of lumber are on their way from Lake Erie to Lake Superior. The vessel men say, however, that with the certain demand for grain and iron ore capacity, there will be no reason why lumber rates shall decline. Of one thing we may be sure, the season is shortening, and soon severe weather will naturally render all lake rates firm. There is not much room this year for the extreme low rates which have prevailed. Should the present figures be maintained, less lumber will reach the wholesale pine markets than would have been the case had the cost of transportation remained at the low rates prevailing in the summer.

Another feature of the lake lumber market is the unbalanced condition of stocks. With respect to the Lake Michigan markets there is too much coarse inch lumber and too little framing dimension or piece stuff. The overplentifulness of coarse inch on Lake Superior is felt all along the lakes from Duluth to Buffalo. At the same time the supply of high grade and wide stock is not equal to the market demand. Prices of good lumber are well maintained, while coarse and narrow inch lumber is so weak in value as to be almost a drug.

The Minneapolis correspondent of the North western Lumberman writes:

It is very generally desired on the part of the manufacturers here that the logging next winter be restricted as much as possible. There are several reasons for this. The first is that there will be practically a full season's sawing of logs in the river after the mills close for the winter. Then there will be an attempt, and a successful one it is hoped, to form a log pool the coming season. This will obviate the necessity of carrying two years' supply of logs in the river constantly. Then the pressure of so many logs on the hands of the manufacturers here is the one thing that weakens the market. Were it not for this, this point would be one of the strongest lumber markets in the white pine country. The need of cutting burned timber will probably not be a force to increase the logging the coming winter, for with the exceptions of a few odds and ends of timber all the scorched pine was put in last winter.

METALS.—In general business continues very good and prices well sustained for all kinds of iron and steel and their products. The most important announcement during the week is an advance of $4 per ton on steel rails. Reviewing the general situation the Iron Trade Review, of Cleveland, says:

The expected advance in steel rails has just been announced. It is $4 a ton, and brings the Pennsylvania price to $28, with the Western basis $29. With the duty $7.84 the new price may give foreign mills a chance at business on the Atlantic Coast, but it need not be expected that Eastern mills will let the schedule stand in the way of meeting competition that may threaten on the seaboard. Railroads whose purchases have been under advisement lately have allowed the market to get away from them, but it will only be repeating history to have liberal buying on advancing prices.

The transactions of the past week in iron and steel, while they further demonstrate that the East is going conservatively, and that buying has slackened there, have emphasized the well-sold condition of Southern and Central Western furnaces. Some further sales of Southern low silicon iron to go into basic steel are reported. Chicago has taken over 20,000 tons. Pittsburg is negotiating for a further large block and the Cleveland district is likely to be a considerable purchaser. Bessemer pig has had a much larger sale in the Pittsburg districts and the valleys than in the preceding week.

Another report from Pittsburgh says:

There has been something of a lull in the iron and steel market during the past week. There is nothing like weakness and the demand continues strong. Consumers, however, appear less in a rush to secure supplies. The upward tendency con-

AS far as the money and exchange markets are concerned, recent developments have brought out some circumstances favorable to them. There is evidently a better demand for funds for commercial purposes than there has been for a long time. This may only endure until the crops move and the winter brings its interference with many occupations, but it is very useful just now, because it makes rates better and brings idle money from abroad to seek employment here. A further consequence of this state of things is that the danger of gold shipments is lessened and the Treasury's position made more secure. Of course, the final cessation of gold exports depends upon our ability to market our products abroad in greater quantities than we have done. This ought to be possible soon, but it is a matter upon which, as the past two or three years have taught us, we cannot count with positiveness. As regards speculation the increase in the call for money for use in legitimate trading channels is not favorable to it when the demand is sufficient to materially increase loaning rates. Moreover, the rise in prices since last February has been very substantial, and until the shake-up of last week, fairly continuous, without extensive reactions, so that those who believe in lower prices for the near future have plenty of precedent in previous movements to justify their views. We are, too, entering on another period of currency discussion, the natural prelude under our present circumstances to the meeting of Congress in December. Although the argument is in a large measure one-sided, there is no one who will predict that the coming session of Congress will see any relief afforded to the Treasury from that quarter, and so long as this is the general belief the condition of the Treasury will be a disturbing factor in finance and to some measure in trade.

SIR WILLIAM HARCOURT'S plan for a graduated inheritance tax has been thus far successful. It was in force for the last two-thirds of the Government's fiscal year, and it not only produced within $200,000 of the round $5,000,000 estimated, but the friction over disputes was much less than was expected. The total amount of property that became chargeable to duty was $449,000,000, of which $375,000,000 was personalty and $74,000,000 realty. The next movement in the line of increasing the contributions of the rich to the burdens of the State, likely to be tried in England, is a tax on unearned increments. Several members of the late administration were known to favor it, and in due time it will be pressed upon the present one, perhaps to its undoing. The report of the Board of Trade on the operation of the British railways in 1894 shows that the net revenue increased 2 per cent and the capital $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, the latter fact compelling a reduction of dividends to the lowest figure recorded on the whole capital in any year except that of the great coal strike, 1893. This matter of capital-increase is the threatening feature in the future of the English lines. The new Government gives Lancashire no encouragement whatever in the matter of the Indian cotton duties. Turkey's sudden resolve to "grant" reforms in the government of Armenia may have been influenced by the fact that she has had to come into the market again to replenish her exchequer. She has nothing on which to make a new loan, so the conversion of the 5 per cent Custom's loan into a 4 per cent stock, with the amount increased to give fresh funds to the Government is on the boards. If the news of anarchy in the Congo Free State is confirmed it is likely to create squabbling among England, France and Germany. Belgium will be unwilling to bear the burden of recovering a country it has been unable to protect, the other powers cannot allow it to relapse into savagery, and the measures for its settlement will offer opportunities for endless jingoism and, of course, the flow of ink.

THE Board of Education is complaining that it cannot proceed with the work of converting the old Essex Market into a temporary school-house because it cannot get its plans through the Department of Buildings, where they have been since June last. Dissatisfaction with the Department continues to be very general among architects and builders of this city, because of the unreasonable time their plans are held awaiting approval. These delays interfere seriously with their several occupations, to say nothing of the loss of time and the annoyance occasioned. Material men also seriously feel the effects of the delay. This dissatisfaction will, undoubtedly, take the form of united public remonstrance unless it can be removed by the adoption of a speedier system of passing plans through the Department. The complaints do not refer merely to plans for large and important buildings where the necessity for elaborate verifications justifies the utmost of proper and reasonable deliberation, but apply proportionately, if not equally, to the smaller and unimportant ones. The Superintendent of the Department is reported as saying, in reference to the condition of the work in his care, that the Department is not going to take any chances of a repetition of the catastrophe at the Ireland Building. Outside the Department that statement will have very little weight, because it is not claimed that if the Ireland Building had been erected in accordance with the plans as passed by Mr. Constable's predecessor on a sound foundation that the accident would still have occurred. It is certain that the Department has paid very scant attention to suggestions and demands for the enlargement of its force and accommodations. Promises, indeed, have been made from time to time of a prompter dispatch of the business of the Department, but apparently the Department has been unable to satisfy reasonable public requirements. The natural consequence is an intense dissatisfaction with the management of the Department in the minds of a large majority of the people having business with it. The conclusion forced by a fair consideration of the facts is, either that the Department is in the hands of officials indifferent to public necessities or the means at its disposal for doing its work are inadequate. Whichever is the case a prompt remedy ought to be applied. As the matter stands now, instead of being a help the Department is an impediment to the prosperity of the building interests of the city.

IT it a matter of surprise though of no regret that advanced socialism has got into discredit with the very people whom it claims it would most benefit—the working classes. The recent British elections unseated all the direct representatives of the working-men whose opinions were of the advanced or revolutionary orders, although maintaining some of moderate views who repudiate any but legal and cautious measures for the advancement of their constituents. The distinction is a very important one as showing the trend of thought among the workingmen of Great Britain. Similar results are found in the elections to the General Councils in France. These elections give the most direct expressions of the views of the people, as these Councils are elected by universal suffrage. The chief functions of the Councils are to preside over the Departments and elect the Senators. Yet the Socialists carried only twelve seats in them throughout the whole of France. In our own country none of the many forms of Populism now find favor among our rural population, and the socialism of the red flag order is apparently beginning to understand that it is out of place and vain of sympathy. Coxey to-day could not raise a corporal's guard to bear him company to Washington. The Nihilist and the dynamiter seem both to have withdrawn themselves into their holes, and the Collectivist of the Teutonic school rarely tries to make himself heard. The direct cause of the silencing of these noisy voices is, of course, the withdrawal of the support that has hitherto sustained them; they all existed by the grace of popular subscription. But why the sympathies which made the hand generous to aid should have died out is a very interesting question. Probably it is a matter of instinct of one kind or another. Horror of the acts that have discredited advanced views in the past ten years may have had something to do with it, but not much. The working people may have unconsciously acquired an appreciation of the fact that they have gained a great deal in recent years and concluded that this is a good time to take a rest and enjoy what they have gained. It may be, too, that they feel there is something in the political atmosphere containing a presentiment of danger to national life as now organized, and each people gathers instinctively around that form of national representation that offers, as the times stand, the best protection to racial or national homogeneity in the conflict that they appear to foresee.

Employers' and Builders' League.

Judson Lawson, First Vice-President of the Employers' and Builders' League, addressed the members of that body last Thursday evening, at the club-house, No. 24 East 125th street. The speaker entertained his hearers for over an hour, giving an interesting description of all the large cities of Great Britain, Germany, Holland, Switzerland, France and Italy, illustrating his remarks by means of a number of photographs of famous scenes and buildings, all of which he procured on the spot while on his recently completed tour through Europe. Mr. Lawson claimed that, while there are many handsome old structures on the other side, most of which had been erected seven or eight centuries ago, the architecture of the present day cannot be compared to the modernized buildings now being erected on this side of the Atlantic. Speaking of building in London, he said he saw only two buildings in course of erection, these were in the outlying districts and were flats, the idea being newly imported from here, and the structures were very crude. Mr. Lawson said that on the whole the building industry on the other side, while it may have been a very important one in the past, was now as nothing compared with the work on this side in New York City alone. From inquiries and observations the speaker had formed the opinion that cheap labor on the continent had been caused chiefly by the wage-earners themselves through their frequent strikes. In concluding Mr. Lawson called upon all the members of the League to stand firmly by each other in case of a strike. He promised to have his collection of photographs, over 500 in number, mounted and placed on exhibition at the club-rooms some evening this coming winter, when he would undertake to describe in detail all the sights he saw. A resolution of thanks to the speaker of the evening was then unanimously adopted by the association, and a committee of three, composed of the president and the first and second vice-presidents, was appointed to advise the master stone-cutters and stone-setters in their fight against the Derrickmen's Union, the members of which are now on strike for an increase of wages. A special meeting of the League has been called for next Thursday evening to hear the report of the committee and to uphold and advise them.

Personal.

Mr. H. G. Knapp, of No. 145 Broadway, and Charles Sidney, of No. 217 West 125th street, architects, have formed a co-partnership under the firm name of H. G. Knapp & Sidney, and are now prepared to receive their friends and patrons at No. 217 West 125th street.

The Water Front.

It is expected that the Dock Board will soon commence work on the improvement of the North River water front, from Charles to Gansevoort street, consisting of an excavation along 13th avenue to a point within 75 feet of West street, and the building of piers and slips of hitherto unusual size. The latter range in length from 667 to 728 feet and 80 feet in width with a distance of 225 feet between each.

Minetta Creek.

The architect of the proposed Siegel-Cooper building has met the difficulty presented by the Minetta Creek flowing into his foundations by building a tank to receive the water and a pump to discharge it. It is said this arrangement will be preserved after the building is up, but instead of the water being pumped away it will be used in the building.

Kingsbridge Improvements.

The Kingsbridge Improvement Association and other property-owners' associations of the 23d and 24th Wards are agitating for improvements and claim that one of the most urgent needs of the district is a bridge across Jerome Park reservoir to connect the Southern Boulevard with Boston avenue, a work that is not provided for in the present reservoir plans.

City Work.

Bids will be received at the Commissioner's Office, rooms Nos. 1 and 15, No. 31 Chambers street, New York, until 12 M., on Monday, Sept. 30, 1895, for: 1. Regulating and paving, with asphalt pavement, the carriageway of the following: 9th street, from University place to Stuyvesant street, and Stuyvesant street, from 2d to 3d avenue; Greenwich avenue, from 6th to 8th avenue; Pine street, from Nassau to William street; William street, from Beaver to Pearl street, and Nassau street, from Wall to Spruce street, except from Pine to Liberty street; Madison avenue, from 79th to 86th street; 71st street, from 1st to 5th avenue, except from 3d to Madison avenue; 101st street, from Lexington to Park avenue; 117th street, between Amsterdam and Morningside avenues West. 2. Regulating and paving, with granite block pavement, the carriageway of the following: 65th street, from 1st avenue to Avenue A; 169th street, from Amsterdam avenue to Kingsbridge road. 3. Bids will be received at the same time and place for horizontal tubular boiler, smoke-stack, pipe-work, new radiators, repairs to heating system, new pumps, etc., for the old Criminal Court Building, Chambers street, New York.

Payment of Taxes.

October 1st has been designated as the first day for payment of taxes. To secure prompt attention the Receiver of Taxes desires that requisitions for tax bills be made at once.

A Trust Company's Steady Growth.

The Real Estate Trust Company has issued a memorandum which, while immediately addressed to its stockholders has a wider interest in that it draws attention to the remarkable growth of the Company's business in the five years of its life. It shows that the number of depositors on October 21, 1890, was thirty-five, and the total deposits $224,447; on the 10th day of this month the number of depositors was 774 and the total deposits $3,311,000. The growth of depoits was continuous except in 1893, the panic year, when there was some falling off from the year before, but since that time they have more than doubled. The management urges on the stockholders the advisability of increasing the deposit business to $5,000,000.

Street Openings.

At its meeting of the 6th inst. the Board of Street Opening and Improvement passed resolutions for the opening of:

East 135th street, from 3d avenue to Exterior street.

East 161st street, from Union avenue to Prospect avenue.

East 181st street (formerly Ponus street), from the Southern Boulevard to the Bronx Park.

Vyse street, from the Boston road to the Bronx Park.

Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange.

The Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange has amended its by-laws so that any person identified with the building industry can become a floor member on payment of an annual fee of $12 in advance. A floor member has all the privileges of the exchange, except the rights of voting at meetings, of becoming an officer, or of sharing in any funds or property of the exchange.

Vault Privileges.

Mr. Oscar Hammerstein has deposited with the Department of Works a check for the whole amount demanded by the Department for the vault around his new theatre on Broadway, between 44th and 45th streets, and the Department has issued to him a provisional permit for the vault. This arrangement was made between the disputants in order that the work on the theatre should not be delayed while the differences between them were being settled. Mr. Hammerstein has not surrendered his claim that as part of the vault space he wants was used as such by the occupants of the building he bought, it, therefore, ought not be paid for; nor the Department its claim that the city is entitled to payment for the whole vault space, no permit having ever been granted for a vault on the premises in question. This difference will have to be disposed of either by negotiation or adjudication.

Proposed Street Railway Extensions.

The Metropolitan Traction Company, through subsidiary corporations controlled by it, has applied to the Board of Aldermen for permission to extend its Amsterdam avenue line along 125th street to the Boulevard, along the Boulevard to 145th street, thence easterly to the Harlem River to connect with its Lenox avenue line; also upon Bradhurst avenue from 145th street to 155th street. The company has also asked permission to make a connection of its lines on Broome street to enable it to reach the Christopher Street and Descrosses Street Ferries.

SAFETY WINDOWS—APPROVED BY ARCHITECTS.

"Nothing succeeds like success" is an old adage that is finding exemplification in the experience of the Heydebrand Safety Window Co. Months ago they placed on the market the Heydebrand Safety Window, which possesses such decided advantages that it has already been introduced in a number of the most prominent buildings lately erected, and specified for use in many others now under way. It is a very common practice to announce new devices for use in buildings as the "long sought for improvement," but in the case of the Heydebrand Safety Window different tactics were followed. The window was first submitted to architects and builders, who, while ever willing to adopt improvements, are both practical and skeptical when called upon to use something new. The Heydebrand Safety Window, however, possessed points of merit that were easily recognizable. As a busy architect tersely put it, "they are readily reversed and cleaned from the inside, and the entire opening may be used when desired for ventilation, while retaining all the advantages of double sliding sashes." Besides, they are absolutely weather proof. The cut on page XI. illustrates the Heydebrand Safety Window, which, its utility having been demonstrated, has already been introduced into the new University Building on Washington square, the new Hoffman House, Proctor's Pleasure Palace and the Grand Central Palace. It has been specified for use in the new Merck Building, on Clinton and University places; the Brower House, Broadway and 28th street, and the new office building, corner of Nassau and Liberty streets. Out of town about 700 have been put in fourteen apartment houses at Weehawken, two Boston office buildings, a gymnasium at Greenwich, Conn; the Daily and Weekly Star building at Montreal, and an office building at Ottawa, Canada, are a few of the structures where the Heydebrand Safety windows have been introduced and are giving satisfaction. Mr. Heydebrand has also patented a device which permits of the introduction of the Safety Windows into old houses to windows of any style at a very small cost. The offices of the Heydebrand Safety Window Co. are in the Decker Building, No. 33 Union square, and a cordial invitation is extended to architects, builders, owners and others interested to visit the offices and see the windows (not models) in use. Descriptive catalogues will be sent on application.

IRON-WORK FOR BUILDINGS.

The Fulton Iron Works, of No. 302 East 114th street, M. Neumann & Co., proprietors, supply plain and artistic iron-work for all building purposes. They are practical iron-workers and execute orders promptly and satisfactorily. Owners and builders requiring beams, girders, skylights, vault lights, doors, shutters, sills, lintels, etc., will do well to communicate with the firm. Iron awnings are a specialty with the Fulton Iron Works.

MEDICAL.

R.—1658.—The Pasteur Institute, No. 1 West 97th street, New York City, has purchased a large tract of land in Rockland County, on which will be erected a sanitarium and a number of laboratories. No architect has been selected. Mr. Henry B. Wesselman, No. 150 Broadway, is the legal representative of the institute in this country.

REFORMATORY.

*R. 217.—State Reformatory for First Offenders, between the ages of sixteen and thirty, at Rahway, N. J. State of New Jersey, owner. The plans of John R. Thomas, 160 Broadway, New York, have been accepted. They provide for a main central guard room, connected by four radiating cell wings, with an administration building in front. The main floor of the central building will be the guard room, opening into each cell wing and commanding a complete view of the various cells. The entrance will be furnished with an inclosed steel cage, through which all persons must pass. The four wings will contain one thousand cells of graded size. The system of ventilation will be by exhaust fans; the heating will be indirect steam. At the rear of the central building will be other buildings, consisting of one for domestics, officers' building, physical culture building, with gymnasium, baths, school-room and trade school-rooms, chapel, hospital and cottage for upper first grade; building for dynamo, boilers, cold storage, workshops and foundry. The buildings will be entirely fireproof, surrounded by a wall which will inclose nineteen acres of land. The cost will be about $800,000 and bids will be taken as soon as plans for each wing are ready. Mr. Thomas was also the architect for the Elmira Reformatory and the Eastern New York Reformatory in Ulster County.

RECREATIVE.

W. W. THOMPSON, 214 and 216 Broadway.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND AGENTS.

Mr. Philip A. Smyth, who until lately was a member of the familiar firm of Smyth & Ryan, has handsomely furnished and fitted his new office at No. 11 Pine street, where he has every reason to believe he will do a prosperous business. His experience in the business extends over twenty years. He began as a clerk in the office of H. V. Harnett, and was later that gentleman's partner. In June, 1885, he and Wm. A. Ryan, then in the employ of H. V. Harnett & Co., formed a partnership which endured for ten years. Besides being fortunate in all lines of the real estate business except renting, Mr. Smyth has made great success with sales of very choice suburban property, notably at Arverne, Edgemere, Far Rockaway, Coney Island and other places. In his new quarters he is happily placed in having such well-known and successful people as John h. Golding and Seton & Wissman for neighbors. Mr. Smyth was for two terms a director of the Real Estate Exchange and some time Secretary of the Board of Directors, but his sympathy with the auctioneers' movement which led to the exodus to No. 111 Broadway caused his withdrawal from active interest in its affairs.

What has been said of his late partner applies also in a large measure, as far as their business was concerned, to Mr. Wm. A. Ryan, who, on the dissolution of their partnership, continues business at the old stand and with the old plant at No. 111 Broadway. His long experience in the office of H. V. Harnett and the share he took in the affairs of Smyth & Ryan during the ten years of successful life of that firm, justifies him also in anticipating a satisfactory continuance of his business career. Like his late partner Mr. Ryan is a comparatively young man, robust and full of energy, and so may be counted on to leave no stone unturned to secure his due share of the rapidly growing business that comes from the movement in realty in New York City and the surrounding territory.

Broker Eugene L. Clarkson of the Consolidated Exchange Building, No. 60 Broadway, has a large amount of money to loan at 4 per cent on first-class improved city property.

Henry J. Hume, auctioneer and broker, of 810 Postal Telegraph Building, No. 253 Broadway, has numerous desirable properties for sale at bottom prices. He also has a number of parcels to exchange.

John Reis & Co., of No. 5 Willoughby street, with a branch at No. 805 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, have sold, within the past six months, over two hundred lots in the best section of Flatbush. This firm does a general real estate business, both in the city and country, and takes entire charge of the management of property. They represent the Lancaster, Queens and Hanover Fire Insurance Companies for all suburban towns in Queens County, and they are the successors to the entire business of the late A. B. Davenport. It was through the personal efforts of Mr. Henry B. Davenport, a member of the firm, that the city decided to improve Ocean avenue, which is to be graded, curbed, guttered and the sidewalks widened to 25 feet, making it when completed the finest thoroughfare of its kind in Kings County.

Real Estate Market.

It is a good augury for the future of the season that during what must be regarded as an off week, thirty-five brokers' sales are reported. The aggregate purchase price, about $1,100,000, is not large, for the reason that only one of the transactions will involve a consideration requiring six figures to express it, provided it is ever made public. Compared with the reports of previous weeks for a long time past the showing made is, to say the least, most promising. Moreover, the week's business has been accomplished despite the fact that the important Hebrew element was practically absent from the market on Thursday and yesterday, two of the busiest days of every week, and that last week's unfavorable weather had caused somewhat of a setback after the brilliant opening of the season that began with September. Uptown building sites, dwellings, flats and tenements in nearly every residence section of the city have all been freely purchased and in nearly every instance the price is that of property of moderate value, showing that that very necessary factor of an active market, the investor of moderate means, has again to some extent put in a very welcome appearance.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1894 and 1895

The legal auction sales for the past five days at the Broadway Salesroom have been unusually few, and, with the exception of two of the Alfred G. Nason houses on West 89th street, disposed of at low prices, embraced no property that had a claim to more than ordinary consideration. On Tuesday Richard V. Harnett & Co withdrew from foreclosure sale Nos. 423 to 429 East 59th street. On Wednesday Bryan L. Kennelly found it necessary to withdraw from voluntary auction Nos. 299 to 305 Water street, a seven-story business structure, on which the highest bid was $47,000. The same auctioneer adjourned sine die, a sale of No. 68 Pike street and Nos. 53 and 55 Catharine street. On the same day a partition sale, announced by Smyth & Ryan, of No. 578 Grand street, went over until October 16th. Yesterday Richard V. Harnett & Co. postponed the sale of the northeast corner of Avenue A and 70th street to October 11th.

Peter F. Meyer & Co. will, on Thursday next, the 26th inst., inaugurate the fall auction season by offering at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, the Bathgate estate property, consisting of 176 building lots, situated just north of the dividing line between the 23d and 24th Wards. The tract adjoins Crotona Park and is otherwise exceptionally well located and therefore desirable for either investment or improvement. The opportunity to acquire lots or plots should not be ignored by small buyers, as such opportunities occur but seldom. The sale will take place under the direction of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. as executor and trustee under the will of the late owner, Charles B. Beck. The tract is intersected by 3d, Washington, Bathgate, Wendover and Fulton avenues, 171st and 172d streets. The property is especially favored by the many lines that contribute to make it accessible. It can be reached by the 2d and 3d avenue "L" roads, the suburban branch of which has a station at 3d and Wendover avenues; the Union Electric Railway, which passes by the property and by the New York and Harlem Railroad, with its station one block distat.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Emil H. Bachmann has sold for Malcom Baxter, No. 311 West 15th street, a lot 25x103, with one-story front and three-story rear brick buildings, to Frank Seely, and for Frederick Wood the three-and-a-half-story brick dwelling, lot 23.4x92, No. 331 West 18th street, to Dr. Phillip G. Becker, for $18,000.

Joseph Levy & Son have sold for Amelia Harris the four-story front and rear brick tenements, with lot 25x110, No. 634 Hudson street, between Jane and Horatio, to Hyman Israel; for Magdalena Lieb the five-story brick tenement with stores, lot 25x98.9, No. 350 West 37th street, to Amelia Harris, for $23,300, and for Margaret Sullivan the four-story brick house, lot 25x98.9, No. 337 West 28th street, to Thomas Lynch, for $17,300.

Wm. P. Jones & Son have sold for John Burns the three-story stable, No. 410 West 31st street, 25x73, to Robert Gray for about $10,500.

Henry G. Cassidy has sold the four-story brick tenement, 20x50x98.9, No. 315 East 31st street, for Mrs. Mary J. Mitchell to Thomas Fay, at $10,500.

S. B. Rogers has sold for F. W. Herter the five-story stone front tenement, 25x80x100.5, No. 334 East 19th street, for $20,000.

H. Rinaldo & Bro. have sold for Abraham Stern the five-story brick tenement with stores, lot 25x100, No. 95 Chrystie street, between Grand and Hester, at a figure not much under $26,000.

Winans & May have sold for the estate of Gilbert Oakley the four-story dwelling, lot 18.6x100.5, No. 24 East 57th street, to J. T. Cox. The late Mr. Oakley purchased the house in October, 1885, for $53,-200, and it has just been sold, it is said, at a figure about $10,000 higher.

W. D. Rusher has sold for Hugo S. Mack the two five-story brick tenements with stores, and lots 25x100 each, Nos. 823 and 825 10th avenue, between 54th and 55th streets, to a Mr. Brooks.

We are informed by John Erving, the owner of the dwelling No. 17 West 50th street, that our report last week of the sale of that property was incorrect.

Fairchild & Yoran have sold for Henry Morris the three-story stone front dwelling, lot 19.6x100.5, No. 349 West 46th street. The property sold in April, 1888, for $18,000.

Tim & Co. have sold for the Klingenfeld estate the three-story brick dwelling, 20x55x100.5, No. 310 West 51st street, to William Ross for about $13,000, and for Mrs. M. Wilson to Morris B. Baer the three-story stone front dwelling, 15.9x50x100.5, No. 314 West 53d street.

The four-story brick tenement, with lot 25x92, No. 613 6th street, has been sold by J. Bruckmeyer to S. Greenfield for $14,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Frank Koch & Co. has sold for Jacob D. Butler to Builder William Broadbelt for improvement, the plot 400x199.10, on the north side of 161st street, 100 feet east of the Boulevard and running through to 162d street. The lots comprise the greater part of the plot recently purchased by Mr. Butler from the Knapp estate.

H. Bargebuhr & Son have sold for Weil & Mayer the five story tenement with stores, 25x90x100.11, No. 310 East 109th street, for about $26,000.

David Stewart has sold for John H. Deane, a plot 75x100, on the northeast corner of Boulevard and 83d street, to Paul Halpin, for $12,750, and resold same to Builder Bernard Havanagh, for $14,000.

James A. Atwater has sold for Mrs. Kirby the four-story stone front dwelling, with lot 20x102.2, No. 18 West 75th street, to Dellon M. Dewey for $42,500.

S. B. Rogers has sold for M. L. Rickerson the three-story stone front dwelling, lot 15x80, No. 503 Manhattan avenue, near 121st street, for $15,000.

Adler & Herrman have sold the plot, 100x100, with five-story corner flat and four brick dwellings, all unfinished, on the northeast corner of 143d street and Amsterdam avenue, for about $60,000. The property was bought in by the sellers under foreclosure on July 24th for $50,570. The buildings, which are only under roof, will require an additional expenditure by the purchaser of about $30,-000 to complete them. Rumor has it that Jere. C. Lyons is the buyer.

Chalmers Wood has bought of the trustees of the Richard Arnold estate and others the four-story stone front dwelling, lot 19.10x102.2, No. 19 East 81st street.

Louis S. Lotsch has sold, from the plans, for Builder Theodore A. Cordler, three five-story brick double flats, with plot 75x100, which are to be erected on the east side of Madison avenue, about 25 feet south of 119th street, to Charles Muller for about $78,000. Excavations for the foundations of the buildings are about completed.

John T. Duff has sold for George Daiker the four-story stone front dwelling, No. 702 St. Nicholas avenue, lot about 18.6x110, to Charles D. Ward.

D. H. Scully has sold for J. Levy the four-story stone front flat, lot 20x100.11, No. 77 East 121st street, to W. J. Herzog, for about $16,000.

J. B. Ketcham has sold for Henry Hollman the three-story stone front house, lot 17.7x83, No. 1857 Madison avenue, between 120th and 121st streets, to G. C. Kienbush.

F. Zittel has sold for Builder John C. Umberfield the four-story stone front dwelling, 20x60x102.2, No. 47 West 75th street, to Mrs. Maury for about $48,000, and for Heyman Gershel his four-story stone front residence, 21x60x100.8, No. 49 West 87th street.

J. S. Ferguson has bought of Builder Oscar T. Mackey the four-story brick dwelling, lot about 18x100.8, No. 7 West 90th street.

Winans & May have sold for John B. Smith the four-story stone front dwelling, 21x52 and extension x100.8, No. 20 West 90th street.

H. H. Cammann & Co. have sold for John E. Hibbard a plot, 200x100.11, on the north side of 96th street, 275 feet east of Amsterdam avenue, to Edward and Henry Hirsh, for about $100,000.

Stabler & Smith have sold for Mrs. A. M. Graff, the three-story stone front dwelling, 20x55x100.11, No. 317 West 103d street, to G. E. Wild.

Max Marx has sold the three-story stone front dwelling, 17.6x55x99.11, No. 530 West 148th street, to Joseph Seeman, and the similar house, 17x55x99.11, No. 534 West 148th street, to David Lewi.

The trustees of the City College have made their initial purchase of lots embraced in the tract bounded by 138th and 140th streets, Amsterdam avenue and St. Nicholas terrace, the site selected some months ago for the new City College buildings. The purchase includes five lots on the southeast corner of Convent avenue and 139th street, and six on the west side of St. Nicholas terrace, between 138th and 139th streets, all owned by the Benjamin H. Hutton estate.

NORTH SIDE.

W. F. & C. H. Smith have sold for Laurence Leib the house and lot, 25x100, on the east side of Crotona avenue, 125 feet north of Lebanon street, to J. August Coder for $4,250.

LEASES.

R. H. Macy & Co. have leased for a long term of years the new fireproof store, to be erected by the syndicate that was reported last week to have purchased from Nathan Straus the old Scotch Presbyterian Church property, Nos. 53 to 57 West 14th street and Nos. 54 to 56 West 15th street. Samuel D. Babcock and George P. Slade are the organizers of the company that will complete the purchase of the site and erect the building.

Charles M. Heymann & Co. have leased for Collins & Collins the dwelling No. 133 West 42d street, to Traitel Bros. & Co. for a term of ten years at a total rental of about $70,000. The building will be altered at once by the lessors and converted into a five-story structure adapted to the business of the lessees. It will be remembered that Collins & Collins bought the property at partition sale in the spring for $68,200 and sold it a few weeks later at a price which was stated by them to fall but little short of $80,000. One of the inducements to purchase at the latter figure was, however, a long lease taken by the sellers that insured a good return on the investment.

Frothingham & Timpson have leased for a term of years, at $3,000, to General Louis Fitzgerald, the country seat of the late John H. Iselin, known as Eagle's Rest, near Garrison-on-Hudson, and situated on the river front opposite West Point.

Out of Town.

The Pasteur Institute, of Paris and New York, has purchased from W. G. Tuller through Henry B. Wesselman, its legal representative in this country, the Norton place, in Rockland County, consisting of 200 acres fronting on the Nyack turnpike, between Tuxedo and Suffern, for about $20,000. The Institute will improve part of the tract by erecting a sanitarium for hydrophobic patients and suitable laboratories for the manufacture of toxine for use in diphtheretic cases and other preparations of M. Pasteur.

Newark, N. J.—Brown & Schlesinger have sold for Margaret J. Bartosch No. 57 Brunswick street, corner of Parkhurst, to Samuel G. Walker; for James Costello, of Danbury, Conn, No. 239 Academy street, to Wm. Bellingham; and for Fred'k M. Van Houten a building plot on Hillside avenue, near Clinton avenue, to Wm. M. Sommer, who will erect a handsome residence thereon.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

In your last issue I notice a lien against me and premises, corner Bowery and Hester street, the second lien filed against me during my forty-seven years' experience, and both unjust. The lien was filed by an Italian stone-mason who made me believe he was a brick-mason also, and who spoiled the work, did not pay his bills and left me to complete the job. I have paid his bills and paid his men and have paid out nearly $300 over and above his contract, and am not through paying yet, and the job is not finished. I have taken steps to punish this Mr. Jas. Fesh, who filed the lien, and I hold vouchers for all money paid. W. DAVIDSON.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (C) means not summoned. (I) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments

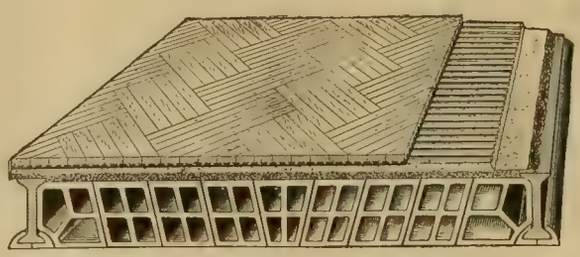
BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—Although a large quantity of brick has been used this season there was much disappointment in volume and force of call from many localities, and a production so liberal as to keep the market constantly over-supplied. Conditions for manufacturing were also of the most excellent character during greater portion of the summer which served to maintain a high average of quality and contributed a depressing factor, inasmuch as there were very few makers showing such special attractions as to command an important premium. It does not look now as though there would be any important broadening of consumption this fall, and therefore an improvement in values will depend in a large measure upon the shutting off of supplies. In a desultory way some stoppage of work has already taken place and more is expected to follow, but it is difficult to obtain lucid information as to probable time when such action may become general and of more stimulating character. There is a stiffening of price for the week of probably 25c. per M, maximum which brings $5 once more in sight and just so much improves the situation, making as it does the first gain for a long while, with a natural hope and some expectation that the stiffening tone will be progressive. It seems to be quite generally conceded that the demand is without increase, but a lessening of arrivals has brought matters where excess of supplies appears to have been finally overcome, and receivers encounter the novel experience, for this season, of having little or nothing to carry over from day to day.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—After a very good general summer trade, the local market has of late quieted down somewhat. That is particularly the experience with regular stock sizes and assortments of which sales are now mainly of routine character, but there is still considerable doing on special orders and at quite satisfactory rates. On the general run of quotations no important variation can be noted, but many influences would seem to point to an advance. Desirable lumber is more costly, all metal trimmings are higher and the strong combination of glass manufacturers, determined to get more money for their product, should add to value of glazed sash. Quite an export movement is reported in doors at this port, the quantity apparently running ahead of last year.

GLASS.—The market for window glass, while possibly not as active as some enthusiastic operators had calculated upon, is nevertheless doing well at full former rates with a tendency to advance. Indeed some of the local jobbers are already insisting upon a trifle more money, and the action is likely to become general as fall trade expands. Plate glass is selling very well for this time of the year and remains steady, but the supply appears fully equal to all requirements.



WOOD BLOCK FLOORS.

Wood Block.

Bituminous Compound.

Portland Cement.

Rough Concrete.

Composed of wood blocks, cemented and keyed to concrete foundation, forming a solid and immovable structure, through which no dampness or foul air can penetrate and no disease germs or filth can be secreted.

Fire-Resisting, Noiseless, and Warm to the feet.

Can be laid in a variety of patterns in different kinds of wood.

Very Handsome in Appearance and Everlasting.

THE STANDARD FLOOR FOR PUBLIC BUILDINGS THROUGHOUT EUROPE.

Also ROLLING PARTITIONS. For dividing buildings. Sound-proof and air-tight. In various woods. Made also with Blackboard Surface. These partitions are a marvelous convenience, easily operated, very durable and do not get out of order. VENETIAN BLINDS IN ALL WOODS.

JAMES GODFREY WILSON, Patentee and Manufacturer. 74 West 23d Street, N. Y.

The latest developments from the West are contained in the following dispatch received this week from Chicago: "Arrangements for a combine of all the window glass manufacturers in the Western district were perfected at the Auditorium, and the price of window glass was increased 8½ or 9 per cent. Hereafter the entire product of the seventy window glass concerns in the district, whose capacity is 4,800,000 to 5,000,000 boxes a year ($10,000,000 to $12,000,000 worth), will pass through the hands of but two sales agents, one at Pittsburg and another in Indiana. The product of window glass manufacturers will be turned over to consumers in the same manner that the strawboard manufacturers of the country recently agreed to dispose of their product."

LATH.—Assuming that previous calculations upon light receipts were well founded receivers have experienced the truth of the adage, that the "unexpected always happens," as a pretty good bunch of arrivals put in an appearance since our last. Sellers were bothered, evidently, indeed some of them admit it, but all things considered they have managed the market very well and at present writing matters are seemingly upon a comparatively steady keel again. Business is reported to have been done as low as $1.60, but it is claimed that bulk of trading was at $1.65 and now $1.70 is again the average asking rate for any offering of desirable character with tone pretty firm and about all the stock known to be en route from regular shipping ports at hand and disposed of.

LIME.—In general results on price for the week operators have experienced continued disappointment and conditions do not yet appear ripe for the improvement in tone that might reasonably be hoped for. Buyers make no contest against cost, and those who are fair in their arguments admit figures to be very low, but so long as distribution is not free and general there seems no good ground for purchasing supplies beyond natural early requirements, and receivers are unable to secure a commanding position. On the whole, however, demand has been somewhat better of late and provided for a large proportion of more liberal arrivals, and at the close the feeling seems to be that unless cargoes come along too rapidly that business is shaping for better general form. An arrival from St John, N. B., was disposed of at current rates.

LUMBER.—Demand is still lacking that general push and vigor calculated to put the market in an active condition, yet in one way or another there is a tendency toward improvement, and the chances are that more life will be shown for a while, especially for goods ordinarily brought forward from interior points by water transportation. Already Western freight charges have advanced, and, while there may be some stuff this side of the increased charges upon which sellers would accept old prices, the general influence is stiffening and likely to become still more pronounced. As we have before suggested, the prospects for a solid gain in value seem to be best for the better qualities of all descriptions of lumber as dealers and large consumers have allowed supplies to run low in a great many instances, and now when they go to first hands looking up renewals it is discovered that stocks there are also small and owners thinking very well of them.

White Pine may be called steady all around and in some instances the talk is of stronger and more hopeful character. Especially is this noticeable on the better qualities, the scarcity of which comes more into evidence as the search for them is extended, and while there is no famine the quantity appears likely to prove small enough to give holders quite a pronounced advantage. In the Albany market leading operators have marked up prices on all the better grades, and supplies now offering here, valued at say $35 upward, are held from $1.50 to $2 50 per M higher, according to quality, with considerable confidence expressed in ability to support the gain. The coarser grades of standard quality also promise to command a fraction more money in some instances, and even the ordinary and poorly graded stuff is likely to cost higher in order to meet increased transportation charges.

Yellow Pine is not admitted to be improving by the majority of operators. In some exceptional cases fair sized deals and comparatively good prices have been made, but the market lacks the essential element of an open anxious demand and buyers bidding against each other for supplies and quick service. "Determined efforts" to improve the tone at primal markets are occasionally heard of but have not yet taken such general form as to find positive reflection here.

Carolina Pine has a certain amount of steady demand from certain lines of custom that serves to make up a very fair business, but in the main the market is not entirely satisfactory. Buyers seem to feel an indifference about the future that induces them to abstain from free investments and demand shows no unusual volume from any quarter. At primal markets, according to late reports, affairs are unsettled and there is said to be less strength on values than a couple of months ago. The "outside" mills are credited with urging trade and making easy terms

Hemlock is quoted generally firm in consequence of a continued absence of liberal supplies well adapted to wants of this market. Some buyers claim that by exercising a little patience they can get enough stock to carry them along without special inconvenience, but nevertheless admit that on larger orders and greater hurry for delivery it would be difficult to secure satisfactory attention. At primal markets conditions are generally quite steady.

Spruce remains in good general form, and reports are correspondingly cheerful. The State supply is selling well, some operators claim business to be as full as they desire at present rates, and there is a steady call for the West Virginia stuff, with some of the mills sold ahead. Eastern is also wanted to a very fair extent, provided the specifications contain a remarkably attractive assortment, but short and narrow stuff would probably suffer neglect, as about all the dealers willing to venture handling it have secured an ample supply through the purchases made some time ago.

Hardwoods remain steady, and about the only change suggested of late is a somewhat more general demand, buyers commencing to extend their favors beyond the line of strictly staple goods. The offering through the regular local agents is fair as to quantity and assortment, and at about old rates, but there is evidence that some of the mill men and large dealers at interior markets are looking for custom on this market, and likely to compete closely for it as opportunity may admit.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

There is likely to be a notable accumulation of lumber at Lake Superior points, especially of coarse inch stocks, of which there seems to be a superabundance. There is a short supply of high-grade white pine throughout producing territory, and a lack of framing dimension, bill stuff or piece stuff, as it is variously called. The shortage of such lumber is noted as far west as Minneapolis, and it is concluded that the supply is comparatively meagre throughout the white pine field. This is a remarkable condition, and one, perhaps, never before known; for, in years past, timber joists and scantling have usually been in excess. The reason of this is said to be a growing disposition of mill operators in recent years to saw logs into inch lumber for the eastern market. Furthermore, this year, owing to last season's forest fires, an especial effort was made to put in burned white pine, while norway was in a measure neglected.

The over supply of coarse inch in the Lake Superior region is a burden to the market. It has ruled weak in price for several weeks, and mill operators now find it difficult to dispose of it. Good stocks go east for a market, a portion being picked up by the western trade to supply the sash and door factories. The residue, mostly cut from the hearts of logs, is left to be unloaded on the Chicago market. The dealers at this point are not now in the mood to buy coarse inch lumber, though they would take a greater quantity of piece stuff, and more high grade stock if it was to be obtained at figures which they are willing to pay. Prices of even piece stuff are considered by the mill operators too low to yield a profit. Now that lake freight rates have advanced to $2.50 a thousand, it puts up another bar against the free marketing of lumber. Altogether the Lake Superior trade is almost dead locked. There will be continued movement down the lakes to the extent vessels can be chartered, for much of that purchased must be got into the yards when that is possible; but if present conditions of transportations continue to the close of navigation, the result will be restricted supplies in this market, and probably in those at the foot of Lake Erie as well. This will induce an increased winter rail movement, if trade shall be sufficient to greatly deplete stocks.

There has this season been a remarkable movement of hemlock lumber from western Michigan eastward. This is a development in that branch of the lumber trade unlooked for, and one that has cleared away hemlock product that otherwise would have been forced on the Chicago and other western markets. The greater portion of the product mentioned, amounting to many millions of feet, goes to Lake Erie markets.

The hardwood trade of the country appears to have reached solid ground. The demand for oak is continuous and large, and prices are firm. There is a revived call for ash, and poplar is receiving more attention in western markets than earlier in the season. All wood-consuming industries are in operation. At Minneapolis the call for hardwoods from the wagon and agricultural-machine makers is a new feature of demand.

At Chicago:

The market has not been well supplied during the week, neither has the demand been active. The advance of freight rates from Lake Superior points, and the difficulty in getting boats to go up into those waters for loads has had the effect to restrict receipts.

The commission men are picking around for charters in order to bring in lots that have been sold to arrive, but with poor success.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Lumbermen are beginning to turn their attention to operations in the woods the coming winter, and predictions are being made as to the result of the coming winter's work. In the Duluth district, our correspondent states that the outlook is for a large output of logs next winter. It was predicted long ago, by well posted lumbermen, that when the dry season of the summer came, many of the trees injured by last summer's forest fires would wither and die, and it now turns out that they were nearly right. Considerable logging will have to be done the coming winter to save this timber. On the headquarters of the St. Croix and north of Duluth, as well as along the north shore, logging operations next winter will also be quite extensive. Last winter's cut of logs in the Duluth district surpassed that of all previous seasons, and if the coming winter's cut is to be larger, it means that the mills at the head of the lakes will be busy for still another summer.

INDICATIONS point to a period of lower prices in Wall street. This position is best supported by the fact that the bull market has now existed for six months, an unprecedentedly long period for any market movement, and it is natural to suppose that the speculative spirit on the buyers' side gave out in that time. The wonder is that it lasted so long, though the reasons for this are ascertainable as they have been given more than once here. The fact that the prices of securities have fallen off somewhat and will in all probability decline still further does not signify that the general business situation is not as good as it was. Taking a broad view it has not fallen away at all, but it should not be surprising if there is a little lull in activity as the cold season approaches and as Congress is about to be convened, which may also be called a cold season though in another sense. Business has been so dull in Wall street that the exchange situation has had an opportunity to be discussed again, especially in the light of the latest shipment of gold which goes out nominally at cost if not at a loss. This transaction particularly makes it appear as if the exchange business is changing hands. For some years it was done wholly by a comparatively few banking houses, which issued their drafts rather as a convenience to their customers and as an advertisement of their businesses than for the money there was in it. Now some large New York mercantile houses and shippers are making their own settlements, and incidentally those of the smaller merchants who will buy their bills, with a prospect of exchange becoming a regular department of the foreign commission business in supplementation if not in substitution of the banking houses. It cannot be regarded as otherwise than remarkable that the special shipments of this week and the commissions pertaining thereto escaped the bankers.

BRITISH trade returns for August, while satisfactory to the British eye as evidencing an improvement in the trade with foreign nations, are not satisfactory to the American eye in one very important particular which is very evident of the fact that we are being undersold in the Liverpool wheat market. During the first eight months of this year the imports of wheat into Great Britain increased about 20 per cent, the amount received from the United States increased less than 3 per cent, the difference being made up by larger contributions from Russia, the Argentine Republic, India and Australasia. In the month of August there was actually a considerable falling off in the receipts from the United States and Canada and the Argentines also, while Russia and India took the market. The comparisons here made are with corresponding times in 1894, but they might be carried farther back and only produce results unfavorable to our wheat growers. This is a matter that ought to obtain attention now and which will compel it later on. The magnitude of the speculation in Kaffirs is strongly brought out by some figures just published, showing the issued capitalization and recent market values of such of the shares only that permit some investigation into their character. Summarized and rounded these figures are: Dividend payers, capital $32,750,000; market value, $193,000,000. Non-dividend mines, capital $138,645,000; market value, $566,000,000. Land exploration, etc., companies, capital $79,000,000; market value, $317,855,000. Total issued capital, $250,405,000; total market value, $1,076,855. This quadrupling of values is not so striking as the enormous increase in the non-dividend or speculative shares, which accounts for the fears of a collapse entertained by the conservative elements in finance and the press. At the same time it may be remarked that the gold fields on which this mass of securities has been issued have made a record of producing over $4,000,000 of gold in one month. France having made money in these gold shares, the buying is now extending to Berlin and to Vienna. A sign of the improvement in the world's business appears in the form of reports from shipping centres of freer offerings of cargoes and the possibilities of better rates for space in the near future.

The Feud with the Building Department.

THE unfriendliness that has existed between the architects and the building trades of this city on one side and the Department of Buildings on the other ever since the present administration assumed control has reached a highly tenuous if not actually an explosive stage. Prevalent ill-feeling is so decidedly strong that probably there has not been at any time before so much hostility between a department of the municipal government and those citizens immediately concerned in its activities as we find to-day in the strained relations of the Building Department with architects and the building trades generally.

It is unnecessary to point out that a condition of affairs like this is not only deplorable but ridiculous. Conflict, indeed, may arise between the head of an admistrative department and the public, but that a difference should endure between them beyond a space of time sufficient for a clear statement of the points at issue and the formluation of public judgment is preposterous. For months the Building Department and our architects and builders have been at feud with one another and to-day the controversy has reached the crisis of rebellion—if it be true as many assert that buildings are in process of construction without a legal permit, the owners preferring to assume the great risks attending such indiscretion to the losses they would be forced to incur were they to await the required authorization.

The friction and discontent we are speaking of have not sprung up overnight nor are they the result of an isolated misunderstanding. They have existed almost from the very first day the present head of the Building Department took control. In the beginning THE RECORD AND GUIDE was urged to denounce certain alleged deficiencies in the new administration which were unhesitatingly regarded as evidence of inherent incompetence and of a certain bumptious disregard of public convenience. The new chief, it was said, had added to his well-defined duties the unnecessary task of school-mastering the architects and builders of the city—"getting them into line outside his office door," was the phrase. "If the Department isn't done with your plans you must wait 'till it is. Your reasonable necessities are nothing to us. Get outside the door and wait 'till you're called for"—this was supposed to represent the attitude of the new regime towards taxpayers who desired to have dealings with it. At this early stage THE RECORD AND GUIDE refused to join with the critics or meddle in any way in what promised to be a momentary agitation. In the first place, Mr. Constable had undoubtedly fallen heir to a chaotic arrearage of work, bequeathed by his predecessor, and, at the same time, he was placed in command of a defective and deficient organization. Fairness required that the public should be reasonably patient and we were ready to view much discontent, irritability and soreness as perhaps inevitable, but certainly misplaced under the circumstances. We were ready to believe (or suspend judgment until the contrary was evident) that within a short time Mr. Constable would succeed in straightening out the tangled affairs of his department, that every day would bring the public and himself into more satisfactory relationship, and that the rapprochment would naturally reduce to proper proportions any exaggerated estimate (if such really existed) in the head of an inexperienced official of the part which the chief of the Building Department occupies in the scheme of city government.

That was months ago. Unfortunately time has not removed public discontent and friction, even though it may be shown upon investigation that Mr. Constable has removed some of the early causes for complaint. Dissatisfaction is more general and clamant to-day than ever, and in all quarters there is extremely bitter feeling against the Department because—this is the principal complaint—its inexcusable tardiness in pronouncing upon plans submitted for its approval is causing great financial loss and annoyance to one of the greatest industries in the city, and because—this is a secondary charge—the Department is indifferent and contemptuous in the face of personal criticism from the sufferers. The saying is abroad that a builder now has no rights which the Building Department is inclined to respect.

We frankly confess it isn't easy to get at the "rights" of the trouble. The friction and dissatisfaction is evident enough, but even those who criticise loudest refuse to put their complaints into specific shape—for publication. They assert that they have trouble enough with a Department which, on numberless specious excuses, can harass and delay an obnoxious critic who happens to have a building operation in progress. It is even said, and Mr. Constable has hinted once at least in the same direction, that the Superintendent of Buildings is arming himself to retaliate upon his opponents with a certain "black list" which is to expose the naked hideousness (or something of the sort) of the building trades of New York City, and furnish the public with the true explanation of why a speedy (and perfunctory) examination of building plans is desired.

It is impossible for us to adjudicate upon the controversy. What must appeal to the common-sense of people is the preposterousness of anything approaching ill-feeling between right-minded citizens and a department of the city government. The Superintendent of Buildings can be neither boss nor schoolmaster. He is the servant of the people, who pay him to supervise the administration of certain laws. What constitutes a reasonable and sufficient period for the examination of building plans, all public necessities considered—the necessity of safety, the necessity of not unduly impeding individual enterprise—is not a difficult term to fix, and once properly fixed it is the duty of the Superintendent of Buildings either to bring the work of his department up to public requirements or confess his inability to do so. The architects and building trades of this city are surely qualified to determine what is a fair and reasonable period for the examination of plans, and instead of individually criticising the Superintendent of Buildings—not for publication—they should come together, formalize their views and present them in the proper quarters. The inspection of plans by the Department ought not to be an interminable job, nor should plans be read in the light of the building law as though the building law and the other co-operating regulations were divine ordinances as effective in the letter as in the spirit. The law itself specifically liberalizes its own provisions and states almost in so many words that its purpose is rather to set up a required standard of building than an invariable rule and an inflexible regulation of all details of construction. Interpreted (even too loosely at times) in this way it is greatly to the credit of the law and the builders of this city, that of so many hundreds and thousands of edifices erected since the Building Department was first instituted, so few have proved unsafe or resulted in the loss of life. The record is a splendid one and ought to have a controlling influence with any Superintendent of Building in the administration of a law which professes to be free, indicative and suggestive rather than fixed, positive and arbitrary, even though the Superintendent may be able to point to some minor violations in most buildings. We believe that there is scarcely a single edifice, if indeed there be one in this city, which conforms in all particulars strictly to the precise letter of the law. The most we can strive for is reasonably safe and sanitary structures. The purpose of the building law is to secure these, not to be a thorn in the flesh of builders or an opportunity for the exhibition of official stiffness. A tyrant or martinet, a species of American Pasha, is not the sort of official contemplated in Section 504.

On the other hand it must not be overlooked that it is intended that the building law shall be an effective document and enforced for the health and safety of the general public, whose discrimination of their abodes and working-places is scarcely finer than the New Englander's of deacons: "All deacons are good, but there are odd in deacons." Unfortunately honesty isn't a natural virtue of builders, some of whom, it must be admitted, acquire part of what stock they have of it—by mistake, and some by the wholesome regulation of the law. The hands of the superintendent should be strengthened in dealing with this class. Here the letter of the law can be pressed home—through to the other side. But this class is not a majority of the building trades and the architectural profession.

WESTSIDERS as they return from their vacations are pleased to see that during their absences the city has not been altogether unmindful of their wishes in the matter of the Boulevard. When they went away the fountain basin at the junction of the Boulevard and Columbus avenue contained any sort of rubbish the children of the nearby tenement district chose to deposit there. Lately this has been cleared away and the water turned on, so that the fountain is performing its proper function, even though in a somewhat spiritless way. The dead trees are still in view, and on the whole length of the Boulevard what should be grass plots are plots merely, a difference that is very great indeed from the æsthetic point of view. In fact, aside from the little change stated, the Boulevard is still a standing disgrace to the city from end to end. But this little measure of Croton revives hope that it may not always be so, that, indeed, it may not be so long. These drops of the pure element as they trickle from the spout of the fountain are no doubt intended to typify the tearful repentance of the corporation and to be a sign of its promise of amendment.

COPENHAGEN offers a suggestion to the world which was very much needed. It is a really ornamental, graceful and practical electric lamp-post. Twelve of these posts have been erected in the Kongen's Nytorv (King's New Market), the principal public square of the city. The design suggests somewhat a bishop's crook set in a suitable base. The lamp-post is cast hollow, the wires enter from the ground and leave the post at the neck of the crook to enter the lamp suspended from its point. The lamp is held in position by a weight resting on a spiral coil. It has a ring at the bottom by which it is drawn down when required by the workmen who carry a light pole terminated by a hook for the purpose. The wires can be carried into the lamp in any way desired, but the originators of this lamp-post consider that to reach it through the hollow post is the most practical. These few facts offer a valuable suggestion to our artists in iron, because any one who can furnish our streets with a lamp-post that shall not be an outrage to the eyesight ought to be received as a public benefactor.

The Trade and the Department of Buildings.

The more the relations between the building trade and the Department of Buildings is looked into, the more unsatisfactory they will be found to be. Not only is the dissatisfaction of architects and builders generally with their treatment by the Department very great, but also as a matter of fact there are many builders in a condition of mild revolt against it. There have been not a few instances where builders, sick and tired of waiting for the official approval of their plans, have gone ahead with their work without it, and this is likely to become the practice unless the Department finds some way of putting the plans through in reasonable time. It does not need to be remarked that this is a very unsatisfactory state of affairs. This is admitted by the builders who own to having begun work in advance of the Department's approval. They say, however, that while they would have preferred that all the formalities were observed, they could not afford to remain idle during the unconscionable time their plans were held awaiting examination in the Department. One of these builders went so far as to say, when asked why he did not make his objections to the way the Department is run known through the press: "Why should I put myself in open conflict with the Department when I am practically getting everything I want from it. I file my plans, then wait something more than a reasonable time for their approval. If I do not get it I go on with the work. When a violation is filed for proceeding without a permit, I write explaining the facts and hear nothing further of it. I take care that my work is properly done and in accordance with the law, and I would defy anybody to make me take it down." It is very improbable, though this is a matter upon which nothing is said, that this course has been taken by the trade without legal advice. The question looked at with lay-eyes, it would seem unlikely that a court would order the removal of a building constructed in entire accordance with the law, except in the sole item of obtaining a permit, if it can be shown that the time within which plans were filed and work begun was more than the Department ought to have consumed in forming its opinion as to whether the plans complied with the law. It has to be admitted, however, that the practice is full of danger to the builder, and destroys that respect for the Department that its present head announced himself on taking office as anxious to build up.

The foregoing statement may in some measure explain the fact that, while the dissatisfaction of architects and builders with the way things are run in the Department of Buildings is almost universal, very few, if any, will come out openly and speak their minds. Some who are brought into frequent contact with the Department say they fear that if they come out openly and make their complaints known they will be placed in a position of direct antagonism to the Department, and will as a consequence suffer personal inconvenience and pecuniary loss. Still there are some who do not hesitate to express their opinions.

Mr. Lambert S. Quackenbush contends that it ought not to take the Department longer to make their examination than it takes an architect to draw the plans. He relates a peculiar instance of the want of management in the Department. When his building on Park avenue, between 97th and 98th streets, was up to the third tier of beams a violation was filed upon it for the alleged cause that no permit for building had been issued. He stopped work, but the inspector came later and said a mistake had been made and that the permit had been issued but overlooked or mislaid. Mr. Quackenbush further expressed the opinion that the condition of things was such that it was interfering very seriously with the building business in the city. He and his friends had made up their minds that they would do nothing important until a change had been made. It had prevented Mr. Lambert Suydam from building on 79th street and West End avenue. Mr. Suydam, on being appealed to for confirmation of this fact, said: "Oh no, I am not going to build. It might take four years to get my plans through and then all the conditions would be altered." Mr. Quackenbush said, further, that this feeling on the part of capital would leave a great many men unemployed in the coming winter a matter about which he felt very sorry but for which he did not see any remedy.

Mr. Francis J. Schnugg, in answer to questions, said he had had recently very little to do with the Department, but when pressed for particulars of that little, admitted that he had put through three sets of plans since last spring, and it took from two to four months to get them through the Department. Whenever the latter made an objection the plans were at once altered by his staff, so that the delay was not on that account.

Mr. J. H. Valentine, who was one the of architects who went before the Mayor to support the Hamilton bill requiring the Superintendent of the Building Department to express by mail his approval or disapproval o iplans within ten days, said in hi opinion there was no improvement in the condition of the Department. He produced a postal card, dated the 19th inst., stating that the plumbing plans for a house on 108th street and 1st avenue were disapproved, and said that was all he had heard of three sets of such plans filed five weeks before.

Another architect, who has had a great deal to do with the Department, was also bitter in his complaints of his treatment. His chief objection was that it was very difficult to see the Superintendent. He said in one instance he had spent five days in obtaining a five minutes' interview which resulted in his getting what he asked for. He had not only to endure the annoyance of this but had to suffer also the reproaches of his clients for not getting their plans through, and sometimes the loss of their business. One set of plans for an apartment house were filed on July 24th and not approved until September 6th; there were no objections as to light and ventilation though some as to construction, but these were remedied as soon as made.

The rulings of the Department are said to be in many instances arbitrary. One instance given is in the insistance on a strict construction of section 478 of the Building Law as it relates to the percentage of openings allowed in bearing walls. The Department takes the 25 per cent of openings allowed in a horizontal section, which makes it practically impossible to plan an apartment house and make it conform to the rules of light and ventilation. In a 96-foot building it would only allow eight 3-foot windows, where eleven are usual, and, as some insist, necessary. The architects contend that this is a severe reading of the law, and that if the piers are sufficiently strong to carry the load nothing more ought to be asked for. It has been the custom for years to limit the requirements to the necessary strength and that custom has apparently worked no injury to anybody, but the Department, as now constituted, thinks the strict letter of the requirement should be insisted on. The law relating to the building of tenement houses expressly says that the floors of water-closets may be laid with asphalt, cement, tile, metal, or some other waterproof material; the Department has refused to allow cement to be used in this way and insisted upon tile. Where the law is so clear in the matter this seems an unjust exercise of the discretion given to the Superintendent to call for other materials than those specified.

It must not be supposed that the building trade has no intention of trying to remedy the troubles forced on it by the Department, or that even those members of it who are helping themselves in the way previously stated are not anxious that the necessity for this attitude of tacit disobedience to the law be removed. The questions involved in these things have been discussed by trade associations, and the next Legislature is to be asked to amend the law. Assemblyman Lawson is in favor of an entire revision of the building law, taking in as a matter of course a change in the management of the Department of Buildings and providing new regulations called for by the changes in the character of buildings and the methods of work. If there is some doubt of so comprehensive a bill being introduced there is none whatever that an amendatory measure will be presented to the Legislature and urged by all the influence the building trades can bring to bear. This will provide that the Superintendent of Buildings shall announce by mail his approval or disapproval of plans filed within a time to be hereafter fixed, but graded according to the character of the plans filed, and further such other provisions as shall be necessary to remove the objectionable features of the Tenement House Building Law passed last session.

The World, of this city, whose attention to the subject was aroused by the remarks made in THE RECORD AND GUIDE last week, has made an independent investigation. It said yesterday: "A World reporter interviewed a number of architects yesterday and each made the same complaint. All of the firms in the American Bible House said that Constable was proving a most expensive superintendent. Mr. Herter, of the firm of Schneider & Herter, said: 'Formerly he could submit plans to the office, make any amendments suggested, and get a permit within three weeks at the outside. Now it is a question of months. It is as difficult to see the superintendent as to see the President of the United States. Prominent architects, to whom time is money, are kept waiting for hours.' Adolph G. Bechlin, in the same building, said: 'The new superintendent neglects the important work of his department to investigate cases of alleged negligence under former administrations. Supt. Brady received people promptly and despatched business so that builders could go ahead. Mr. Constable requires the most absurd changes and amendments in plans—such as were never heard of under former administrations.'"

Even architects who have no complaint to make against the Department hold that its resources should be enlarged. Mr. Wm. J. Merritt, who is one of these, thinks its appropriation should be increased $70,000 a year, in order to make the Department as effective as it should be.

Mechanic's Lien.

Judge Pryor, in Common Pleas Chambers, sustained a demurrer to complaint in mechanic's lien based on a ground that has not previously been applied to this class of litigation. As stated by Mr. George Haas, the attorney for defendants, the case is as follows: In June, 1894, Barbig & Gmelin, sub-contractors, commenced action against Caspar Strobel for a part of a contract debt owing on a sub-contract with Strobel, who was the contractor for Mrs. Louisa E. Kick, the owner of the premises for which Strobel contracted to do certain work. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs. Prior to the commencement of the suit on the contract Barbig & Gmelin filed a mechanic's lien as sub-contractors of Strobel against the property of Mrs. Kick. Then subsequent to the procurement of judgment in their favor Barbig & Gmelin commenced action in the Court of Common Pleas to foreclose the mechanic's lien in which they made Caspar Strobel co-defendant with Mrs. Kick. The defendant, Strobel, demurred to the complaint on the ground that Barbig & Gmelin having commenced action at law on the contract debt and having obtained judgment, they were bound to pursue the remedy at law to the final end; that is to say, it was an indispensable condition for them to issue execution on the judgment and that execution would have to be returned wholly or partly unsatisfied, and that until they had exhausted all the means at law they could not apply for equitable relief by an action in foreclosure on the mechanic's lien. In support of the demurrer it was argued that section 8 of the Mechanic's Lien Law, chapter 342, 1885, provides that the manner and form of instituting and prosecuting actions for the foreclosure of mechanic's liens shall be the same as in actions for the foreclosure of mortgages upon real property. Under section 1630 of the Code of Civil Procedure it is provided that when a plaintiff has obtained judgment on a debt due him in an action at law he cannot commence action for the forrclosure of a mortgage on real property to secure that debt until he has issued execution on his judgment in his action at law and such execution has been returned wholly or partly unsatisfied.

Important Work Completed.

THE STREET MAPS OF THE 23D AND 24TH WARDS FINISHED WITHIN THE STATUTORY TIME.

The Engineering Department of the Commission of Improvement for the 23d and 24th Wards has completed a very important piece of work, perhaps as important as any that could be done for the development of the city above the Harlem, the want of which hitherto has set a limit upon its development and population until now, this is the making of the street maps which has just been completed by Mr. Louis A. Risse and his assistants. When it was sought to relieve the Park Department of the responsibility for the development of this district, after, it must be owned, it had displayed a complete inability to appreciate its needs, or the way in which they could be provided for, one of the arguments used was that, although that Department had been in control for seventeen years, there were no reliable and complete street maps. This fact prevented the placing of much property on the market and its subsequent and consequent opening up, because honest people would not care to sell, or timid ones to buy lots whose boundaries were from the nature of the case uncertain. It has happened, according to authoritative statements, that lots have been sold on lines which did not afterwards agree with those laid down on the city maps made by a proper scientific survey. It is easy to imagine what complications and troubles arose from such a state of things, because, no matter what the circumstances were under which the purchases were made, there was nothing for the city officials to do but put the lines through in accordance with their original plan and for the city to condemn any land required for street openings.

There is now, however, no reason why these difficulties should recur in the 23d and 24th Wards. The act under which the office of Commissioner of Street Improvements of the 23d and 24th Wards was created provided for the making of the street maps and specified that the work was to be completed in four years, which period expired on July 1st last, and within which the task was completed. That it was no small one may be gathered from the fact that it included the necessary survey and making of a map for each of the twenty-eight sections into which the 23d and 24th Wards were divided for the purposes of this work, and an index and title page for all. Three copies are to be made and filed for the use of the public, one each in the Register's office, in the office of the Secretary of State and in the office of the Commissioner of Street Improvements of the 23d and 24th Wards. These copies are required to be filed by Jan. 1st next, and the gentleman having the conduct of the work is confident that it will be done on time. It is further the intention to have the maps printed in single sheets or in atlas form by the city so that everyone who wants to can get copies by paying for them at about the cost of production; this is now estimated at 50 cents per sheet, or $15 for he twenty-eight maps, index and title page. It will be necessary to ask the Board of Apportionment for an appropriation for the printing, but it is presumed that, seeing the value of the work to the public and the additional advantage of publishing with the official guarantee as to absolute correctness, there will be no difficulty in obtaining this. The maps not only show the new lay-out of the streets, but also the angles of the blocks, the new grades and the contour lines or the topographical features. There is also being prepared a map on a smaller scale which will show the general lay-out of the whole district on one sheet.

Speaking of this work and the evils that have existed for want of the maps, Mr. Louis A. Risse said, recently: "We have known cases where properties have been laid out and certain dimensions given, but when the officers of the Department went to locate them on the ground by actual measurement they have been found to be out of line a number of feet. This was especially the case in years gone by when people used to lay out property and had nothing to go by except their own wishes or a stone wall perhaps. One could very easily make a difference in a foot in an old stone wall, and as one man built after another they increased the error. There were a good many of these inaccuracies in the Melrose district. The old maps, too, were very defective. For instance, Andrew Findlay's map shows all the streets at right angles with Courtlandt avenue, whereas as a matter of fact when measured on the ground they are not, and even if we were to make the right angle as shown on Findlay's map we would strike on the Boulevard. No doubt the intention was to have all right angles, but in the time when that map was made they had not the instruments and were not as careful in turning angles as we are now. Another thing accountable for these discrepancies is the way houses have been put up without having their lines established by regular surveys. We have straightened out the old lines and our maps are absolutely correct. Of recent years most of the sale-maps have been taken from the maps in this Department, and with few exceptions have generally been correct. Previous to having this system each one made his plans and surveys according to his own judgment. Now, no one ought to buy a piece of property or build without coming to this Department for information as to the lay-out of the land. People are getting educated up to this. It is very probable that within the last two years every transaction that took place was on information given by this Department."

The number of streets legally opened in the 23d and 24th Wards since 1874, the year of the annexation, is 228, but the number of condemnation proceedings now pending is 221, and of these all but four cases were commenced since 1891, when the preparation of the maps began, and were initiated by proceedings from the property-owners. These 221 proceedings affect about 150 miles of streets. These figures show very conclusively the influence that the comprehensive and scientific mapping out of the district has had on its development. It is probably very safe to say that the delay in the making of the maps cost the district from 20,000 to 25,000 of population. Concurrently with the making of these maps there has gone on another very important work; this is the building of the great trunk sewers. The plans for sewering the district included eleven of these sewers and all but two have been built or are under construction now. It is expected that in the early part of next year the sewerage of the whole district, except one portion that now finds adequate relief into the Hudson River and will not require any further work for some years to come, will be completed so far as the main ines of sewerage are concerned.

The Park Board.

The names of Col. S. V. R. Cruger and Mr. Samuel McMillan have been presented to the Mayor as those of gentlemen who would make excellent Park Commissioners. Mr. Cyrus Clark has also again been urged for the presidency of the Park Board. The appointment of these gentlemen would be hailed with great satisfaction by all real estate interests and, what is perhaps more to the purpose, it would insure an efficient and public-spirited commission. In their persons the north and west sides, as well as the older portions of the city, would be represented on the board, and the gentlemen themselves have the experience necessary to know what the city needs from the Park Commission and the ability to supply it.

Iron Work in the Ireland Building.

The Society of Architectural Iron Manufacturers held a special meeting on Monday last, the 23d inst., to hear a report from a special committee, and to take suitable action upon the question of iron-work in the Ireland Building. The following minute was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, Reflections have been made upon the use of cast iron-work for building construction by the newspapers of this city and by public officials, subsequent to the Ireland Building disaster, therefore the Society of Architectural Iron Manufacturers, after having carefully examined into the cause of the said disaster, hereby declare that the iron-work in the said building was in no way answerable for the disaster, and further, that the said accident has demonstrated the fact that the cast iron columns not only sustained the vertical weight for which they were intended, but also the severe and unusual shock and bending strains to which they were subjected during the collapse, and that columns of cast iron, instead of being the subject of condemnation, deserve praise and greater use than ever."

The Collapse on West Broadway.

In connection with the accident at the Ireland Building, on the northwest corner of 3d street and West Broadway, the Grand Jury has found indictments against: Dennis E. Buckley, inspector for the Department of Buildings; Charles R. Behrens, the architect; Edward J. Youdale, his clerk, but paid by the owner; George H. Parker, the contractor; Thomas Walker, contractor's superintendent and Thomas Murray, contractor's foreman mason at the time defective foundations were made. The complaints against Joseph Guider, plasterer, and Jeffards E. Silleck, mason foreman in succession to Murray, were dismissed.

Park Avenue.

The Park Avenue Property Owners' Protective Association has selected Messrs. Tuttle & Bushby, attorneys, to conduct their opposition to the building of an overhead railroad on Park avenue by the Rapid Transit Commissioners now contemplated by the plans. The Association has received a letter from the New York Central Railroad Company stating that the final color to be put upon that company's viaduct would be light. They have also received a communication from Commissioner Brookfield stating in relation to paving that the construction company will pave on both sides of the structure from 98th street to 115th street, and after properly filling in and regrading the cut the city will pave from 115th street to Harlem River. He did not state, however, the kind of pavment to be used, and another letter was directed to him requesting this information. The letters received were replies to communications written by Mr. Wm. A. Soles in the interest of the Association.

The Latest Annexation.

The Court of Appeals has maintained the legality of the annexation to the 24th Ward by the last Legislature of a large slice of Westchester County which is described in the act of annexation as: "All that territory comprised within the limits of the towns of Westchester, Eastchester and Pelham, which has not been annexed to the City and County of New York at the time of the passage of this act, which lies southerly of a straight line drawn from the point where the northerly line of the City of New York meets the centre line of the Bronx River to the middle of the channel between Hunter's and Glen Islands in Long Island Sound, and all the territory lying within the incorporated village of Wakefield, which lies northerly of said line."

The Derrickmen's Strike.

A board of arbitration has been appointed to arrange the derrickmen's strike, and Bishop Potter has been asked to act in an advisory capacity for both sides. The strikers have meanwhile agreed to go back to work at the old rates until the question is settled.

Rapid Transit.

The Rapid Transit Commission held their first meeting since June 18th on Tuesday last. The Chief Engineer presented a report on the surveys made by his department in the interim, consisting of ten volumes of details and about 300 maps. Every building on Broadway, from Battery to 59th street, and on 4th avenue, from 14th street to 33d street, had been examined. Nine of the ten volumes were devoted to details of every building and vault within these limits. In addition the maps show every pipe-line, sewer and gas main in the entire length of Broadway. Plans for the stations have also been prepared. The maps for the East Side are not yet completed.

Correspondence.

THE DEPARTMENT OF BUILDINGS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Your article in the last issue of THE RECORD relative to the new administration of the Department of Buildings shows that you have now as you always had the interest of the building trade at heart, and if you can bring about some reform in this reform (?) department the architects and builders of New York will gratefully remember the favor.

Ask the majority of architects and builders what they think of the Department and I feel sure the answer will be that it is worse now than it ever was from the days of McGregor up.

But how can it be otherwise while the examination and approval of plans rests entirely with a young man without really much practical experience?

It was not so in former days.

Large buildings of which the young man evidently knows very little are allowed to go ahead and the plans are approved within a reasonable time, but it takes weeks and even months before a common every-day building or a small alteration can pass, and in the meantime the work is stopped and the owner and taxpayer is the sufferer.

To illustrate, I will mention some instances.

One day an architect filed plans for an eight-story building and another filed a plan for a small alteration to a small three-story house. The large plan was approved within two weeks, but the one who filed the plan for the small alteration had to visit the department two or three times a week for a month or more, before his application was approved.

The most silly and childish objections are raised, evidently to give the young man an opportunity to exhibit his wisdom.

An architect filed a plan for a simple alteration to a frame house and it hung fire because the house line of the street had not been shown. It took a month to settle that important point.

Another filed an application for an open lumber shed for temporary use, and that important plan was examined about a month before approval.

And, best of all, an application was filed to repair the roof of a shed at an expense of $10. Now, in old times, if an architect had filed an application for such a job it would have been thrown in the waste basket, but with this Department it was looked upon as very important and the application was rejected because the architect had neglected to mention who was to superintend the job.

I could relate one hundred instances like that of boyishness and silliness, of partiality and stupidity, but it would take up too much space.

Give us another Esterbrook and less red tape and the building interest will not be retarded as it is now.

During Esterbrook's time if there appeared any fatal error in a plan the architect was sent for and instructed to correct the error; he did not have to fill sheet after sheet of paper with nonsensical amendments, and if the error did not amount to much the application was indorsed "Approved, provided so and so is done."

There was common sense! It saved time and money for builders and owners and also for the city.

You could see Esterbrook at any time, but it is easier to interview the Emperor of China than Mr. Constable or his young deputy.

Should any one assert his right and say anything which might not sound flattering to the powers he might as well shut up shop or he will be boycotted, and so would I if I signed this hastily-written letter. AN OLD FORMER SUBSCRIBER.

NEW YORK, September 24, 1895.

Employers' and Builders' League.

The master builders who are members of the Employers' and Builders' League are urgently requested by the league officers to attend a special meeting, at the club-house, next Tuesday evening, October 1st, to discuss matters of great importance to them.

The Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards Concourse.

The Commission of Assessment and Estimate appointed in the matter of the Concourse for the 23d and 24th Wards, composed of Messrs. James A. Blanchard, John H. Knoeppel and John C. De La Vergne, held its first meeting this week. It will meet at 10 A. M. of every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week hereafter at No. 51 Chambers street. The following rules have been drawn up for the guidance of property-owners and others:

(1) Formal claims must be filed before the testimony on behalf of claimants is offered.

(2) All testimony as to title to particular parcels of land must be presented together, and claimants are required to identify the parcels as to which they offer proof of title upon the damage map, and to refer to them in their claims by the damage map number.

(3) Certificates of title guarantee companies, accompanied by a sufficient affidavit, executed by the claimant in person, will be accepted as prima facie evidence of title unless in a proper case the Commissioners require further evidence and except where there is a question with regard to easements of the right of way.

(4) The clerk of the commission will make up a calendar and, except where special permission has been obtained for a postponement, claimants must be ready to proceed when their parcel of property is called, and the clerk will post in the office of the Commissioner each day before 3 P. M. a calendar of the next day's business. General information as to the time when parcels are likely to be reached can be obtained from the clerk at any time.

(5) Evidence as to the title will be taken Wednesdays and Thursdays.

(6) Claimants' experts as to value will be heard by the board every Tuesday and the city's expert from time to time on Fridays.

(7) Where valuable papers which have been recorded have been put in evidence, the clerk is authorized to surrender them to claimants upon the delivery to him of certified copies thereof.

Fees of Commissioners in Condemnation Proceedings.

Judge Beekman, in Supreme Court Chambers, has refused to grant the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment for the opening of Longwood avenue, from Southern Boulevard to Tiffany street, any addition to the statutory compensation, which amounted to $552. Each of the three asked for $552 more, and while their application was opposed by some property-owners, there were some who supported it and agreed that it should be assessed entirely upon them. Judge Beekman said that if the practice were allowed in one case it would be followed in others, and property would be continually under pressure in street-opening proceedings to consent to extra pay in order to get fair treatment from the commissioners. He held, "in the case of commissioners in street-opening proceedings such agreements are not authorized, and while it may be said that the only persons affected are those who so consent, the practice which the court is now asked to sanction is fraught with so much mischief that it should not receive approval."

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I desire, as a subscriber for a number of years, to have your law editor have the full facts in regard to a decision rendered in your last issue where the full facts were not related. A broker closing or consummating the sale is generally entitled to the commission, but the case in question is as follows: A B and C D are joint co-partners as brokers in the sale of a certain house. A B, after much difficulty, locates the owner, who lives abroad, and confers with his attorney-in-fact, while the said attorney-in-fact claimed from the time he was located he had a power to sell. The real owner came from abroad and visited A B at his office, and he was informed as to who was the purchaser. His price was $16,000, which the client of A B and C D would not pay, and offered $12,500, which was refused, but by some hook or crook an agent who had been collecting rents for a number of years for the owner learned who the customer of A B and C D was and that he was about to purchase the property, went to him, and he, thinking it was all right if he notified A B and C D he was going to purchase A B and C D would receive the commission, discussed the deal, but it fell through and the property was not sold. A B, through C D, found another customer in the person of the brother-in-law of C D, who met the owner of said property, and met him at their office, when he placed $500 down to show his good faith to purchase at $13,000, which was refused, although the matter was left open for a few days and the owner was to call on a Friday, but failed to do so and went abroad on the Saturday following. The property had been advertised at $16,000 and no one sought to purchase. The owner having gone abroad A B sought his attorney-in-fact and told him he could close sale at $12,750 and asked him to come to New York and close the deal. A B's partner in the transaction, C D, took upon himself as brother-in-law of the purchaser and representing himself and A B to be one and the same person, secured a contract for the final sale of said property and now refuses to share the commission with A B, who worked for four months to locate the owner and his attorney-in-fact, and can you say he is entitled to the whole commission, and his associate who did the whole work should receive no compensation? The agent who collected the rent and pretends to have introduced the parties, which he never did, put in claim for the commission. I say A B is entitled to one-half of the commission and C D entitled to the same. It was a slick trick of cheating the broker who did four months' work out of his share of the commission. Kindly weigh the matter up and see the trick. I shall be pleased to learn your opinion on the fuller facts in your next issue. The main trouble is, people tell the story in their own way on the side that proves best to their own individual interest. I simply rest for a fair, square opinion in the above matter, and I feel you will agree with me that where two brokers are identified as one neither can steal a march on the hard work of the other broker. All correspondence in connection with the above matter has been with and is in the possession of A B, to whom it was addressed.

Answer.—Upon the facts as you state them, A B and C D jointly are entitled to the commission.—LAW EDITOR.

LIMIT OF HEIGHT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

How high may a fire-proof flat or an apartment house be built in a narrow street and how high in a wide street? A SUBSCRIBER.

Answer.—Not to exceed 70 feet in height upon all streets and avenues not exceeding 60 feet in width, and not to exceed 80 feet in height upon all streets and avenues exceeding 60 feet in width. The law which limits the height of houses intended to be used as dwellings for more than one family makes no distinction between fire-proof and non-fire-proof construction.

Real Estate Market.

That the brokers have had a fairly good week is indicated by our reports of transactions closed, involving an aggregate investment of about $2,300,000. The dual sale negotiated by Hoffman Bros., for considerations of over a million dollars, has added largely to the the week's total and were details obtainable of one or more other important sales that are known to have been made, the summarized statement would present much more satisfactory evidence than it does that the fall business has been gotten well under way.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1894 and 1895.

The adjourning indefinitely of the executors' sale of the Bathgate estate lots in the 24th Ward, which Peter F. Meyer & Co. had expected to hold on Thursday was a great disappointment for the general public, as well as the followers of the auction market. It was, however, unavoidable, owing to the filing of a lis pendens which it is expected, in the event of a trial, will be shown to have no actual legal standing. On Monday J. L. Wells withdrew from foreclosure sale No. 136 West 32d street, and on the following day Bryan L. Kennelly adjourned until October 7th the similarly announced sale of No. 71 East 116th street. On Wednesday the same auctioneer withdrew on a bid of $14,325, the voluntary offering of No. 220 West 105th street. On Thursday Smyth & Ryan postponed until October 10th sales of No. 330 East 30th street and No. 735 Forest avenue. Peter F. Meyer adjourned sine die the sale of both No. 234 East 96th street and No. 1881 2d avenue. Yesterday a similar adjournment was announced by William Kennelly of No. 160 West 126th street.

A sale on Thursday that caused a great deal of comment was the one in partition, by William Kennelly, of Nos. 35 Bowery and 34 Bayard street, two connecting buildings. On June 19th, Mr. Kennelly sold the property under the same decree of Court to Alfred Blum, for $86,000, after an exciting competition for its possession. Owing to a misstatement then made regarding a lease the sale was set aside in the Supreme Court and another one advertised with the result that the property was knocked down on Thursday for $66,100. The first price, while unquestionably excessive, was not $20,000 above the actual value at that time, but circumstances have since caused a great deterioration, inasmuch as the well-rented saloon on Bayard street has fallen into disfavor and been closed by the authorities, and the tenants in the Bowery store have decided to remove to another building next month.

Peter F. Meyer & Co. will sell on Tuesday, October 8th, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, a number of desirable parcels, owned by the estate of George G. Sickles, deceased. The sale will be held in accordance with a Supreme Court decree, in partition, under the direction of Robert L. Wensley, referee. The two most valuable of the properties are Nassau street parcels: No. 79, known as the Kent building, a five-story and basement store and office structure, between Fulton and John streets, and the five-story "Excelsior Building," No. 111, running through to Theatre alley. They alone should insure a large attendance at the sale, and as the list of additional offerings embraces an unusual assortment of realty, suitable for investors of every class, it is safe to say that the capacity of the Broadway Salesroom will be tested on the appointed day as it has seldom been before. We can only briefly enumerate the contents of the auction catalogue, in which the following, in addition to those mentioned above, are outlined as offerings: No. 151 Mercer street; Nos. 34 and 404 6th avenue; No. 124 Washington place, running through and including No. 181 West 4th street; No. 34 Gansevoort street; No. 741 Greenwich street; No. 228 West 13th street; No. 105 Greenwich avenue; No. 9 Hubert street, corner of Collister; No. 147 Waverley place; No. 6 Beekman place; a vacant lot on 116th street, 200 feet east of Amsterdam avenue; and the leasehold premises No. 55 King street. For book-maps, terms and any information desired, application should be made at the office of the auctioneers, No. 111 Broadway; Hays & Greenbaum, No. 170 Broadway; Murphy, Lloyd & Boyd, No. 111 Broadway; or Fred. S. Wait, No. 10 Wall street.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Horace S. Ely & Co. have sold, conjointly with L. Tanenbaum, the four-story stone front store and loft building, 23.6x100.4, No. 494 Broadway, adjoining the northeast corner of Broome street, for Edward Schoolherr to a client of the former firm for investment. The buyer may prove to be Matthew Wilks, who purchased in the spring the adjoining Broome street corner through Horace S. Ely & Co.

Frederick Southack & Co. have sold for Mayer Kahn to Henry Corn the old six-story brick store and office building, 25x95.4 and 95.3, No. 834 Broadway, east side, between 12th and 13th streets, at a figure which is said to be about $110,000. Mr. Kahn bought the property from George Munro last spring and took title in June for a nominal consideration.

Hoffman Brothers have sold for Jacob Rothschild to Alfred Duane Pell, Nos. 622, 624 and 626 Broadway, running through and including Nos. 156, 158 and 160 Crosby steeet, between Houston and Bleecker streets, with a six-story brick store and loft building, for about $800,000. The plot is 75.1 on Broadway, 69.11 on Crosby street, and has an average depth of about 195 feet. There are no vacancies in the building, which is rented for over $58,000. This is one of the largest parcels that has been sold recently on Broadway, and contains over 14,000 square feet. The building was constructed in 1884, and is supplied with every modern improvement. The four-story stone front residence of Mr. Pell, No. 438 5th avenue, with lot 26x100, on the southwest corner of 39th street, will be taken as part payment by Mr. Rothschild, at a valuation of $275,000. The dwelling was bought by George W. Pell from P. T. Barnum in 1874 for $110,000.

Geo. R. Read has sold for William B. Dana the four-story dwelling, 25x65x100, No. 44 5th avenue, between 10th and 11th streets, to Capt. Charles F. Roe, of Troop A, for $72,000. De Blois & Hunter were the associate brokers in the transaction. The house was bought by Mr. Dana for $60,000 in March, 1893.

D. Kempner & Son have sold for William Stubenbord the four-story building with stores, plot 30x100, Nos 760 and 762 8th avenue, between 46th and 47th streets, to A. Miller, at a price approaching $40,000.

Julius Friend has sold for Simon Herman and Max Danziger the five-story iron front building, No. 28 Howard street, northwest corner of Crosby street, with lot 25 and 24.3x87.1, to Mrs. Elizabeth Chesebro. The sellers bought the property at partition sale on March 27, 1894, for $57,200.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

John J. Kavanagh has sold for Isidor Kaufman the four-story dwelling, with lot 22x102.2, No. 64 East 80th street, to a Mrs. Bunzel.

Francis Crawford has sold the four-story stone front dwelling, about 20x60, and extension x100.8, No. 49 West 89th street. Jacob Bauman, of the firm of J. & S. Bauman, furniture dealers, is said to be the buyer at about $34,000. Three similar houses on the opposite side of the street have been sold under foreclosure in the past two weeks at an average of $31,427.

Louis S. Lotsch has sold for Builder August Jacob the new five-story brick double tenement, with lot 25x100.8, on the north side of 90th street, 175 feet east of 2d avenue, to John Rexsinger, for $21,600.

Layton & Rogers have sold for John Jefferson four lots on the south side of 138th street, 275 feet west of the Boulevard, to Richard H. Clark, at $16,000, for improvement.

D. H. Scully has sold for Dr. Fuchsius the five-story flat, 37x92x100.11, No. 14 East 120th street, to Abraham Krone, for about $52,000, a consideration represented in part by the dwelling No. 236 Garfield place, Brooklyn, to be taken in exchange, at a valuation of $18,000.

H. H. Bliss has sold for Builder William Broadbelt the four-story 20-foot dwelling, No. 763 St. Nicholas avenue, south of 149th street, to Louis G. Meyer for $30,000. This sale leaves only two houses remaining in a new row of ten covering the block front.

Bernard Havanagh has bought the plot, 100x99.11, on the north side of 183d street, 100 feet east of the Boulevard, adjoining the corner, 75x100, reported sold to him last week.

The omission of the figure one caused us to say last week that 75x100 feet on the northeast corner of the Boulevard and 83d street had been sold by D. Stewart to Mr. Havanagh for $14,000. The plot, as the price indicated, should have been described as the northeast corner of the Boulevard and 183d street.

We learn that Builder John Ruddell has purchased from Robert Blackburn for improvement, a plot of five lots on the north side of 147th street, 175 feet west of St. Nicholas avenue. The brokers, it is said, were Hall J How & Co.

David Stewart has sold for Paul Halpin to David McDonald, a lot on the east side of the Boulevard, between 137th and 138th streets, having a frontage of 25 feet and running through to Hamilton place.

Ribeth & Trattner have sold for Andrew Pfeiffer the two five-story brick double flats, plot 50x100.11, Nos. 14 and 16 East 114th street, at about $53,000, to F. Eife, who will give in exchange, at a valuation of about $35,000, the five-story stone front flat, lot 25x98.9, No. 249 West 26th street. The same brokers have sold for John C. Scheuerer the lot and five-story brick tenement, No. 405 East 74th street, to Gustav Liebermann, for about $21,000.

Edward C. Prescott has sold for Weil & Mayer the three-story stone front dwelling, lot 16.8x100.11, No. 240 West 123d street, to Charles W. Dollinger.

Bennett & Graff have sold for Henry E. Woodward the three-story stone front dwelling, 18x56x102.2, No. 318 West 71st street, to B. Levison, for about $26,000.

W. H. & R. Jacob have sold the plot, 100x100.11, on the north side of 119th street, 225 feet west of Lenox avenue, to Donald Mitchell.

Slawson & Hobbs have sold for Mrs. Caroline Levy the four-story dwelling, 20.10x60x102.2, No. 160 West 76th street; also for Builder William E. Lanchantin the four and a-half-story American basement dwelling, 15x60x100, No. 569 West End avenue, for about $25,000. The same owner has also, it is said, disposed of the similar house No. 573 West End avenue.

E. H. Ludlow & Co. have sold for Builder H. Ives Smith the last of his row of three four-and-a-half-story dwellings on 87th street, between Central Park West and Columbus avenue. It is No. 66 West, 16x60x100.8, purchased by George Rhodes for about $29,000.

Andrew J. Kerwin & Son have sold the new five-story brick flat, 34.6x90x100.11, No. 4 West 103d street, to a Mrs. Larkin, at a figure not much under $50,000.

Hagan & Campbell have sold for Myer Hellman the five-story stone front tenement with store, lot 20x100, No. 1830 3d avenue, west side, 20.11 north of 101st street, to Deborah Corr, for about $20,000.

George Crawford has sold, for $150,000, to J. W. Horner, the present lessee, the southeast corner of Amsterdam avenue and 73d street, a plot 102.2x119.2, with three-story brick store and livery stable and two-story brick carriage house, all fronting on the avenue, and a four-story stone front dwelling, No. 170 West 73d street, occupying the rear lot, 19.2x102.2.

What looks to be a new wrinkle is disclosed by a conveyance and mortgage recorded a day or two ago. The consideration given in a deed from John Casey to Valentine Gumprecht, of the plot 102.2x100, and five-story flats, at Columbus avenue and 84th street, is expressed at $160,000, whereas everybody in the real estate world knows that the actual price paid was a sum very much larger. The explanation is that the mortgagees, the United States Trust Co., by whom $160,000 was loaned at 4½ per cent, on the property require in the case of every loan advanced by them on the same date that a purchase is consummated that the deed shall express a consideration not less than the sum advanced. The rule of the Trust Company would be liable to work much mischief in the event of their making many loans on property when the principals are not disposed to make public the terms of a transaction.

NORTH SIDE.

Edward Baer has purchased from the Dutchess Land Co. for $80,000 the Benson estate property, comprising thirty-one acres at Throgg's Neck, adjoining the former Village of Westchester.

J. Clarence Davies has sold for Gustav Braaz the two-story frame dwelling, No. 194 Beach avenue, 25x105, to J. Koen, for $6,000; also for William Miller, the three-story dwelling, No. 510 East 161st street, 65x125, on the south side of 161st street, 100 feet east of Morris avenue, for $14,000, to Thomas H. Bell, who will give in exchange the three-story frame dwelling, No. 681 East 145th street, and the two-story brick dwelling, 18.9x100, No. 1037 Jackson avenue, north of 153d street.

W. F. & C. H. Smith have sold for Caroline A. Blair a house and lot, 25x100, on the north side of Elsmere place, 425 feet west of Marmion avenue, to Jules Glorieux for $4,400.

LEASES.

Samuel J. Morrison has leased No. 137 Bowery, to S. Solomon, for ten years, at the yearly rent of $3,000.

Josiah S. Lindsay has leased, through Frederick Southack & Co., three floors of his new building in course of construction at No. 103 5th avenue, to a prominent Broadway publishing house.

WOULD YOU?

Pay postage on seven letters daily, or
Pay three car-fares for your office boy,

if that expenditure would procure for you early, reliable and complete information of (1) a large majority of the plans under way in the architects' offices of New York City, Brooklyn and fifteen miles around; (2) the names and addresses of the owners; (3) a list of the materials that enter into the buildings; (4) the dates when the several contracts will be let; (5) the names and addresses of all the firms who secure contracts.

OF COURSE

Your seven letters or the office boy couldn't get this information for you; but you wouldn't hesitate a moment to pay out the postage-stamps and the car-fare if either really could do the work for you. You need this news. It means the sale of your goods. You have to seek your customers — the men who are doing the building.

NOW, WE WILL

and we can, because we have the organization in operation, do for you what the seven letters and the three fares can't possibly do for you. Give us — and we will furnish you with the information outlined above. We guarantee it. Our thirty years' record is behind that guarantee. We want to talk with you. We want to show you what we are doing. The purpose of this announcement is to induce you to take the first step in a matter which will surely be to our mutual advantage — viz, send a postal card making an appointment for our representative to call upon you, or call yourself to see us. We desire to put the facts before you. As a business man you ought to know them.

THE SEVEN POSTAGE-STAMPS

OR

THE THREE CAR-FARES

Fence and Offence.

Judge Barrett has had to repeat the demonstration so often made of an owner's absolute rights on his own premises. Mr. Abraham Wolf applied to him for an injunction to restrain Mrs. Julia A. Groh from erecting an iron fence 25 feet high in the backyard of her premises, No 49 West 91st street, which, it is claimed, would shut out the light from an extension with a bay window built in complainant's yard. Judge Barrett held that the fence was no more a violation of the statutes than the complainant's extension, and refused the injunction. It was announced that the General Term will be asked to review this ruling.

Obituary.

Hugh N. Camp, to whose enterprise and aggressiveness the North Side owes much of its rapid development, died suddenly on Saturday, at Fairlawn, his residence, on Morris Heights. He was sixty-seven years of age. Mr. Camp was born in New Jersey, and two months later was brought to New York by his parents, who thereafter made this city their home. He first became interested in the real estate business in 1871 and it was not long before he attained prominence both as a broker and auctioneer. His specialty was trans-Harlem property, in which he eventually became largely interested and after making improvements would sell in suitable tracts under the hammer. He has ever since been recognized as one of the foremost citizens of North New York, always alive to and watchful of its growth and ever ready to give his time and services for its benefit. Mr. Camp was a member of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce and many local clubs. He is survived by a widow, two daughters and four sons, of whom Frederick E. and Hugh N., Jr., were associated with him in the conduct of his recent business enterprises.

The Production of Building Stone.

The United States Geological Survey has just issued a pamphlet extract of its annual report, entitled "The Stone Industry in 1894," from which it appears that the values of the different kinds of stone produced last year in the United States set in comparison with similar figures for the preceding year were:

Stones.	1894.	1893.	Increases.	Decreases.
Granite	$10,029,156	$8,808,934	$1,220,222	....
Marble	3,199,585	2,411,092	788,493	....
Slate	2,790,324	2,523,173	267,151	....
Sandstone	3,945,847	5,195,151	....	$1,249,304
Limestone	16,512,904	13,947,223	2,565,681	....
Bluestone	900,000	1,000,000	....	100,000
Total	$37,377,816	$33,885,573	$3,492,243	....

Among other interesting matter the pamphlet contains a note by H. Foster Bain on Iowa building stone, which states: "Within the year considerable attention has been attracted to the 'marble' beds along the Cedar and Iowa rivers. Extensive exposures near Iowa Falls are reported, and arrangements are being made to open them up. The Charles City beds, which are the only ones at present supplying stone to the market, belong to the Devonian, and represent the portion which has usually been called the Hamilton. The rock is a coralline limestone, and occurs in layers 8 to 30 inches thick, with a total thickness, so far as known, of about 20 feet. It is a trifle harder than Italian marble, and is reasonably free from the checks and seams so common in colored marbles. There is a great variety of colors displayed, the groundwork being mostly buff, gray, blue, or drab. Inlaid in this are masses of coral, from 1 to 20 inches in diameter, exhibiting very delicate coloring and tracing. A mantel made of this material received honorable mention at the Columbian Exposition. The stone has been on the market for several years. The quarries and mills have recently passed into other hands, and the business will be enlarged. Samples of the stone found near Iowa Falls show it to be similar to that at Charles City."

Concerning Real Estate Brokers and Agents.

William M. Ryan, the liquidating member of the late firm of Smyth & Ryan, has been selected as auctioneer of five sales to take place in October. Three of them will be under the direction of executors, the fourth will be the outcome of a friendly partition agreement between heirs, and the other will be by order of an assignee. Mr. Ryan has not infrequently in the last ten years filled the role of auctioneer and his experience as such should not only stand him in good stead, but prove as well a magnet for the attraction of future business. During the existence of his recently-dissolved partnership with Mr. Smyth he assumed charge of the outside business and is credited with having negotiated unaided his full quota of the more important of the sales closed by the firm at private contract and securing for it control of many of the larger auction sales that contributed to the making of its reputation. Previous to entering into business in June, 1885, with his former associate as auctioneer and broker, he was a factor of consequence in the office of Richard V. Harnett.

Messrs. Ruland and Whiting, of Temple Court, No. 5 Beekman street, have been transacting a general real estate agency and brokerage business for over a quarter of a century. The partners, who are still active workers, continue the same, and the location is unchanged except that a new office building—of which the firm have charge—has been erected on the site where Ruland & Whiting commenced business. Their specialty is the appraisal, sale, rental, and care of down-town property, and their success has been very great.

The firm of F. Koch & Co. have long been identified with the sale of Washington Heights property, and their office on Amsterdam avenue, between 148th and 149th streets, is known as the Washington Heights Real Estate Exchange, owing to its being frequented by builders, realty owners and investors who realize that Koch & Co. have for sale all the desirable properties, improved and unimproved, on Washington Heights, and are in close touch with the principals controlling same. The firm also make a specialty of acreage in Westchester County.

Broker Butler Davenport, of No. 501 5th avenue, corner of 42d street, makes a specialty of the sale and rental of property in the district bounded by Madison square and Central Park, Lexington and 7th avenues. He reports a good demand for realty and says prices for 42d street property are steadily advancing.

Rinaldo & Co., of 167 East 72d street, near 3d avenue (comprising David M. Rinaldo and Julius Stich), real estate and insurance brokers, are making a specialty of handling property in the immediate vicinity of their office, and as both parties give their personal attention to all details of the business clients find their rents promptly collected and turned over. The firm's references and standing are of the best character, and owners are accommodated with advances if required. Messrs. Rinaldo & Co. have a number of desirable parcels for sale, which they will submit to intending buyers.

Trade Notes.

A NEW PATENT LIGHT DOOR.

Owing to the demands of a constantly increasing business the Towle Vault Light Co. of No. 169 Elm street, this city, has opened a thoroughly equipped factory at No. 481 Driggs avenue, corner of North 10th street, Brooklyn. A complete modern plant will allow all orders to be promptly filled. Mr. Towle has recently patented a new Patent Light Door, which is lighter and cheaper than the old style while just as strong and containing the same number of lights.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

On the 21st inst. a judgment was docketed against Messrs. Sloane & Moller in favor of J. V. Schaefer et al. The claim arose on a lien filed by said Schaefer against L. & E. Weber, which they bonded, the said Sloane & Moller becoming sureties. When the action was brought on the lien and the bond Messrs. Weber were to protect Sloane & Moller, but it appears that they allowed judgment to be taken by default. Messrs. Sloane & Moller have paid the judgment and the satisfaction therefor was filed to-day We send this for publication so as to obviate the continued personal explanations.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, SEPTEMBER 28, 1895.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

CONSOLIDATION IN THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

Brooklyn apparently until recently regarded consolidation as a question for the politicians to settle. Now, business men are beginning to manifest more interest in it. In fact sentiment for and against consolidation among the people in general has never been as strong as at the present moment. Since the failure to pass the procedure bill the matter has been more carefully studied and opinions formed. The belief is growing among business men that consolidation will improve their business interests. This is remarkable compared with the indifference with which the matter was treated in Brooklyn from its inception to the set-back it met in the last Legislature. It is expected, however, that the bill will be revived in the Legislature of 1896, when the people of Brooklyn will have an opportunity to show that they are alive to its importance. What some well-known Brooklyn men think of the prospects for bringing the question up again and of the view the Legislature will probably take of it appears in the following statements gathered by a RECORD AND GUIDE reporter:

Senator Reynolds: "It is my opinion that the bill will be introduced in some shape or other at the next session of the Legislature. I believe it will pass both houses without a very great struggle. It has been seen that the people want it, and it will be as much as the political lives of any would-be opponents of the bill will be worth to openly oppose it. I do not believe that the men who were really at the bottom of the trouble last session will attempt any of their tricks again; in which case there will be no occasion for any honest legislator to vote against it. Should, however, the Platt contingent decide to play their old cards, I can safely predict that the bill will meet the same fate that the old one met."

Assemblyman Friday: "The prospects for consolidation were never better than now. The party machinery is in favor of it, and the Governor has already signified his approbation of the act. The people of Brooklyn demand it. Some of the men who deserted the bill at the last moment and when it most needed their support, will, I believe, not have another opportunity to repeat that conduct, as I think that few, if any, of them will be returned next election. The ranks of the opponents of the bill being thus weakened, consolidation will have but little to fear in either house."

Senator Wolfert: "I am of the opinion that the consolidation bill will be brought up again at the next session of the Legislature, but I would not care to make a forecast of the result. If Tammany can be induced to change its attitude toward consolidation, the passage of the bill will be assured. This will in all probability be the case. As far as I myself am concerned I shall at all times give it my hearty support.

Assemblyman Brush: "I think that it is a rather difficult matter for a bill which was so thoroughly discussed and was defeated to be again introduced. However, the difficulty may be overcome; I understand that the attempt is to be made. As for its chances, I should be making a wild guess in attempting to say what the result will be. I believe, however, that if the bill is to be again introduced that there will be a long struggle over it as the opponents of the bill are daily growing more numerous. Personally, I should not care to vote for a bill which joins us in partnership with another city and does not specify the terms. I believe that the people of Brooklyn should have something to say as to the conditions to be imposed upon them by this partnership."

Assemblyman Wray: "I believe that before the next session of the Legislature is over the consolidation bill will be an act. Although the enemies of the bill, particularly the League of Loyal Citizens, are preparing to make an organized fight for its defeat. I believe that their efforts will avail them nothing. As the bill stands, I am not heartily in favor of it, and I will prepare an amendment to give Brooklyn some say as to the charter."

Mayor Schieren: "I can say with authority that the prospects for consolidation in the near future are excellent. The friends of consolidation, inactive though they may seem, were never more diligent, and are preparing for the coming fight. The people of Brooklyn want consolidation, and the demand has become so loud that it can no longer be ignored. I have during all the years in which I have been a citizen of Brooklyn been a staunch supporter of consolidation, and I shall always be one. And now, as the Mayor of the City of Brooklyn, and speaking for the people of Brooklyn, I say that we want consolidation."

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—One of the peculiar experiences of the market at present is to find a great many receivers grumbling over quotations because they consider them just a little too high. The complaints in some cases are not altogether polite or courteous in tone, but that probably is due to a misfortune and readily overlooked, and the small fractional difference over which fault is found is not as great as many people are often anxious to have added to quotations when matters are booming. We see no occasion to make any change from last week, about $4 75 remaining as the average top according to most reports with $4.87½ admitted as a possibility and a probability for very fine and a fraction more asked for special makes of North River stock, while the best Jerseys have sold at $4.50 Some reports say supplies have been more plentiful, some less so than last week, but all agree that demand has taken care of the offering about as fast as made and kept the market cleaned up. That, too, is expected to remain a feature, with a chance that demand may gradually exceed the offerings as there is no doubt manufacturers are daily working toward a position where they can ship at will and are likely to send forward smaller quantities as work in the yards is curtailed and the necessity for securing funds to meet current expenses diminishes. There seems no demand for Pale at any price that will pay for shipments.

CEMENT.—There is very little to say about the market. It is now the season for good consumption and there is no disappointment in the outlet afforded for stock, the movement being very free. There is an offering ample for all calls, however, competition for custom is keen and prices remain generally easy. That will apply to both domestic and foreign.

GLASS.—Very good trade and a generally strong position covers affairs as they now stand. On September 21st a very large proportion of the fires were started, and, while there were intimations of a strike on part of workingmen, nothing in that line seems to have materialized and the recently perfected combination of manufacturers is believed to be a very strong organization. All sales are to be conducted by two agents, one at Pittsburg, Pa., and one at Muncie, Ind. The discounts and terms announced from Pittsburg are as follows: On 5,000 box lots, 75 and 10 per cent discount; on 1,000 box lots, 75 and 5 and 2½ per cent; on carload lots, 75 and 5 per cent. The foregoing lots are subject to an 18-cent freight allowance. On 100 box lots a discount of 70 and 10 per cent is made, and on lots smaller than 100 boxes the discount is 70 per cent. Lots of 100 boxes and less are f. o. b. at point of shipment. Buyers to be entitled to these prices must furnish sizes with order. No glass to be sold for delivery beyond November 1, 1895.

LATH.—Practically no fresh arrivals and no receivers on 'Change skirmishing for customers is about the story of the market, except that as usual when there is no stock to sell the talk in regard to values is strong. We retain former quotations upon a nominal basis with sellers claiming them to be low, but no evidence of hungering buyers willing to pay more. It wants fresh receipts to test the position.

LIME.—Although some operators try to assume a hopeful view, the frank admission of the majority is that business lacks force and volume and the tone on prices has not hardened. Old figures at 75c. and 85c. respectively are asked on common and lump, and then the best terms possible in way of discounts are made when chance to secure a buyer presents itself. Every now and then a cargo comes along and keeps the market well supplied, but it is getting along toward season when manufacturers may be able to shut down on both production and shipments. From interior points there is not much coming forward at current rates.

LUMBER.—The general movement is of much the previous form and volume. Distribution is very irregular, some localities in this district affording a very good outlet for building assortments, and others contributing fairly to manufacturing consumption, while on the other hand dealers are to be found who indulge in quite a good-sized grumble over what they consider the apathetic condition of custom, but, all in all, trade is probably quite as good as for some time past. Toward first hand or bulk parcels of stock attention turns in rather more general form, the progress of the season inducing buyers in many cases to in part abandon the indifferent attitude they have heretofore assumed, and enter into negotiation for such supplies as they are likely to want before winter, and especially where it is expected to use water transportation from interior points. Coarse grades of stock continue unsettled in tone, but fine qualities show firmness with a tendency to work up a little if anything.

White Pine retains firmness on the upper grades, especially among sellers who are proverbially exact in conforming to agreements to deliver only thoroughly standard quality, as such stock is exceedingly scarce, not only here but at primal points, although some buyers seem to think reports of recent advance in value will have a tendency to draw out any reserve quantity there may be on hand. Box of full thickness is offered sparingly and only at solid price, but the irregular run of stuff of scanty cut and mixed up with a considerable percentage of mill culls affords a cheap offering for those who want it. Export movement is fair.

Yellow Pine comes along in execution of contracts and to some extent on commission, but the latter form of receipt is not welcomed with that high degree of enthusiasm to be expected were the market in healthy waiting condition for supplies. Prices are too low for further decline and chances for a solid advance appear rather remote, although some operators think it is sure to come this fall and winter.

Carolina Pine is not generally doing well. A few houses appear to have pretty fair trade, but as a rule the demand here fails to come up to satisfactory proportions and previous assumed promising indications from the Eastward have not been realized. The offerings are plentiful enough, and while no quotable change is admitted in values advantages are understood to be available to prompt and liberal buyers.

Hemlock holds demand in very good form and has well sustained value for anything thoroughly adapted to wants of this market. There has been a great deal of such stock already taken this season, but apparently more of it wanted and the offering is not over-abundant. A little better trade is commencing to develop with country districts and is expected to work up into quite liberal proportions.

Spruce is considered in steady position for all products, although there is less inclination to talk bullish than was noticeable a short time ago. Supplies have not been found quite so scanty as expected, and while there is an absence of pressure to realize from any quarter, buyers generally are welcomed and offered all the advantages the immediate situation seems to warrant. Most local operators seem to comment with indifference upon the demise of the Eastern Association. It never was a beneficial factor upon this market, and it is not believed the breaking up will have any important effect, although some buyers speak of it as a possible event, likely to increase offerings of a promiscuous character and calculated to keep value line low. Piling is in fair demand and does not accumulate to any important extent

Hardwoods do not pick up any important demand as yet, although in the main the tendency of business appears to be toward improvement. Buyers are not only in want of stock to a greater extent, but some of them who have been looking over the situation commence to think the offerings are unlikely to pan out with as much freedom as they have previously been calculating upon. Especially is that the case in matter of desirable quartered oak, of which the production has been small and the marketable supplies are controlled by strong operations. Poplar is getting fair attention and ruling steady for anything coming right up to staple quality. Other grades of stock are called for more frequently from dealers who are commencing to fill out yard assortments. There is not much export trade at the moment.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

The white and Norway pine business is progressing under peculiar conditions. There is a demand for high grade and specially desirable stock, which is in comparatively limited supply. There is a surplus of coarse inch lumber, especially on Lake Superior, with a sluggish requirement for that class of product. This state of the supply is felt from Duluth to the seaboard. At Philadelphia coarse white pine, in the form of box boards, has come sharply in competition with North Carolina pine, and it seems to be a stand-off between the two woods in respect to prices. In the New York State markets a superabundance of coarse Western lumber is noticeable, and is doubtless one reason why such stock is neglected in Saginaw Valley and at Lake Superior points.

The advance of freight rates between Lake Superior and Chicago and between points on that lake and Lake Erie markets has checked sales and shipments from Duluth, Ashland and Chequamegon bay ports. It is doubtful if a further large amount of lumber will this season be shipped from Lake Superior mills by water. This will have a marked influence in the trade and should cause an advance of prices in the yards. Yet the accumulating piles at the mills may be recognized as having a menacing effect on the general market, for the lumber must go forward for distribution eventually. It is diffieult to procure vessels enough to carry all the lumber that it is desired to move to destination. Under such circumstances lower freight rates cannot be looked for. Nearly all available tonnage is being employed in the ore, coal and grain trades.

The pine trade of the wholesale yards is not reaching the fall volume that was expected.

At Chicago: Lake Superior lumber is largely barred out by the advance of freight rates The nominal rate is $2.50 from Ashland, Washburn, Bayfield and Duluth, but offerings of $2.75 a thousand have been made. Dealers who have lumber at Lake Superior points and must get it forward this fall are in some instances offering $2.75 a thousand in order to secure boats. As a rule, however, dealers prefer to let their lumber remain for a while. Mill operators and others having lumber on Lake Superior, which they intended to sell on the market here, are refusing to ship on present rates of freight. On this account receipts from that lake are light and promise to be meager for the remainder of the season. Even with this restricted movement there is not enough tonnage offering to meet the demand. On this lake there is tonnage sufficient for moving any desired amount of lumber, because the old schooners and barges could be pressed into that service, but there does not appear to be any great amount of lumber to be put on the cargo market here from mill points on this lake. The greater portion has been bought up by the yard dealers here and elsewhere, and is being transported directly from the mills to the yards. A good deal is going from Manistee and the Menominee eastward. Even the hemlock on the other shore is largely going to Lake Erie markets. Unless there shall be a revival of trade in the yards sufficiently urgent as to cause the dealers to put in an increased supply of lumber before the close of navigation the cargo market will rule quiet to the year's end.

The demand for long wide stuff is about as pronounced as any feature of the market. There is an especial call for 2x10–22 and 24. There is also inquiry for good common strips and boards of stock widths. Coarse inch is of slow sale, unless there is enough admixture of the better quality to present an inducement to the purchaser.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Will each logger this winter go into the northern pineries with the deep-seated conviction that he has got to bank all the logs possible because other loggers are not going to make a big cut? The chances are that this course will be pursued It always is and in the end the wise logger finds that the market is overstocked with logs, instead of there being a scarcity. It is strange that twenty-five years' experience doesn't teach the absurdity of this.

Down in Maine they are wrestling with the same problem that confronts white pine loggers just at this time. An eastern trade paper says it is a debatable question among lumbermen whether or not they shall cut the usual quantity of logs during the coming season. There is a feeling among many that a shortened production would give increased value to the amount cut. On the other hand the log men succeeded in getting such good prices last spring for their logs that they are ambitious to exceed the coming winter the cut of 1894–95. They probably will, too. They usually do. Log ing is surely a fascinating business.

METALS.—In the iron and metal trades a good healthy business continues and producers of base materials and their products are doing well. Previous excitement, however, has toned down greatly and stimulating influences appear for the time being to have exhausted themselves. The general situation is excellently shown in the two following extracts made from authoritative sources The American Manufacturer of Pittsburg says: "The iron trade is at last on a pivot. If 200,000 or 300,000 tons of foreign ore can be had during the next few months urgent need can be barely met. Additional orders have been placed, and the foreign owners are making promises that they will furnish us all we want, which remains to be seen. The pig iron trade is gradually recovering itself, and while prices are very firm there is not as much momentum behind them, even in Bessemer. In finished products there is no visible change, but it is evident that producing capacity is within touching distance of demand. This does not mean lower prices within a month or two, though such a result is by no means improbable. There is much in the early future of the iron trade that is foggy. So far as actual information from good sources warrant the forming of an opinion that opinion is that there will be a rush of requirements, mainly of the retail sort, during the last

AFTER being strong all week on the drop in exchange and the consequent cessation of gold exports, prices on the stock market displayed pronounced weakness yesterday. It was said this movement was in sympathy with the London market, which is weak under European realizations in Kaffir shares. If there is any connection between the two movements it will become interesting to know the significance of the initial one. Is this the beginning of the long predicted collapse in South African gold mines, or is it only a shake-up to get rid of the weak holders and lay the basis for a new advance? If it is the first, will the sympathy that is supposed to exist between the two markets continue on this side until the liquidation has run its course on the other? Kaffirs have been so long rampant and so many of them must have been boomed on the strength of what others and not they themselves have done, that it would not be surprising if the work once begun there should be a leveling down to more seemingly proportionate values. That such an operation should adversely effect prices on this side to the same extent does not appear to be reasonable, especially as Europe has taken so little interest in American securities for two years past. The causes which will operate against our prices were stated here last week and to them may be added this later one that any trouble abroad, whether weakness in prices or political cloudiness, will be used by traders here for momentary operations. On the other hand the business conditions of this country are in fine shape again, so that all the arguments drawn from them favor prices. The results of the agricultural year have been satisfactory, the great corn crop compensating for losses elsewhere. The lessened cotton crop even has its compensating feature, while the amount gathered by the planter is less, the money value, owing to the rise in prices, is as great, if not greater than that of last year. This fact also illustrates the healthy change that has come in the manufacturing demand for cotton, and also in the general commercial conditions.

NOTWITHSTANDING the enormous amounts of gold that have poured into London and the other great European money centres, the demands of general trade for money are being felt now that they are supplemented by harvesting requirements. Last year the calls from the agricultural districts made no appreciable difference; this year, while the influence is not great it is sufficient to create the opinion that the accumulations that have been heaping up at a few points have reached their maxima, and justifies the hope that before another year has gone round the rates for money will be more remunerative to the banks. The course of trade improvement is reinstating iron as the commercial barometer. As in the United States, so in Europe, iron prices have been continually rising, and the iron and steel trades getting busier ever since recovery began. Reports from the great iron regions of Germany are particularly encouraging, though it will be noted with satisfaction on this side of the Atlantic that the exports of iron and iron goods hither were in 1894 about a third of what they were in 1893; it may be taken for granted that the difference was made up by home manufacturer. The returns of the foreign trade of Japan for 1894, recently issued, naturally excite a good deal of attention, in view of the prominence Japan has achieved, not only in the field of war, but as a manufacturer and exporter of goods in competition with other nations. Notwithstanding the obstructive influence of trade the war with China had, the total imports from Great Britain and her colonies increased about $4,000,000; the increase from the United States was less than $2,000,000. Her exports to Great Britain and her colonies decreased, however, $1,250,000, while those to the United States increased $5,000,000. Corea took $400,000 worth more of Japanese goods last year than in the year before. The best feature about the report is that, though buying four times as much as it sold to Japan, the United States was a proportionately larger seller than in 1893; the growth of business in the first case being about 20 per cent, and in the latter 50 per cent. Cotton yarn appears for the first time in the list of Japanese exports; the amount was 4,500,000 pounds, all of which went to China.

"The Business-Man-in-Politics."

THE sudden felo de se of the Park Commissioners almost at the moment when the public was expecting to see a Fall budding of the city trees, an autumn sprouting of the grass and a general exuberance of nature in all things pertaining to the Park Department, under the benign influence of "reform" and business methods, has caused a great many persons to take counsel with themselves as to whether the "Business-Man-in-Politics" isn't losing in the noisy, visible field of actual administration a great deal of the splendid reputation he acquired in the mist of theory. Nasty, straightforward people cannot help finding a parallel to this break-down of the merchant in the seat of official power in the experience, common enough, in the mercantile world, of the old manager, who, in the new position, doesn't somehow put the expected hum into affairs; so that it seems to the unprejudiced that he wasn't quite able to remove all his effects from the old stand, but left behind him there a part of his ability and a portion of the secret of his past successes.

Considering the pre-emptory right which the political ruffian had apparently acquired to govern the American city as it seemed best to him, an unexpected test of the "Business-Man-in-Politics" was permitted by the "reform wave" last year; and as some indubitable "Business-Men" thus got into power conspicuously, it is difficult to avoid comparisons between results and expectations.

Candidly, the fact cannot be dodged that whatever other virtues he has made to shine in high places, the Business-Man has displayed exceedingly little sagacity or activity in the performance of his new duties. Yet, sagacity and activity—the great twin-brethren of commercial success—are the very ingredients (the ferment) that the merchant office-holder was expected to bring to the old unleavened administration of the city's affairs. With our cherished notions about the potential efficiency of the Business-Man as a public functionary, it is extremely hard to digest so complete a failure as that of the Park Commissioners. Perhaps people are learning enough to force them to bring the Business-Man-in-Politics theory to the scrutiny of facts; and we are of the opinion that a scrutiny of the kind will make it clear that the theory is rubbish, a pleasant plausibility, particularly "taking" no doubt to the decent mind weary of the shame and the hopelessness begotten of the professional politician and his ways.

Judged by business experience, what reason is there for thinking that because a man has sold dry-goods, or manufactured hardware, or speculated in real estate with more than the average success he is thereby qualified, in a large measure, to control the affairs of a Park Department, superintend public works or direct the cleaning of streets? We know that success isn't a freely interchangeable article in the commercial world, and that among merchants the achievement of a man in one department is held scarcely as a presumption of future success in another and different department. A man who should apply for a responsible position in a bank on the score of what he accomplished in the iron trade would find that commercial reasoning took very little stock in his logic. Yet it is a no greater step between dry-goods and chemicals, hardware and real estate than between any one of these or their similars and the Department of Docks or the Department of Public Works. Experience, training, special qualities of mind and temperament are every bit as necessary to produce an efficient head of a street cleaning department as to produce a successful salesman, merchant or manufacturer.

Besides, to look at the matter from another point of view, success in business is not invariably the rigid all-round test of general ability which the Business-Man-in-Politics theory tacitly assumes it is. Commercial success is frequently compounded, among other elements, of adventitious, impersonal, or occasional circumstances. Good fortune, brute good luck in matters of time, locality, juxtaposition of events and such like, frequently are essential contributions to the fortunes of the wealthy merchant or the fame of the great house. Deprive them of these, and, like Samson shorn by Delilah, their strength is no greater than that of other men. These parts of a merchant's success are secret possessions even to himself. They are not to be fixed or estimated; but rare indeed is the notable career in which they are not potent factors. It is the existence of these as well as the necessity of special knowledge and experience to the doing of the slightest matter well which makes the ready translation of "commercial success" into "official efficiency" an absurdity. There is no equivalence here.

This being so, the question may be asked are we to throw the Business-Man overboard? Surely, even as a failure, he is immensely preferable to the professional politician? Undoubtedly; but our choice is not restricted to Business-Men and Politicians unless we will have it so. After all, the reason why so many people have been taken in by the Business-Men-in-Politics theory is that they have confused business principals with business principles—the individual with the line of conduct he is supposed to have pursued. Now, the very last thing that a strict application of the highest business principles would support is the Busines-Man-in-Politics theory, for the qualification (after the moralities) most urgently required by the commercial world of those placed in authority is experience, habitual acquaintance with the thing to be done; and as persistence along given lines, permanence of position, is a necessity for experience the whole commercial world aims rather to perpetuate tenure of office than to promote changes. Business principles, then, instead of dictating a constant turning over of public offices to business men as the height of political wisdom would insist that the Business-Man as such is merely good or bad raw material, out of which an official may be made; that all officials must be equipped with specialized knowledge and experience, and as these are to be obtained only step by step and in the process of time, apprenticeship and sufficient service in the different departments of city government are prerequisites to large authority. So long as any part of the purely political system of government remains operative in our city departments, so long will our municipal affairs be mismanaged. The "Business-Man" as the Politician, or the Politician as the Business-Man won't help us. Business principles are what is needed—knowledge, experience, demonstrated efficiency in control of the departments. But, Gracious, the folly of letting one's thoughts run in this direction, when every good American citizen regards it as his duty to get the politician into office!

WE pointed out in these columns last week that the declared intent of the Building Law is rather to set up a standard of construction than to establish a fixed rigid rule of building. It gives us great pleasure to notice that in certain cases lately Superintendent Constable has in a very marked way taken this view of the matter and construed the law affecting tenement houses even more liberally (yet wisely and in the general interest) than did his predecessors in office. For example—Mr. Constable has decided that a corner apartment house (irrespective of its size), having one street entrance to the apartments, and which is not divisable into more than one building, regulates the size of the plot of ground upon which such a building stands, and that the applicant is not confined to figure the area of the lot as though only 25 feet made a corner lot and the balance an inside lot. He has also declared that a janitor's apartments in a basement need not invariably have its ceilings one foot, or as the new law says, two feet of its height above the sidewalk, but that the law gives an applicant the alternative of providing proper air and ventilation in other ways—the effect of this decision being to allow a store entrance to be raised but very little above the sidewalk and still to secure all that is requisite in the way of light and ventilation for the janitor's apartments. He has also decided to allow the light shafts in apartment houses, where stores occupy the first floor, to stop at the level of the store ceiling and not require the same to be carried down to the cellar, as the evident intent of the law to provide ample light and ventilation to the portions of the building occupied for dwelling purposes is thereby carried out. We very heartily commend this action of the superintendent to the approval of our readers.

WHENEVER there is a fire in a tenement house the report is always circulated, as was the case this week, that it is of incendiary origin. This comes largely, not from an exceptionally general fiendishness of New York's poorer population, but from the foolishness of the average reporter in accepting the very froth of gossip as matter justly entitled to admission in his account of any occurrence it may be his duty to review. While this neglect to sift statements made to the reporters accounts for the majority of the charges of malicious burnings, there is unfortunately a substantial minority that are based on facts. The trial and conviction of an organized band of incendiaries in this city a short time ago showed to what terrible lengths the wickedness of depraved man will go for even a small pecuniary reward, so long as the money to be gained does not require the efforts of honest labor. The severe sentences imposed in this case will doubtless have a deterring influence on evil doers for a time at least, but a more effective prevention ought to be devised, or some day there will be a holocaust that will startle and sicken the whole community. In nearly every case of incendiary fire in a tenement, it has been found that the perpetrating miscreant's stieks and rags of furniture and clothing have been over-insured, and that he has risked the lives of any number of people in the mistaken belief that if his few goods were burned he would get the full amount of the insurance, which was many times their value. It is hard to imagine such a combination of ignorance and depravity, and if it had not been incontestably proved to exist it would be dismissed as impossible. This being the case, does it not contain the suggestion that many of these fires can be prevented, and with them the danger to life and property removed, if limitations were put on the amounts for which goods could be insured. If, for instance, the insurers could not take premiums on a larger amount than they would be willing to pay, and consequently would have to pay in the event of the destruction of the goods insured by fire. If this responsibility was thrown upon the insurers in the tenement houses, at least, there is a reasonable probability that incendiary fires would practically cease. The incendiary has no wish to recover merely the sum for which he could replace his lost chattels, but thinks, in his ignorance of the facts, that he can get the preposterous sum for which he has been permitted to insure them. If he could insure only on the insurer's own valuation, there would be no motive for this crime.

"Out of Work."

NON-EMPLOYMENT is a disease afflicting more classes of persons than our labor bureaus and magazine writers realize. There are thousands of the well-to-do who honestly desire to accomplish something more than the task of existing who yet fail to find any useful employment for themselves. One of the most pitiful cases of non-employment we ever saw was that of a young man with a fixed income of $35,000 per year. He was unmarried and without dependent relatives. He had studied social science and believed in the special duties devolving upon the rich and was willing and anxious to discharge them. He puttered around with charities, but appreciated the dangers of direct alms-giving just well enough to paralyze his efforts in this field. He would have been glad to "enter politics" as he had seen young men do in England, but the politics of the city in which he resided puzzled him. He would not be a mere contributor to campaign funds, and he could not find out how to be anything else. With some of the most commendable ambitions he remained one of the unemployed.

Pastors and charity agents find it one of their most difficult tasks to point out really useful work to those who are anxious to "do good." It is easier to preach half a dozen sermons exhorting people to self-sacrifice than to point out indubitably useful work to half a dozen benevolent incapables. To set the young people of a congrgregation to selling tickets for a mush and milk festival the proceeds of which will be used to buy a new carpet for the vestry cannot be considered the last possibility in the way of doing useful churchwork. Yet this and the activity that centres about charity balls and similar performances has its origin to a considerable extent in the failure of those concerned to find anything better to do. Women in the well-to-do classes are especially the victims of non-employment. Half a dozen recent novels written by women have pictured women who got into mischief or became greatly discouraged because the society in which they moved and their own families discouraged them, and almost prohibited them from any work that was worth while. And even beyond the pressure of public opinion was the inherent difficulty of fitting their respective abilities to useful tasks. Of course any woman of the independent classes can occupy herself with empty social activities, or in attending with slavish fidelity to the details of housekeeping. So also could any tramp occupy himself with moving a rubbish heap from one place to another and back again. But such busy-ness is not business. It brings no solution of the real problem of non-employment.

And yet the idle women and the idle men, the idle rich and the idle poor, are surrounded on all hands by work that needs doing. Carlyle used to say sarcastically that the situation resembled enchantment, but one may be allowed to say the same thing without sarcasm. His sarcasm implied that the painful situation was gratuitous and existed in consequence of somebody's wrong-doing. Wrong-doing may aggravate the matter, but absolute conscientiousness on the part of everyone would not bring a perfect adjustment of the supply of labor and the demand for it. Carlyle himself came near the right solution of the problem when he remarked that the population of England consisted of a certain number of millions—"mostly fools." The only trouble with this statement is that it does not go far enough. As a matter of fact all people are fools,—in this sense at least, that the wisest and the best of them finds problems that he cannot solve, conditions of success that he cannot meet, situations that he cannot master. The most fundamental explanation of non-employment is incapacity.

It must, of course, be promptly admitted that many of the unemployed are sufficiently capable to be of use under slightly different circumstances than those in which they actually find themselves. A mere suggestion will put some of them to work, others can work under a superintendent that has a genius for superintendency, a change of industrial conditions will enable many of them to find an opening. All of them are, perhaps, more or less capable of something. But the fact remains that those at a given time unemployed are in that condition because they lack the special capacity that at that time and place would enable a man to find work for himself. There are men whom we cannot conceive of as being out of work so long as their health holds; resourceful, inventive, energetic, they are able to open a way for themselves through almost any adverse combination of circumstances. It is conceivable that a population made up of such men, who had also the moral qualities essential for co-operation, might have no problem of the unemployed, but all be usefully busy to the limit of their strength.

It seems like a rather discouraging conclusion to say that the fundamental cause of non-employment is incapacity, because it is not supposed to be a modifiable characteristic. To this it may be said that it is never so discouraging to know the truth as to suspect one's self of believing in a falsehood; further, that industrial and social conditions may be so modified as to fit those capacities that individuals are found actually to possess; and finally that by studying the things wherein we are incapable we may lessen our degree of incapacity.

Those who have attentively studied the problem of non-employment as illustrated in a large number of cases cannot doubt that the commonest cause of the trouble is a lack of inventiveness, of adaptability, a failure of the individual to be ingenious enough to fit himself into the industries of the time. This observation can be easily verified by those who have an opportunity to watch successive classes from colleges or professional schools establish themselves in regular work. There is first for most of the individuals a period of idleness, although the specially capable or specially well circumstanced may find work at once. Five years after graduation a large proportion of the persons will have more work than they can do, others will be sufficiently busy and some will be idle. In the latter cases the commonest explanation will be a lack of this ingenuity in the work of adapting individual capacity to existing demands. A man is not only under obligations to do work when it offers, but to find it—so to understand himself and his environment that he can fit himself to tasks that need doing. If he cannot find work for himself the cases are comparatively rare in which any one can find it for him. Ingenuity and adaptability is a force promoting social and industrial growth, and it is a necessary condition of progress that individuals who do not possess some measure of it should suffer.

Questions and Answers.

Correspondents who do not find answers to their communications in this paper must please refer to future issues.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please answer in your valuable paper the following questions. Please give the definition of a flat house: (1) Is a three-story and basement house occupied by two families a flat or a dwelling house? Each family occupies two floors. (2) A restriction to a certain lot not mentioned in the deed, but mentioned in the contract when the lot was bought, does it hold good? A BUILDER.

Answer.—(1) A tenement house is any building occupied by three or more families, therefore when a building is occupied by a lesser number of families it comes under the designation of a dwelling house. (2) It holds good as between the parties to the contract, but it cannot apply to a third party owner without being contained in the deed, as a contract provision, recorded or unrecorded, does not make it a restriction running with the land and affecting subsequent purchasers.

COLLECTOR'S COMMISSIONS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly let us know in your next issue the following, if the collector is entitled to his commission: A is a merchant and has a number of bills to collect which he places in B's hand for collection. B takes bills home to assort. Shortly after B has left, C comes in and pays A his bill, which is one that B has taken home. A notifies B at once, and before he goes to C's house, that this bill is paid. Now, can B claim a commission?

Answer.—Yes. It is usual for a collector to stipulate that if, after bills are placed in his hands for collection, they are paid directly to his employer, he shall receive his commission all the same, and this is just.—LAW EDITOR.

CONTRACT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A and B are building a flat; have contract for mason and carpenter. C, owner, does painting, plumbing and electrical work. A and B are kept from finishing their part of contract because of delay of plumber. Can C demand keys and tenant before house is finished? If so, how are A and B to proceed?

Answer.—A and B may claim and sue for whatever damages result from any breach of contract by C, or delay caused by the workmen he employs. If he insists upon the delivery of the keys by A and B, and prevents them from going on with their work, they still have a good cause of action. Their course of procedure is to bring action against C.—LAW EDITOR.

ENCROACHMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If party, A, purchasing lot 20x80, corner (in Brooklyn), finds upon survey he has only 20x79.8½, is party, B, of whom he purchased lot, responsible, or party, C, owning building on rear of lot (which is over the line 3½ inches); also, what can be done or should be done under such circumstances?

Answer.—A may bring suit against B for breach of the latter's covenant that he was in possession of the land he pretended to convey if such covenant was in the deed.—LAW EDITOR.

TRESPASS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have just returned from the country and found on one of my roofs wires—I don't know what kind—attached to my tank, and the door of the scuttle-window broken. There is no attachment of the wires for 500 feet on either side. Kindly advise me whether I can have these wires removed or can claim any pay for the use of my roof.

Answer.—Whoever attached these wires to your property was guilty of a trespass and may be prosecuted by you criminally or civilly for damages. You can, without liability in damages, remove the wire.—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Would you be kind enough to have this question answered and published in your columns? Broker A gets a tenant B for a house and makes an offer of $1,000 per year. This offer is refused by the lawyer for the landlord. B then goes to another broker, who among others shows her the same house and persuades her to offer $1,700. This last offer is accepted and leases signed. Who takes the commission? Neither broker had any control except to show the property.

Answer.—The second broker.—LAW EDITOR.

Greater New York.

The Greater New York Commission has resumed its meetings; one was held yesterday, and the next will be held on the 10th inst. The immediate work of the Commission is to draft a new consolidation bill for presentation to the next Legislature.

The North River Bridge.

The Sinking Fund Commission will give a public hearing at 2 P. M. of the 9th inst. in the Mayor's office on the matter of the location of the New York City approach to the proposed North River bridge. It will be remembered that after hearing parties on this question the New York Harbor Line Board referred it to the Commission for decision.

The Tombs.

Regarding the Tombs the Grand Jury, in making their presentments to the Court, say: "In view of the importance of the matter and the far-reaching consequences involved, the only public-spirited and humane course for the great City of New York to pursue seems to be the erection of of a new city prison planned and equipped with the most advanced conditions, one that shall meet every requirement of the present and as far as possible anticipate those of the future."

Tempting Offerings to Home Buyers.

HOUSES ON ST. NICHOLAS PLACE THAT EMBRACE ALL THE INDUCEMENTS TO INVESTORS.

The transformation of what was once the old-fashioned village of Carmansville into one of the residence portions of New York City has gone on so rapidly that but very few of the rural characteristics remain about it. Here and there an old frame house—going to decay in most cases—surrounded by a large garden filled with fruit and shade trees, may be found to show what manner of place it was before the tide of population came across Harlem and took possession.

Carmansville has, however, been fortunate in the character of the improvements made in it, and while this is true of Carmansville, as a whole, it is especially true of that part of it known as Washington Heights. The desirability of this section for residences of the better class was long ago foreseen, and as a consequence the land was bought, as a rule, in large parcels, and held with little or no change of ownership until the right parties came along to make the improvements suitable to it. These have been either the builder of first-class residences, who sold his houses to professional and business men for their own occupation, or wealthy merchants and manufacturers who purchased plots and built for their own use.

In the first place, the situation is a very salubrious one. Lifted high above the surrounding territory, it commands a fine view of the city and country. Its elevation insures to it for all time a pure and bracing atmosphere, and the enterprise and public spirit of the property owners have secured the laying out of fine streets and avenues and communications with the rest of the city which were necessary to its legitimate advancement. One of the most important of these works is the viaduct over the depression in 155th street, which carries the residents over the low ground to the terminus of the 6th avenue "L" road and to Macomb's Dam Bridge. A number of fine parks are to be laid out in the neighborhood, of which Colonial Park will probably be the most important. The Speedway now being constructed and the park on the sloping ground above it will also be inducements to well-to-do people to settle in this locality.

The choicest portion of this region is that lying south of 155th street and extending along St. Nicholas place and St. Nicholas avenue. It contains quite a number of fine residences, among which may be named those of Frederick N. Du Bois, Charles Macrae, James A. Bailey, Nicholas Benzinger and the Rev. Dr. Van Rensselaer. Several of the fashionable down-town churches, disturbed by the growth of business in the lower portions of the city, have followed their congregations into this part. St. Luke's Church, for instance, has spent about a quarter of a million of dollars on a magnificent edifice, and St. Ann's Church has bought land and will build with similar lavishness in the near future. Besides that, a wealthy and well-known Baptist congregation is founding a home on 145th street and St. Nicholas avenue. The College of the City of New York has selected the piece of land between 138th and 140th streets for its new buildings. In fact this particular tract surprises visitors by the quality of its buildings and the pleasant picture its open lawns, flower beds and trees afford to the eye. The appreciation that has taken place in the value of land in the last ten years precludes the building of anything but high class residence property. There is every prospect that with the completion of the work the city now has in hand for the beautification of this region that one or more fine hotels or apartment hotels will be erected on 155th street, and the land adjacent thereto has become to be, owing to the rapid building up of the West Side, the only place where desirable small houses can be built with ready means of access to traveling facilities.

One of the latest additions to the residences in this favored district are the row of eight houses completed by the Jacob & Skinner Realty Company, of No. 6 East 42d street. These houses are on the west side of St. Nicholas place, between 152d and 153d streets, and have opposite to them two large houses standing in open plots, so that they have an uninterrupted view of the Harlem and the beautiful region beyond. They are only two or three minutes' walk away from the 155th street station of the elevated railroad, which is reached by the viaduct, a fine open roadway, well lighted and guarded at all hours of the night, and which is soon to have the additional convenience of an elevator reaching not only the station platform, but the roadway on 8th avenue also.

The laying of the new cable lines above 125th street to Kingsbridge, which will be done in due course, the consent of the Board of Aldermen having already been obtained, will supplement the traveling facilities of the district; the cable railroad already furnishes a second way of going down town for one five-cent fare, with the privilege of transfers for various points en route. These houses are built on the excellent American basement plan, with dimensions of from 17 to 22 feet by 50 to 55 feet, on lots 65 to 75 feet. They are designed, while all affording the necessary comforts and conveniences, to meet different views and wishes as to the sizes of houses desired. The fronts are of a very elegant design in light pressed brick and limestone, and the interiors are variously arranged and fitted. The general plan embraces servants' and family entrances, reception rooms, kitchens and laundries on the ground floor; parlor, foyer, dining-room and butler's pantry on the first floor, and bedrooms, dressing-rooms, bath-rooms, servants-quarters, closets, etc., on the two floors above. The arrangement of the rooms is perfect and satisfactory. The trim and fittings are varied in detail, thoroughly modern and first-class in every respect. These houses are carefully and substantially built, and impress the visitor not only with the conscientiousness bestowed on them in this matter, but also in the care exercised to produce a house perfect in artistic as well as practical details.

It should be borne in mind that these houses are so situated that they cannot fail to be influenced by the increase in realty values that may come from the great public improvements in the near neighborhood; that they are eminently fitted for family life, not only in their appointments but in their accessibility to good schools, churches and parks, and, as has been pointed out before, they are protected from being prejudiced by the proximity of inferior improvements; the property on all sides is fast becoming residence investment property, and the value of lots is such as to preclude any other coming there. For down-town business men the proximity of these houses to the elevated railroad station makes them quicker of access than vast numbers of dwellings in the older districts, and for people having their business in the upper part of the city they seem to be especially desirable. Moreover, the owners, the Jacob & Skinner Realty Company, are ready to make very liberal terms to buyers, which completes the round of advantages offered to the purchasers of these very attractive residences.

Five Houses on West Seventy-Second Street, near Riverside Drive,
HENRY F. COOK, Owner, Architect and Builder.

Unique Examples of Houses of the Best Class.

SOME OF THE LATEST ADDITIONS TO THE ARCHITECTURE OF WEST SEVENTY-SECOND STREET—ONE HOUSE ALREADY SOLD.

West Seventy-second street is being built up very rapidly and in a way that makes it the finest residence thoroughfare for its length on the West Side and, if the most aristocratic portion of 5th avenue is excepted, in the City of New York. This building up has fortunately been mainly the work of our ablest and most conscientious constructors, and as a consequence the work in this street contains the best specimens of our domestic architecture.

One of the representative architects and builders of residences, Mr. Henry F. Cook, built, or assisted in building, no less than fourteen houses in this short stretch of street between Central Park West and Riverside Drive, nine while of the firm of Charles Buek & Co., successors to Duggin & Crossman, and five that he has just completed independently of any association, and has placed upon the market. Mr Cook's experience in house building in this city with the firms named and for himself has extended over a quarter of a century. He has always been engaged upon the best class of work of its time, and has seen the growth of the New York residence from a comparatively modest beginning to the luxuriously fitted and appointed article that is turned out to-day to meet the demand of increased wealth and taste. He has done a great deal to assist this development. Having been educated in this excellent school, it naturally follows that his latest work improves on what he has done before, and particularly as his work has always shown ingeniousness in design and taste in the elaboration of details, he always has something interesting and attractive to show.

In his latest work, the five houses, Nos. 310 to 318 West 72d street, the idea developed is that the plan of each house should be distinct and novel, carried out, even to the exteriors which, though conforming in style to make a harmonious whole, vary sufficiently to give each, when studied separately, a character of its own. This feature is even more pronounced in the interiors, where the variety is not produced merely by a change in the trim used, but in the arrangement of the entrances, hallways and apartments. This will no doubt prove a great attraction to buyers, who when purchasing a house of this class may reasonably wish that they may not get merely one of a row. In the case of the purchaser of any one of these he will possess one as unique in character as if it had been specially built for himself to order. No. 310, which has already been sold, and Nos. 312 and 314 are high stoop-houses, and Nos. 316 and 318 built on the American basement plan.

Of the fronts one is wholly in limestone, two in buff pressed brick and limestone and the remaining two in Pompeian brick and limestone. The dimensions are in the order of their numbers 25x66 25x64, 25x62, 25x60, 25x60, all on lots 102.2. It would be impossible to give a comparison of all the points of difference without describing each house in minute detail, which space will not allow. Suffice it to say that the differences are to be found in the floor plans, the disposition and shapes of the apartments, the arrangement of the stairways and other ingenious devices to produce fine effects. Take, for example, the two American basement houses, which, it may be remarked, are unusually fine specimens of that style, and show what may be done in that line by an experienced and capable architect building on a full lot. Some of the distinctive features are that No. 312 has an octagon rear with a pantry extension in the centre carried up through the second story. The dining-room is very large, and being lighted on both sides is very bright and attractive. In the second floor sitting-room is a bay window commanding a fine view of the river. No. 314 has a large bay window carried up through the first and second stories. A pantry extension is carried up through the second story, and in this are the bath-room and the servants' stairway. No. 316 has a very handsome reception hall taking up the whole of the front basement (American), excepting the narrow servants' hall. It is finished in quartered oak and gold and contains a large fireplace and broad stairway leading to the first floor. No. 318 has a dining-room extension going up through the first bedroom floor.

The houses are all four stories in height, with basement and subcellar underneath. Besides these matters of design, the trim and fittings are of the very best workmanship and the choicest of materials. The parlors are in white mahogany, or ivory and gold; the dining-rooms quartered oak and San Domingo mahogany, with furnishings, including sideboards of original patterns, with carved plate-glass cupboards and shelves, and parquet floors; the hallways are oak, with parquet floors for the main floors and large open fireplaces in reception halls; the bedrooms and dressing-rooms are finished in maple, birch or other suitable woods; the bath-rooms are tiled and the plumbing, which is of the very best kind, is set exposed; the servants' quarters in the fourth stories are shut off from the rest of the floor and contain a separate bath-room; the kitchens have tiled dadoes and marble wainscoting behind the sinks reaching to the ceiling; the ranges, sinks and washtubs of the laundry are of the latest and best patterns. The mantels and fireplaces throughout all the houses are of original design, the latter set with various kinds of costly marble or brick to harmonize with the finish of the rooms. The dressing-rooms contain large and small mirrors, the vestibule full plate-glass entrance doors, and in each of the inner halls of the high-stoop houses is an immense plate-glass mirror let into the woodwork. Most of the bath-rooms have open fire places arranged for gas-logs. The floors throughout are deafened. Every bit of space has been utilized for some practical purpose, and as a result the amount of closet space is so unusually liberal that it is not an exaggeration to say that taken together it is equal to the entire space in a moderate sized cottage. Any one who desires to purchase a house of the best class in every respect can be confidently recommended to inspect these; an inspection will certainly excite admiration. The location of these houses is not only good, because it is in the best residence street on the West Side, but because being on the south side of 72d street, almost at the junction with the Riverside Drive and Park, it permits an extensive view of the Hudson from all of the front rooms which can never be taken away from them. The Park Department has this year laid out this entrance with flower beds and may be expected to give a good deal of attention to its adornment in the future. The Park carriages pass through 72d street and may be used in inclement weather to reach the elevated railroad station at 72d street and Columbus avenue. Mr. Cook's office is right by this station, at No. 264 Columbus avenue. He may be complimented on the taste and ingenuity he has displayed in these five houses, any one of which, in all the essentials of house building, would be a credit to any architect.

New York City's Old Waterways.

It is a remarkable fact, but it is true nevertheless, that the modern high building is compelling a study of what the surface conditions of Manhattan Island were before it had very many buildings upon it at all. At first it may seem difficult to connect the towering structures, whose most obvious intention is to penetrate the clouds with the natural condition of the city's site, but the connection will be easily seen when the trouble that has been experienced in the foundation of the new buildings on 18th street and 6th avenue and West Broadway near Grand street are suggested. Higher buildings mean, of course, deeper foundations under certain conditions, and in making these obstacles are met with that never occurred in the buildings of moderate height. The water under the foundations of the city is one of the worst of these obstacles. If Manhattan Island was suddenly denuded of its buildings the site, as everyone knows, would not present the same physical features or contour lines as existed in the times of the Dutch possession or even much later. James Grant Wilson, the historian, says: "The original surface of Manhattan Island was very diversified in character, including level meadows, deep valleys, sharply projecting hills and precipitous rocky cliffs, ranging in height from tide level to 250 feet. In carrying out the plan of improvements compelled by the necessities of a rapidly growing population and to fit the land for domestic uses an immense surface was made to approximate to a general level."

Those who remember the shanty towns on the rocks in the upper portions of the city and the levelling that has since gone on can have some idea of the changes that have been made in the surface level while the island has undergone the process of improvement and occupation. The physical conditions of Central Park, apart from the work of the landscape gardener, which there appears at its very best, offers perhaps as good an idea as can now be had of what the city was like in the days gone by, with its meadows and violent rise and fall of the face of the land. It will be readily understood then that the water flowing from springs in the rocks or draining the hills formed streams which in places made swamps until rising to the level of the opposite land they found a way to the East and Hudson Rivers. No doubt the island was a very beautiful place then, much more so than it is now, but it was not adapted to the building of houses or of comfortable living as a whole, and the engineers had to set to work to make it so. The process of levelling was probably their most important work, and in carrying this out they filled in the swamps and creeks so that their sources and beds lay deep down to be hidden for many years, until now, when the workman on the foundations of the big buildings, rediscover them, much to their disgust. Naturally the courses of the creeks and springs were where now the greatest thickness of new earth is, and that has kept them harmless at least for all these years, during which the builders of the City of New York have been content with moderately-sized houses, factories and office buildings, and did not need to go down any depth to 70 feet below the street grade for their foundations as they do now. But it having in the march of events became necessary to make such prodigious foundations, it will also become necessary to relocate the courses of the old streams and the exact limits of the swamps and ponds, especially as the old fillings did not dispose of their waters, but only hid them from view. Some, at least, have gone on flowing in their old beds apparently without cease, and unknown to the hundreds of thousands of busy people who passed and repassed over them from hour to hour and day to day.

It is not unlikely that all records of these water courses will be found defective, because the work of changing the grade in all probability caused deflections in the courses of the streams, and so far as these caused variations the old maps showing these ponds, swamps and creeks will be in error. The map used in the city departments for reference on these matters is General Egbert L. Viele's drainage map, published in 1874, which lays down all these waterways, collected from the best obtainable data, and shows their passage to the rivers, with the old river bank lines, as well as the new dock lines and the street system as existing at that date. From this map it will be seen that a stream crossed the lower end of the island in a sort of bow from the East River at Pearl street to the Collect Pond and out at the Hudson River at Watts street, or there may have been two streams running out of the pond, one to the East and the other to the Hudson River. The Collect Pond was shaped something like a large and a small pigskin sewn together and lay within Roosevelt, Pearl, Elm, White and Baxter streets, as these form what for a better name may be called a square. The stream running easterly was along Roosevelt street to the river and that westerly left the pond at the junction of Centre and White streets, passed up to Canal, thence to Grand street at South 5th avenue, continued to Thompson street, thence passed again to Canal street along the line of which thoroughfare it ran until it reached a point near the Hudson River and there deflected to Watts street to join the river. Another stream which ended in the Hudson is the famous Minetta Creek. This appears to have had its source in a depression of the land at 17th street and 6th avenue, ran up to 18th street and 5th avenue, thence southwesterly through Washington square to Macdougal street, along Minetta street to a swamp lying between West Houston street and King street to the river. A branch, or arm of this creek, rose at 5th avenue and 21st street, flowed through the blocks to 14th street and University place and curving joined the main creek at a point between 5th avenue and University place and 11th and 12th streets. The high ground running close to the Hudson River caused the natural drainage of the island to be southeasterly so that the West Side had fewer of these water courses than the East Side; it is hardly probable, however, that any others are more to be dreaded than the Minetta Creek has proved to be, so that what the West Side lacks in quantity it perhaps makes up in the bad quality of its hidden creeks. Going up town on the west side the map shows no large creek above the Minetta until Broadway and 37th street is reached, where one apparently rose. This flowed down in an irregular line—it must be understood that only very general descriptions of the courses of any of these streams is intended to be given here—to 25th street, between 8th and 9th avenues, and thence into the river at 31st street. Another commenced at 6th avenue and 48th street, flowed thence to 44th street and 8th avenue, thence up to 46th street, curved back to 45th street and 9th avenue and taking a curving course again reached the river between 40th and 41st streets. This had several branches, the principal one beginning at 36th street and 7th avenue and joining the main stream at 42d street, between 9th and 10th avenues. Another stream began near the source of the last at 36th street and Broadway, crossed 7th avenue at 31st street, made a sweep round to 26th street, between 8th and 9th avenues, and continued the curve to its juncture with the Hudson at 31st street. One stream drained the high ground between 96th and 111th streets and 10th and 11th avenues, and discharged into the Hudson, between 97th and 98th streets. Some smaller creeks drained the land between 81st and 89th streets and 10th avenue and the Hudson. Above 125th street quite a number of small creeks drained into the Harlem River.

If ever the high building and correspondingly deep foundation get into the East Side above 18th street, it is likely that the builders will meet with a good deal of unpleasantness from hidden creeks. The map shows quite a number of them draining the high ground on the West Side into the East River, between 18th and the Harlem River, as well as some formidable arms of the river itself, running some distance up into the Island. One of these commenced on 2d street, between 5th and 6th avenues, ran up to 25th street, around Madison square, and winding southeasterly, joined the East River at 18th street. Another began on 7th avenue, between 45th and 46th streets, and, sweeping through the blocks, entered Sunfish Pond, which is located between 31st and 33d streets and 4th and Lexington avenues. Passing out of the pond the stream ran up to 34th street and 2d avenue, and continued along that street until it reached the river. A third of these East Side streams appears to have had its beginning in the block bounded by 46th and 47th streets and 6th and 7th avenues, and, taking a wide sweep, discharged at the foot of East 36th street. This had two branches, one commencing at 48th street and 4th avenue effected a junction in the middle of the block between 42d and 43d streets and Lexington and 3d avenues; a smaller branch ran from its source at 4th avenue and 44th street and joined the larger stream very near to the point of juncture of the first-mentioned branch. A waterway that has a most formidable appearance on the map began at 6th avenue and 49th street, flowed into the ponds above 59th street, now in Central Park, passed out of the ponds to 4th avenue, thence flowed to East 49th street and 2d avenue and entered the river between 47th and 48th streets. Another long stream flowed from a point near the junction of 87th street and 10th avenue, crossed 8th avenue between 89th and 90th streets, passed through Central Park to 5th avenue at 83d street, crossed Madison avenue at 78th street, 3d avenue at 75th street and had its mouth at 74th street. This had several small tributaries draining the land contiguous to its route. There were a number of small streams between 80th and 104th streets and 3d avenue and the East River, and also a number draining from the hilly ground on the west into the Harlem Lake, now in Central Park.

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that Manhattan Island was what is called well watered. The streams that have been described in their tortuous courses formed many swamps, which accounts for moist ground being so often met with by excavators for foundations, and the frequency of these marshy places is illustrated by the fact that five public squares are situated wholly or in part within lines indicating swamps in the old maps. They are Madison, Washington, Gramercy, Tompkins and St. John's squares or parks, as some of them are called, while the leather district downtown is still known as the Swamp. So much of these statements as are facts, and they all are in the main, is pregnant with trouble for makers of future buildings in the affected parts which must go deep down for their foundations.

The Department of Buildings.

A petition to Mayor Strong has been in circulation during the latter part of this week and has received the signatures of quite a number of prominent architects. This petition recites the fact that the signers are suffering through delays in getting their plans through the Department of Buildings, and through the vexatious and trivial objections that are being made by the Department, and asks that the Mayor appoint a committee composed of architects and builders and engineers, if thought desirable, to examine into the working of the Department and to report as to whether anything, and, if so, what is necessary to put it into a condition of efficiency. The names attached to this paper cannot fail to carry weight, and the fact that such a paper has been prepared and signed by leading architects shows how general is the dissatisfaction with the Department as now conducted. As one of these gentlemen put it, "it is hard to find an architect who is satisfied with it." Where there is difficulty in getting signatures to the petition it is in the case of busy men who are afraid that their open concurrence in criticisms of the Department may lead to an increase to the delays and obstacles they already experience in carrying on their work. The names of those who actively support this representation to the Mayor are withheld for a few days for good reasons. When made known they will compel the conviction that there is need for the inquiry and remedies they ask for, because they are not men who would take such a position as this unless its necessity were forced upon them by their experience with the Department. Their chief complaints are generally of delays in getting plans through the Department, vexatious and trivial objections to their plans, and the difficulty of reaching the head of the Department in order to secure explanations or remedies.

One of the many individual controversies which Superintendent Constable is carrying on with different architects and builders relates to a crack discovered in a pillar in the new Wool Exchange Building, now in process of erection at West Broadway and Beach street. The superintendent has ordered the defective pillow to be replaced, and the contractors naturally object, claiming that the defect can be remedied by other and less expensive means. The superintendent is quoted as saying in regard to this matter: "The crack is undoubtedly due to structural weakness in the pillar. The old system of testing these pillars was absurd. All that was required was to bore a small hole into the column. The inspector might just strike the toughest part of the pillar, or he might strike a blow-hole. I believe that every possible test should be used on each piece of iron used in a building, and I hope to effect many changes in that direction."

We have received the following samples of the Departmental rulings which are considered trivial or improper by the architects who filed the plans:

A three-story frame tenement, costing $3,500. The height of the building, measured to the highest point of roof beams, was 35 feet. An ornamental wood cornice extended 2 feet above this height. Mr. Wieher, of the Department, decided that the height should be measured to the top of the highest wood-work on the building. It was four months before the architect could get the plans approved without making an amendment. In the meantime plans from the same architect for a similar building, with a cornice extending several feet higher, had been approved.

A one-story frame stable (16x12), no cellar; cost, $100; to be built on rock and have a concrete floor. The architect was asked to make an affidavit that the floor would bear a pressure of 150 pounds to the square foot. This he refused to do. He was compelled to make an amendment stating that the floor would bear the required pressure before the plan could be approved.

A one-story frame workshop (16x20), no cellar, costing $150. The Building Department ruled that the floor must bear a pressure of 150 pounds to the square foot. The architect was compelled to make an amendment substituting 12x3 for 10x3 beams.

The Grand Jury made a presentment yesterday concerning the collapse at W. 3d street and West Broadway, which, they said, could never have happened had the officials of the Building Department properly performed their functions. In order to prevent such occurrences in future they recommended that the inspectors of buildings should be required to report at intervals more or less frequently, according to the circumstances, as to the compliance of the builders with the requirements of the law. These reports should contain affirmative and detailed statements to the effect that the building in question is being erected in a safe and proper manner. These reports should be confirmed by a superior official by personal inquiry, and then checked or vised by the superintendent or deputy superintendent.

Further, that the building law should be amended to reduce the load allowed per foot of soil; that the soil on which a building is about to be erected should be examined by a competent engineer, and before the building is commenced a certificate filed with the Building Department as to the unit of pressure per square foot which the soil will sustain; that expert supervision of foundations be exercised through the Department, and a written statement as to the character and sufficiency of the foundations; that the number of inspectors be increased to carry out these suggestions.

The Grand Jury, in addition, expressed their "emphatic and severe censure" of the conduct of John B. Ireland, the owner of the collapsed building. This censure is based on a disapproval of Mr. Ireland's course in getting his building built as cheaply as possible.

Artificial Stone Curbs No Longer Permissible.

Complaint having reached this paper that the Department of Works had suddenly decreed that cement or artificial stone curbs would not be permitted to be laid in the streets of this city hereafter, THE RECORD AND GUIDE made inquiry at the Department and was informed that it was the case that the laying of such curbs would not be allowed, but that it was no sudden rule, as they had always been contrary to law. In support of the latter statement two paragraphs in the Revised Ordinance of 1880 were pointed out. One in Section 105 said: "All curbstones which shall hereafter be laid for the purpose of supporting sidewalks shall not be less than three feet in length, five inches thick, twenty inches wide throughout, and shall be of the best hard blue, or gray granite. The section then goes on to specify how these curbstones shall be cut, prepared and laid. The second paragraph was part of Section 96, and it said: "All streets in the City of New York of 22 feet in width and upward shall have sidewalks on each side thereof laid with granite or bluestone flagging, not less than 3 inches thick and not less than 2 feet wide, and containing a superficial area of not less than 8 square feet." The fact that cement curbs had previously been allowed was conjecturally explained by the supposition that the work had been done without permits; that is to say, that having a permit for the dumping of material in the street it was not thought necessary to get a permit for laying the sidewalk.

Mr. Stevenson Towle, Superintendent of the Bureau of Street Improvements, said it was the intention of the Department to insist upon granite curbs; cement curbs could not be allowed because they were not strong enough. When subjected to a blow by the backing of a coal-cart for instance, they were crushed because they did not have the elasticity of stone. There were in the city hundreds of instances of this and many cases where the sidewalks were in a deplorable condition because they had been laid with inferior cement. The Department did not intend to insist upon the sidewalks being laid with stone, but it would as to the curbs. For the purposes of the sidewalks cement was absolutely indestructible when laid with proper materials and in a workmanlike manner, it would therefore be permitted on condition that it conform in color to the next adjoining paving and be properly laid. He was asked if the permit for laying the sidewalk could not also be made to cover the use of the roadway for dumping the necessary materials. He replied that it could not because the law expressly set out the duties and powers of the different bureaus, but he had no doubt that if a builder obtained a permit in his Department he could get it indorsed for the materials by taking it up to the Bureau of Street Incumbrances, or if the latter granted a permit for the materials his Department would indorse it for the work. He said, further, builders often caused themselves a great deal of unnecessary trouble through their own carelessness in their inquiries. His Department wished to afford them every convenience in its power to give. The regulations would be enforced in the interest of the public and to secure a neat as well as a safe condition of the streets.

Sidewalk Protections in Building Operations.

Early this week the arm of a derrick on the sixth tier of beams at the Johnston building, corner Exchange place and Broad street, broke and let down a heavy iron pillar and tackle. The beam smashed through the sidewalk shed, and, as a consequence, brought down a quantity of stone stored on the roof. Unfortunately, a stonecutter was killed and a laborer injured. The accident caused some wiseacres to evolve a theory that sidewalk sheds were dangerous to life.

This absurd idea was disposed of by Mr. Wm. Henkel of the Bureau of Street Incumbrances, who, in an interview, said: "This accident is the first of the kind that has happened. The law requires that the sidewalks of streets shall at all times be clear, but it permits builders to use one-third of the street when a building is going up. It is absolutely necessary for the heavy building material, such as iron pillars and heavy stone, to be hoisted on the outside of the buildings. If it were taken upon the inside it could not be handled at all. It is impossible to avoid occasionally the falling of small articles which are being used. For the protection of the people from these the sheds are necessary. This is the first time in my recollection that anything big has fallen. Of course the shed could not be built strong enough to withstand such a blow. As to the storing of building material on the shed roofs, that is one of the most valuable uses the roof can be put to. It relieves the street. The roofs are built heavy enough to withstand any load. Where a building is on a narrow street the giving up of one-third of it makes a continual block. Now, in the case of the Postal Telegraph building and the Home Life building in Broadway, every ounce of material was stored on the shed. There wasn't a beam or a brick put in the street. The result was that traffic was not interfered with at all. The sheds, in our opinion, are useful, and are very necessary for the protection of pedestrians."

The erection of sidewalk sheds in front of building works for the protection of the public is obligatory under the following ordinance: "That hereafter the owner or general contractor engaged in the construction or erection of any building over three stories in height, shall build, or cause to be built, a temporary roof structure over the sidewalk in front of said building, and said contractor or owner, prior to the erection of such bridge or roof, must secure permission for such construction from the Commissioner of Public Works, and shall pay therefor such compensation as may be deemed equivalent by said Commissioner for the privilege so conferred."

Stations on the Proposed Rapid Transit Railroad.

The Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners at their last meeting made a few changes in the location of the stations proposed in the original report of the Chief Engineer. On the Broadway route instead of stations at Liberty and Fulton streets others were substituted at Cortlandt and Barclay streets. The 27th and 30th street stations were consolidated into one at 28th street. On the 4th avenue line the station at 97th street was moved down to 96th street. It was also proposed to make the Walker street station local and express, instead of local only; 60th street, on the Broadway line, the same; 72d street local, instead of local and express; 96th street, a local and express station, instead of 110th street, which remains local. The decision of the Commission regarding the Walker street station will probably be reviewed, as there are structural objections to the change there on which the Chief Engineer has to report.

The American Institute of Architects.

Mr. A. J. Bloor, Secretary of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, has prepared a circular to serve as a general answer to inquiries addressed to him by architectural practitioners in regard to the terms and conditions for affiliation with the New York Chapter of the Institute. Copies can, no doubt, be had by application to him at No. 156 5th avenue.

Real Estate Market.

The week has been uneventful as far as realty is concerned. Reports of brokers' sales indicate an aggregate investment of about $1,200,000, of which amount more than $750,000 will be paid by the purchasers of the five most valuable parcels that are booked to change hands. The balance is a small sum to represent the transactions made public of six days' operations in properties of moderate value. The house buyers seem not to have been more numerous than they were in midsummer, and the purchasers of lots for improvement have practically disappeared from the market. Their absence can probably be accounted for by the prohibitive prices owners are now asking for vacant land, more especially on the West Side.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1894 and 1895.

Five legal sales and seven adjournments do not constitute a very brilliant auction-room record for the past week, but unless all signs fail the coming week will more than make amends for the shortcomings of the last few days. On Monday, Petty, Soulard & Walker adjourned to October 24th a sale of No 211 East 73d street. On the following day there were two adjournments beyond next week; one by William Kennelly, of No. 2074 5th avenue, to the 15th inst., and the other by Strong & Ireland, of property in Brook avenue, north of 163d street, to November 1st. Peter F. Meyer & Co., on Wednesday, postponed a sale of No. 166 West 85th street until the 16th inst., and Smyth & Ryan's receiver's sale of the leasehold property, etc., of the Fifth Avenue Transportation Co. (Lim.) went over to the 17th inst.

Peter F. Meyer & Co. will officiate as auctioneers at the actual opening of the Fall market, to take place during the coming week at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, and will offer for the consideration of buyers an assortment of city real estate such as has seldom been disposed of in an auction room. On Monday they will sell, under a Supreme Court decree, in partition, an unimproved parcel consisting of three lots on 5th avenue, between 89th and 90th streets, under the direction of Michael J. Mulqueen, referee. As is well known, the thoroughfare forming the easterly boundary of Central Park has of late years become the most conspicuous residence avenue of the metropolis, and distinctively a section favored by mansions built and occupied by our millionaire citizens. Building lots are naturally growing scarce, and as they are still quoted at reasonable figures north of 80th street, it would look to be advisable for long-headed investors not to lose sight of the opportunity that will be presented for a profitable purchase at Monday's sale.

Messrs. Meyer & Co. on Tuesday next will sell, also in partition, the attractive city properties owned by the estate of George G. Sickles, deceased. The sale, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, will doubtless be largely attended and promises to give the auction market an impetus that will insure greater activity from now on. That the sale will be absolute is assured by the court decree that has led to its being announced. Robert L. Wensley is the referee under whose direction it will take place. The parcels scheduled are aptly referred to in the auctioneers' list printed for general distribution as "choice and valuable," and an examination of the list demonstrates the appropriateness of the expression. Beginning with the Kent Building, No. 79 Nassau street, a five-story and basement store and office structure, with a lot somewhat larger than the usual 25x100 feet, the offerings will be the business property No. 15 Mercer steeet, with full lot; the five-story and basement "Excelsior Building," No. 111 Nassau street, with lot 24.7x102.6 and 102.5 running through to Theatre alley; dwellings on Washington place and West 4th street, Greenwich street north of Perry, West 13th street, Greenwich avenue north of West 12th street, Hubert street, Waverley place, Beekman place and King street; two well-located Sixth avenue buildings with stores; a store and tenement, with rear house, in Gansevoort street, and a vacant lot on the south side of 116th street, 200 feet east of Amsterdam avenue. They comprise fifteen parcels, all of which are desirable for investment. Book-maps containing diagrams and additional information as well as particulars regarding terms of sale, etc., can be had on application at the office of the auctioneers, No. 111 Broadway, and the other addresses given in our advertising pages.

Peter F. Meyer & Co. will sell on Monday, the 14th inst., at the Town Hall, New Rochelle, N. Y., the extensive property in that favorite New York suburb owned by the estate of George G. Sickles, deceased. The sale will be supplementary to the one of city property that will take place on Tuesday next, and will be under the direction of the same referee and pursuant to the same Supreme Court decree in partition. There will be offered fifty-three villa plots fronting on North street, the fashionable thoroughfare of the village, Sickles avenue, Lockwood avenue and Spring street; two plots at North street and Colignt avenue; a plot on Peters' road, and the Sickles homestead, a residence, with other buildings, and over 112 acres adjoining Rochelle Park. The property comprises the most valuable offering of really good suburban residence sites that has been submitted for the public competition of buyers in many years. New Rochelle has won a enviable reputation as a village of fine residences, many of which have been built and are occupied by the families of New Yorkers who are prominent in the various branches of professional or commercial life. Its popularity increases as the years roll on, and with respect to accessibility there is nothing left to be desired. The New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company runs over forty trains from the Grand Central Station that stop at the village daily, and among that number are numerous express trains that cover the distance from 42d street in 31 minutes. The property is all within five minutes' walk from the local station. Titles will be guaranteed to purchasers by the Lawyers' Title Insurance Co. at a nominal charge. Book-maps and any information desired can be obtained from the auctioneers at their office, No. 111 Broadway, or at the addresses given on page ii of this issue.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell at auction on Tuesday, the 15th inst., in the auction room No. 59 Liberty street, "The Weber," a five-story apartment house on the southeast corner of 91st street and Lexington avenue, and the three-story and basement dwelling, No. 128 East 92d street. Maps, etc., can be had of the auctioneers, No. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

BROOKLYN ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Jere. Johnson, Jr., will sell at auction on Tuesday next, the 8th inst., in the Exchange, Nos. 189 and 191 Montague street, No. 10 Fulton street, No. 815 Classon avenue, two lots on Liberty avenue, a plot, 50x100, corner Putnam and Central avenues, and two lots on 73d street. Further details will be found in our advertising pages or can be had of the auctioneer, at No. 60 Liberty street, New York City, or No. 189 Montague street.

Wm. Cole announces for Friday next, the 11th inst., at the Exchange, Nos. 189 and 191 Montague street, the auction sale of Nos. 66 and 68 Middagh street; also No. 202 33d street, all dwellings. For further particulars see the announcements on another page, or apply to the auctioneer, at Nos. 7 and 8 Court square.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Builder Jere C. Lyons has bought of David L. Newborg, Nos. 491 and 493 Broadway and No. 446 Broome street, forming an L 32.8 on Broadway, with a depth of 125.3 on the north side, thence running south 50 to Broome street, x25.2x33.8x irregular x 75. The price agreed upon is understood to be something more than $200,000. The old buildings at present on the site are to be torn down after February 1st next and a modern twelve-story structure erected. Mr. Newborg purchased the property in June from the trustees of the Levy estate for $185,000 through Lalor & Beringer, who are also the brokers in the sale to Mr. Lyons. Title will not, however, be taken by Mr. Newborg until November 1st.

Horace S. Ely & Co. have sold at about $235,000 to a client the Bar Association's property, Nos. 5 and 7 West 29th street, a plot 74.6x98.9 with a two and four-story brick library and club house. It is understood that the association has stipulated that it shall retain possession as lessee until the completion next year of its new building on 43d and 44th streets, east of 6th avenue. The lots were bought by the Association of the Bar of New York in April, 1875, for $100,000. The name of the new owner has not been divulged, but it is known to be his intention to improve the property when possession is obtained by demolishing the present building and erecting a modern business structure.

Brooke & Georger have sold for Mrs. Annie M. Downey the four-story brick dwelling, lot 16.8x80, No. 128 East 41st street, for about $11,000.

John L. Hamilton has bought of Maria L. Graff the old front and rear tenements, with plot 40x98.9, Nos. 358 and 360 West 26th street, for about $26,000. Brokers, W. P. Jones & Son.

M. & L. Hess have sold for Edward De P. Livingston the four-story brick business building with lot about 23x95.4, No. 832 Broadway, for $105,000. The property adjoins No. 834, the sale of which to Henry Corn was reported last week. He is not, however, the buyer of No. 832. The same brokers are reported to have closed a sale or trade which will involve the transfer by Samuel and Henry Corn of the seven-story brick store, 40x75, Nos 16 and 18 West 3d street. The Messrs. Corn acquired the parcel through a trade consummated in May, 1893, in which it figured at the remarkable valuation of $157,500.

Frothingham & Timpson have sold for Mrs. John T. Farish the four-story stone front dwelling, 24.6x65x80, No. 70 Park avenue, between 38th and 39th streets, to Dr. John C. Barron for $70,000.

John R. Foley has sold for J. E. Hoppin to William M. Gibson the four-story brick building with lot 19.10x90x29.19x irregular, No. 508 Pearl street, between Park and Centre.

J. Romaine Brown & Co. (Columbus avenue office), have sold for A. C. Bell, of Pine Lodge, Mass., the five-story dwelling, 25x90x98.9, No. 24 East 38th street for about $100,000. The house was bought by Edward D. Faulkner in February, 1892, for $85,000, and it is said has since then been extensively improved. The present owner of record is Marianne G. Faulkner, but it seems that Mr. Bell is the actual owner, although no transfer to him has been recorded.

Abraham Baer has bought of John Stewart, through J. H. Jacobus, the three-story brick dwelling 21.4x65x92, No 59 West 9th street, for about $25,000.

The report published on Wednesday of a sale by Mrs. Esther Van Voss and the heirs of the late J. G. K. Lawrence of the southwest corner of Broadway and Franklin street, for $500,000, to John T. Williams, is pronounced untrue by the latter. Mr. Williams has, however, been considering the purchase of the property for improvement at a price very close to the one quoted, and may possibly conclude to make it before the end of the year.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Adler & Herrman have sold to Builder Nicholas Cotter for improvement the plot 100.11x95 on the southeast corner of Manhattan avenue and 103d street.

Giblin & Taylor have sold No. 787 West End avenue, one of a row of three-story stone front dwellings that are nearing completion on the northwest corner of 103d street.

M. Bargebuhr & Son have sold for Builder Philip Braender the five-story stone front flat, 25x88x100.11, No. 257 West 114th street, for $26,000.

James J. Brown has bought of Charles Frazier the plot, 60x100, on the north side of 102d street, 100 feet west of Amsterdam avenue.

F. A. Phillips has sold for Robert Treupel, of Mamaroneck, the three-story stone front dwelling, lot 20x100.11, No. 311 West 102d street, to a Mr. Sharp.

William C. Clarke is reported to have sold the three-story brick dwelling, with lot 20x102.2, No. 121 East 81st street.

B. Niederwiesen has sold for Mrs. Alexander J. Mayer and T. C. Smith the plot 100.11x87.6 on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 108th street to Builders Schreiner & Fennell at $49,000 for improvement.

The four-story brick and stone dwelling, No. 307 West 80th street, lot about 17x102.2, has been sold to a Mr Brown for about $23,000. The sale is the final one in a row of six new dwellings, built by B. S. Levy & Son, which the elder Mr. Levy states have been disposed of at a loss of $12,000.

E. H. Ludlow & Co. have sold for T. B. Brown the three-story brick dwelling, with lot 18x102.2, No. 234 West 74th street, to Charles L. Cammann.

F. Zittel has sold for the Whitehead estate the three-story dwelling, 20x50x100.5, No. 122 East 70th street, to a Mr. Culgin.

NORTH SIDE.

Brooker & Dunn have sold for J. M. Blauvelt, two houses on the west side of Franklin avenue, 50 feet north of Lebanon street, for $4,200 each; for L. Seiferd, the house, No. 955 East 175th street, to H. Beitz, for $4,500; for Frank P. Lockwood, the house on the east side of Vanderbilt avenue East, 175 feet north of 180th street, to Joseph Black, for $4,800; for A. M. Metzler, a house on Elsmere place, south side, 200 feet east of Prospect avenue, to Harry Jay, for $4,200; and two lots, 25x100 each, on the west side of Franklin avenue, 100 feet north of Lebanon street, to J. M. Blauvelt, for $2,600.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

W. H. Hoyt & Co. have sold for E. B. Cobb to Albert E. Bliss a tract of about twenty acres in the village of Tarrytown, between Broadway and Rose Hill avenue, at a figure not much under $3,000 per acre. The same brokers have sold for the Home Insurance Company the former Sage property, containing about sixty acres, on Neppenham road, about half a mile east of Tarrytown, to Russell A. Wilson, of this city, for $20,000.

LEASES.

Jacob A. King has leased the six-story iron and brick building No. 20 West 3d street, for the McCready estate, to Hamburger & Co., importers and commission merchants, for a term of years.

Nicholson & Co. have leased for Wilson, Adams & Co., a water front of twenty-two lots on the east shore of the Harlem River, about 200 feet below the Madison avenue bridge and running back to Gerard avenue, to John Bell & Son for a term of fifteen years at a gross rental of $77,500; and for Julius Golderberg the six-story factory 50x100, Nos. 7 to 11 Marion street, to the Greek-American Confectionery Company for fifteen years at a total rental of $115,000.

W. Willis Reese has leased for John Bigelow, executor, the residence No. 21 Gramercy Park to Spencer Trask for a term of three years at $3,500 per annum.

E. A. Cruikshank & Co. have leased for Elbridge T. Gerry the Windsor Hotel property, 5th avenue, 46th and 47th streets, to Warren F. Leland, who will succeed the present proprietors, Hawk & Wetherbee, on the first of May next. The lease is not for a long term of years, and its duration is understood to be conditional on Mr. Leland's ability to conduct the house at a profit. No arrangement has yet been concluded looking to the partial remodeling of the hotel.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago.—R. 1782.—J. B. McElfatrick & Son, No. 1402 Broadway, New York City, are preparing sketches for a large fire-proof, brick and stone theatre.

The New East River Bridge.

The engineers of the New East River Bridge Commission are making experimental examinations of the bed of the East River to guide them in the selection of foundations. It is understood that they found solid rock four feet under the bed of the river at the Williamsburg side, and they have since commenced boring on the west side of the river at Broome street. The precise location of the bridge will doubtless be influenced by the result of this investigation, but there is not much room in which, so to say, to move. The act authorizing the construction of a bridge over the East River says: "Section 2. Upon the appointment of said commissioners they shall proceed as soon as possible to prepare a plan of a permanent suspension bridge to be constructed over the East River, between the cities of New York and Brooklyn, from, at or near the foot of Broadway in said City of Brooklyn, to, at or near the foot of Grand street in said City of New York." The talk about the location, as indicated by the result of the borings, bringing it within the space covered by what is known as the Uhlman franchise, does not amount to much, because if there ever was such a "space" the new bridge was put into it by the act from which the above quotation is made. It will be remembered that in spite of this fact, the Commission very promptly declined to buy the Uhlman franchise when it was offered to them.

The Detained City Building Plans.

The new Municipal Building Commission will probably meet within a few days to arrange for the return to their rightful owners of the 134 plans submitted in competition about two years ago and since so unjustly withheld by the city. The inability to get this Commission together prevented action this week.

Street Widenings.

At the Board of Street Opening yesterday Commissioners King and Brookfield, a committee appointed to report on the advisability of widening the approaches to General Grant's tomb, reported in favor of making 123d street 40 feet wider, thus making a 100-foot driveway from the Harlem Valley to the Driveway; also recommending the taking of the land between Claremont avenue, Claremont place and 122d street for a plaza to front on Riverside Drive, the expense of condemnation to be borne by the city. After some discussion it was referred back to the committee for further report.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT made in these columns last week that it was now possible to obtain daily, in special form, complete, reliable, verified reports of building operations in New York City, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Yonkers, Mount Vernon and the Metropolitan District, giving the names and addresses of Owners, Architects, all contractors, with list of materials used, and dates when contracts are to be let—all for the nominal cost of fourteen cents a day

CREATED SURPRISE

among the Building Material Trades who have hitherto had to pay several hundred dollars annually for this news. There is no need to do so any longer. The information you require—specialized to meet the peculiar wants of any firm—issued in the form and manner desired, can be obtained for 14 Cents a Day.

☞ SOME OPINIONS.

"Clearly the RECORD AND GUIDE with its facilities can do this work better and push it further than anybody else."

"The price you ask is phenomenally low. Similar information has cost me hitherto Two Hundred Dollars a year. No business man of course, will continue to put out his money needlessly."

"If THE RECORD AND GUIDE can't give this news nobody can. Your guarantee to make your service fit my wants settles the matter. I have known your paper for a quarter of a century. That assures me that my interests are yours."

"The field is yours at the price you ask. You may put me down for your service."

"Your stipulation to assign a reporter to look after my wants until my requirements are fully met, removes any objection I could think of. If you are willing to go to that point to satisfy me, it will be my fault if I am not satisfied."

"One order a year obtained through your reports pays many times for the cost of the service."

"I find so many of the leading firms in my line of trade subscribers to your reports that I want them too."

ISN'T THIS FAIR?

For fourteen cents a day we will send you our reports daily, and as our desire is to meet the particular requirements of each one of our customers, we court and will welcome every criticism and suggestion that our subscribers can possibly make, and will especially assign men whose duty it shall be to see that our reports satisfy in form and substance every reasonable demand that any subscriber may make. Whatever anyone can supply, we can supply—not at a large annual charge, but for fourteen cents a day.

Financial.

Attention is drawn to the offering of $650,000, City of Alleghany, Pa., 4s, running 17 1-6 years, by Messrs. Wahnn & Schlesinger, of this city. This is a legal investment for New York savings banks, and is considered a first-class security.

Concerning Real Estate Brokers and Agents.

Agent and Broker Joseph E. Muhling is very well and favorably known in the vicinity of his office, No. 477 West Broadway, by business men and owners of realty. Mr. Muhling has had ten years' experience selling and managing real estate, collecting rents, placing mortgage loans and insurance, and his list of properties for sale embraces many recently improved places, as well as others ripe for rebuilding. The section which Mr. Muhling pays particular attention to is one that offers many opportunities for profit to the investor and speculator.

Joseph Toch, who has had several years' active experience as a realty broker and agent, recently opened a centrally located office at No. 1548 Broadway, between 45th and 46th streets, where he will make a specialty of the entire management of estates. Mr. Toch has already negotiated many leases of houses in the vicinity of his new office, and reports a good demand for property thereabouts.

Julius Friend, of No. 695 Broadway, is one of the most active and successful workers in the ranks of the realty brokers of the Mercantile District, where his office is conveniently located and well equipped. Mr. Friend pays particular attention to the sale and rental of business property. His telephone call is 601 Spring.

Daniel T McGuire, of No. 171 Broadway, has opened an office at 542 Columbus avenue, near 86th street, where he will transact a general real estate business, including the sale and rental of property and the placing of mortgage loans. Mr. McGuire is a son of the late Judge Joseph McGuire, and he had several years' experience in a busy down-town office before beginning business on his own account. Owners, operators and builders may depend on receiving prompt attention on all business intrusted to Mr. McGuire.

Trade Notes.

HAVE YOUR STEAM AND HEATER PIPES COVERED.

T. J. Wallace, of No. 101 West 80th street, manufacturer of awnings, window shades, etc., makes a specialty at this season of the year covering steam and heater pipes, as well as gas and water pipes with asbestos and hair-felt coverings. The use of these fire-proof coverings on the heaters and furnace pipes saves fuel and distributes the heat where needed. Mr. Wallace is a conscientious and hard worker and numbers among his customers many of the best known realty owners and builders on the West Side, where his reputation for thorough work and moderate charges is leading to a constantly increasing business. Read his card on page xiii.

Personals.

Alfred Gutwillig, who has been abroad since spring, returned to the city on Monday morning.

Thomas Collins, who for some time past has been associated with John N. Golding, has again entered the office of Seton & Wissmann, where he has taken charge of the sales department.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

MORTGAGES.

...—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

The lien of the Albany Venetian Blind Co. filed against me will undoubtedly be voluntarily removed by lienor, as the claim is against one G. R. Hasbrouck, a sub-contractor, who received payment of his contract in full on August 23d.

The filing of the lien of Michael Meehan & Co. was a result of a dispute as to the amount due them from me. FRANK E. CABUS, Contractor.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, OCTOBER 5, 1895.

Notes.

THE NEW TERMINAL.

The new terminal at the Brooklyn end of the bridge has at last, after long and patient waiting, been thrown open to the public, and incidentally to the elevated railroad companies. It is a considerable improvement on the old facilities, but it is not what the public have been led to expect. Among its advantages may be mentioned the replacing of the dangerous curved platforms by straight ones; the long, clumsy corridors, leading to the elevated cars, have been done away with, and by running cars on both sides of each platform the carrying capacity will be doubled, besides reducing the headway between each car. The danger to passengers in crossing Sands street has been removed, as they are no longer obliged to make crossings near the bridge entrance. But it is very doubtful if the new terminal, with all these improvements, will be entirely adequate to handling the big crowds during the rush hours. The platforms are very narrow, especially around the stairways, and this narrowness will be felt more when the terminal is entirely completed and the cars are lined up on both sides of the platforms discharging passengers onto so small a space. Furthermore, the stairs are ridiculously narrow and badly arranged. There are two sets, one to each platform; each stairway has two flights from the main platform, meeting half way down in a very small platform, from which, again, two other flights of stairs diverge to the street floor. Thus, passengers going to the street will be obliged to make a number of turns, which is a very difficult feat in a large crowd.

Danger of a blockade lies in the small stair platform, on which two masses of people going in opposite directions will meet and where those descending will be obliged to make a turn in order to get down the next flight of stairs and to the street. At the ticket takers' gates there is also danger of a jam, the stairs leading up to the cars being arranged in the same manner as those previously referred to. The terminal is not a thing of beauty, which the citizens of Brooklyn can point out with pride. Taken as a whole it is nothing more than a mass of iron, cold and forbidding, and in no way resembling the grand railroad terminal which it was supposed it would be. It is almost impossible to get a perspective view of the terminal from any point, the plaza, from which the only good view could be had, being literally roofed over with elevated railroad tracks and platforms. But from the view to be had it can readily be seen that there has been no attempt to offset the monotony of iron beams and trusses, of which this structure consists. From the engineers' point of view the new terminal may be a success, but to the artistic sense it is painful. There was an opportunity here to create a great railroad terminal station but like so many other grand and equally rare opportunities it was allowed to slip by and instead we have nothing more than a big elevated railroad station.

Gossip—Brooklyn.

Contracts have been signed for the transfer of the property adjoining the Continental Building, and known as Nos. 196 and 198 Montague street, by the Fulton Bank to the Phœnix Insurance Company. The property has a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 100 feet, extending to the rear of the Phœnix Building. Title will be taken in the latter part of the month. The Phœnix Insurance Company is making this purchase with a view to giving their present building a frontage on Montague street.

The largest real estate deal made in recent years in Long Island City and the adjoining territory has just been completed by Roe H. Smith, of Astoria. He has sold for the estate of Henry P. Wolsey the property extending from Hell Gate for about 1,500 feet along the East River and running back for about fifteen blocks to Chauncey street and lying between Wolsey and Potter avenues. The property comprises about 1,000 lots, and has been purchased by a syndicate of New York business men represented by Henry S. Barton. The price paid is $225,000. The syndicate propose to commence grading and paving the property at once and will introduce a complete system of drainage. It is to be divided off into building lots and the syndicate will furnish loans to those wishing to build homes. That this entire section will be improved by this investment goes without saying, as no part of the Island in the vicinity of Brooklyn so much needs the infusion of some New York blood.

The Montauk Theatre Company has obtained a loan of $185,000 on their new theatre property on Fulton street. This loan was negotiated by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, and is one of the largest made on Brooklyn property recently.

Thomas Rosecrans has sold for Thomas Brown the two-and-a-half-story brownstone front dwelling, No. 337 10th street, for $9,500.

H. Stewart Close has sold for Edward H. Mowbray to John L. Spence the three-story and basement brownstone dwelling No. 529 3d street for $14,000.

Corwith Bros. have sold the two-story and basement frame dwelling, 20x45x100, No. 209 Monitor street, for Martin and Valentina Rourke to Annie Ihlenberg for $4,000; also the adjoining house to Patrick Leonard for $4,000.

The Bergen Beach Improvement Company reports the sale of plots at the Beach as follows: 80x100, on East 75th street, near Avenue V, to Dr. Thomas J. King, of Brooklyn, for $1,500; 40x100, on East 73d street, near Avenue V, to D. J. Sullivan, of New York City, for $550; 40x100, on East 73d street, near Avenue U, at $600, to Mrs. L. Martin, of Brooklyn.

P. H. McNulty has sold for Hugh Stewart a plot 60x100, on Cropsey avenue, forming part of the old Avon Beach Hotel, to Otto Huber for $30,000.
